Fassbinder The Life And Work Of A Provocative Genius:

Fassbinder Christian Braad Thomsen,1997 This is an attempt to illuminate the complexities of the work of the German film maker Rainer Werner Fassbinder Prior to his death in 1982 he had made 44 films in 14 years seeking to reconcile his own artistic demands with the desire of an audience to be entertained Reader's Guide to Lesbian and Gay Studies Timothy Murphy,2013-10-18 The Reader s Guide to Lesbian and Gay Studies surveys the field in some 470 entries on individuals Adrienne Rich arts and cultural studies Dance ethics religion and philosophical issues Monastic Traditions historical figures periods and ideas Germany between the World Wars language literature and communication British Drama law and politics Child Custody medicine and biological sciences Health and Illness and psychology social sciences and education Kinsey Report Rainer Werner Fassbinder and the German Theatre David Barnett,2005-11-24 Publisher description Marked Women Russell Campbell,2006-04-05 Julia Roberts played a prostitute famously in Pretty Woman So did Jodie Foster in Taxi Driver Jane Fonda in Klute Anna Karina in Vivre sa vie Greta Garbo in Anna Christie and Charlize Theron who won an Academy Award for Monster This engaging and generously illustrated study explores the depiction of female prostitute characters and prostitution in world cinema from the silent era to the present day industry From the woman with control over her own destiny to the woman who cannot get away from her pimp Russell Campbell shows the diverse representations of prostitutes in film Marked Women classifies fifteen recurrent character types and three common narratives many of them with their roots in male fantasy The Happy Hooker for example is the liberated woman whose only goal is to give as much pleasure as she receives while the Avenger a nightmare of the male imagination represents the threat of women taking retribution for all the oppression they have suffered at the hands of men The Love Story a common narrative represents the prostitute as both heroine and anti heroine while Condemned to Death allows men to manifest in imagination only their hostility toward women by killing off the troubled prostitute in an act of cathartic violence The figure of the woman whose body is available at a price has fascinated and intrigued filmmakers and filmgoers since the very beginning of cinema but the manner of representation has also been highly conflicted and fiercely contested Campbell explores the cinematic prostitute as a figure shaped by both reactionary thought and feminist challenges to the norm demonstrating how the film industry itself is split by fascinating contradictions Homintern Gregory Woods,2017-01-01 A landmark account of gay and lesbian creative networks and the seismic changes they brought to twentieth century culture In a hugely ambitious study which crosses continents languages and almost a century Gregory Woods identifies the ways in which homosexuality has helped shape Western culture Extending from the trials of Oscar Wilde to the gay liberation era this book examines a period in which increased visibility made acceptance of homosexuality one of the measures of modernity Woods shines a revealing light on the diverse informal networks of gay people in the arts and other creative fields Uneasily called the Homintern an echo of Lenin s Comintern by those suspicious of an international homosexual conspiracy such networks connected gay writers actors artists musicians dancers filmmakers politicians and spies While providing some defense against dominant heterosexual exclusion the grouping brought solidarity celebrated talent and in doing so invigorated the majority culture Woods introduces an enormous cast of gifted and extraordinary characters most of them operating with surprising openness but also explores such issues as artistic influence the coping strategies of minorities the hypocrisies of conservatism and the effects of positive and negative discrimination Traveling from Harlem in the 1910s to 1920s Paris 1930s Berlin 1950s New York and beyond this sharply observed warm spirited book presents a surpassing portrait of twentieth century gay culture and the men and women who both redefined themselves and changed history A Companion to Rainer Werner

Television Larson Powell, Robert Shandley, 2016-08-01 Long overlooked by scholars and critics the history and aesthetics of German television have only recently begun to attract serious sustained attention and then largely within Germany This ambitious volume the first in English on the subject provides a much needed corrective in the form of penetrating essays on the distinctive theories practices and social historical contexts that have defined television in Germany Encompassing developments from the dawn of the medium through the Cold War and post reunification this is an essential introduction to a rich and varied media tradition Visible and Invisible Whiteness Alice Mikal Craven, 2018-06-01 Visible and Invisible

Whiteness examines the complicity between Classical Hollywood narratives or genres and representations of white supremacy in the cinema Close readings of D W Griffith's The Birth of a Nation by James Agee and James Baldwin explore these authors perspectives on the American mythologies which ground Griffith's film The intersectionality of Bordwell's theories on Classical Hollywood Narrative versus Art Cinema and Richard Dyer's seminal work on whiteness forms the theoretical base for the book Featured films are those which have been undervalued or banned due to their hybrid natures with respect to Hollywood and Art Cinema techniques such as Samuel Fuller's White Dog and Jean Renoir's The Southerner

The book offers comparative analyses of American studio based directors as well as European and European migrant directors. It appeals to scholars of Film Theory, African American and Whiteness Studies. It provides insight for readers concerned about the re-emergence of white supremacist tensions in contemporary America. Screening War Paul Cooke, Marc Silberman, 2010. Re-examines German cinema's representation of the Germans as victims during the Second World War and its aftermath. The recent discovery of German wartime suffering has had a particularly profound impact in German visual culture. Films from Margarethe von Trotta's Rosenstrasse 2003 to Oliver Hirschbiegel's Oscar nominated Downfall 2004 and the two-part television mini-series Dresden 2006 have shown how ordinary Germans suffered during and after the war. Such films have been presented by critics as treating a topic that had been taboo for German filmmakers. However, the representation of wartime suffering has a long tradition on the German screen. For decades filmmakers have recontextualized images of Germans as victims to engage shifting social and ideological discourses. By focusing on this process, the present volume explores how the changing representation of Germans as victims has shaped the ways in which both of the postwar German states and the now unified nation have attempted to face the trauma of the past and to construct a contemporary place for themselves in the world. Contributors: Sean Allan, Tim Bergfelder, Daniela Berghahn, Erica Carter, David Clarke, John E. Davidson, Sabine Hake, Jennifer Kapczynski, Manuel Kopp, Rachel Palfreyman, Brad Prager, Johannes von Moltke. Paul Cooke is Professor of German Cultural Studies at the University of Leeds and Marc Silberman is Professor of German at the University of Wisconsin.

From Self-fulfilment to Survival of the Fittest Ewa Mazierska, 2015-01-01. Contrary to the assumption that Western and Eastern European economies and cinemas were very different from each other, they actually had much in common. After the Second World War, both the East and the West adopted a mixed system containing elements of both socialism and capitalism, and from the 1980s on, the whole of Europe, albeit at an uneven speed, followed the neoliberal agenda. This book examines how the economic systems of the East and West impacted labor by focusing on the representation of work in European cinema. Using a Marxist perspective, it compares the situation of workers in Western and Eastern Europe as represented in both auteurist and popular films, including those of Tony Richardson, Lindsay Anderson, Jean-Luc Godard, Andrzej Wajda, Dušan Makavejev, Jerzy Skolimowski, the Dardenne Brothers, Ulrich Seidl, and many others.

Desires for Reality Benjamin Halligan, 2016-02-01. As with many aspects of European cultural life, film was galvanized and transformed by the revolutionary fervor of 1968. This groundbreaking study provides a full account of the era's cinematic crises, innovations, and provocations, as well as the social and aesthetic contexts in which they appeared. The author mounts a genuinely fresh analysis of a contested period in which everything from the avant-garde experiments of Godard, Pasolini, Schroeter, and Fassbinder to the low cinematic genres of horror, pornography, and the Western reflected the cultural upheaval of youth in revolt, a cinema for the barricades. Nabokov's Cinematic Afterlife Ewa Mazierska, 2014-01-10. of male homosexuality in Chinese cinemas within the last decade. It posits that representations of male homosexuality in Chinese film have been polyphonic and multifarious, posing a challenge to monolithic and essentialized constructions of both Chineseness and homosexuality. Given the artistic achievement and popularity of the films discussed here, the position of celluloid comrades can no longer be ignored within both transnational Chinese and global queer cinemas. The book also challenges readers to reconceptualize these works in relation to global issues such as homosexuality and gay and lesbian politics and their interaction with local conditions, agents and audiences. Tracing the engendering conditions within the film industries of China, Taiwan and Hong Kong, Song Hwee Lim argues that the emergence of Chinese cinemas in the international scene since the 1980s created a public sphere in which representations of marginal sexualities could flourish in its interstices. Examining the politics of representation in the age of multiculturalism through debates about the films, Lim calls for a rethinking of the limits and hegemony of gay liberationist discourse prevalent in current scholarship and film criticism. He provides in-depth analyses of key films and auteurs, reading them within contexts as varied as premodern transgender practice in Chinese theater to postmodern diasporic forms of sexualities. Informed by cultural and postcolonial studies and critical theory, this acutely observed and theoretically sophisticated work will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students as well as general readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary Chinese cultural politics, cinematic representations and queer culture.

A Companion to German Cinema Terri Ginsberg, Andrea Mensch, 2012-02-13. A Companion to German Cinema regards the shifting terrain of German filmmaking and film studies against their larger social contexts with twenty-two newly commissioned essays by well-established and younger scholars in the field. While several of these focus on classic topics such as Weimar cinema, Fifties cinema, New German Cinema and its legacy, and Holocaust film, the collection is distinguished by its focus on new developments and the innovative light they may shed on earlier practices. A Companion to German Cinema includes essays on Berlin Film, Neue Heimat, Film New Comedy, post-Wall documentaries, the post-Wende RAF genre, and Rabenmutter imagery, as well as on the persistently overlooked and under-theorized Indianerfilme, post-AIDS documentaries, sexploitation films, and new multicultural and transnational films produced in Germany under the auspices of the European Union. Organized into three movements representing the significance of these developments for their aesthetic theorization, A Companion to German Cinema challenges its readers to address critical gaps in the field with the aim of opening it further onto new terrains of intellectual engagement.

Nation and Identity in the New German Cinema Inga Scharf, 2008-06-30. This book investigates the construction of national identity in films of the New German Cinema, using for the first time an explicitly cultural studies methodology.

Guerrilla Networks Michael Goddard, 2025-10-01. The radical youth movements of the 1960s and 70s gave rise to both militant political groups ranging from urban guerrilla groups to autonomist counterculture, as well as radical media including radio, music, film, video, and television. This book is concerned with both of those tendencies considered as bifurcations of radical media ecologies in the 1970s While some of the forms of media creativity and invention mapped here such as militant film and video pirate radio and guerrilla television fit within conventional definitions of media others such as urban guerrilla groups and autonomous movements do not Nevertheless what was at stake in all these ventures was the use of available means of expression in order to produce transformative effects and they were all in different ways responding to ideas and practices of guerrilla struggle and specifically of guerrilla media This book examines these radical media ecologies as guerrilla networks emphasising the proximity and inseparability of radical media and political practices
