Losing Alicia John L. Titus, 2011 In Losing Alicia, readers not only witness a father's struggle over the murder of his young, vibrant and beautiful daughter, but they walk with him through his agonizing grief after one of the most horrific tragedies in history: September 11, 2001. Olga Bonfiglio is a freelance writer and author of Heroes of a Different Stripe. Unflinchingly honest, John Titus takes us on a journey from an unimaginable night of the soul to the realization that as long as we have faith and love, we are never alone. David Potorti, Co-founder, September 11th Families for Peaceful Tomorrows. This book isn't the government or the media's take on 9/11; it's a father talking with all the pain, eloquence, and wisdom of a broken heart. For the real story of 9/11, the human story, delve into Losing Alicia. If you read one book about 9/11, make it this one. Marianne Williamson, New York Times best-selling author, international speaker.

Ancient Philosophy of the Self Pauliina Remes, Juha Sihvola, 2008-08-26 Pauliina Remes and Juha Sihvola In the course of history, philosophers have given an impressive variety of answers to the question: What is self? Some of them have even argued that there is no such thing at all. This volume explores the various ways in which selfhood was approached and conceptualised in antiquity. How did the ancients understand what it is that I am fundamentally as an acting and affected subject interpreting the world around me, being distinct from others like and unlike me? The authors highlight the attempts in ancient philosophical sources to grasp the evasive character of the specifically human presence in the world. They also describe how the ancient philosophers understood human agents as capable of causing changes and being affected in and by the world. Attention will be paid to the various ways in which the ancients conceived of human beings as subjects of reasoning and action, as well as responsible individuals in the moral sphere and in their relations to other people. The themes of persistence, identity, self-examination, and self-improvement recur in many of these essays. The articles of the collection combine systematic and historical approaches to ancient sources that range from Socrates to Plotinus and Augustine.

Somebody's Knocking at Your Door Harold G. Koenig, Carole B. Weatherford, Ronald J. Weatherford, 2013-10-08 Examining the black church's response to AIDS, Somebody's Knocking at Your Door: AIDS and the African American Church analyzes sexual ethics and homophobia in the black church to provide pastors, social workers, and health professionals with intervention strategies for parishioners or members of the community who have AIDS. By discussing the church's historic and successful activism and its relationship to the community along with AIDS statistics relevant theologies and other AIDS ministries this book suggests the benefits of increased church involvement versus other agencies or organizations Somebody's Knocking at Your Door will help you develop prevention education and pastoral care programs that will alert individuals to the risks of AIDS and will offer people with AIDS the comfort and assistance they need in coping with the disease Through the voices of leading clergy AIDS advocates and people living with AIDS PLWAs this book calls on the African American church to become more involved in helping communities deal with the disease Somebody's Knocking at Your Door offers you ideas on how to improve the lives of individuals with AIDS through the church including welcoming PLWAs into the church through announcements by local media church newsletters and Sunday bulletins offering AIDS support groups at the church or loaning office space equipment or clerical assistance to AIDS organizations recognizing the power of intercessory prayer for PLWAs caring for PLWAs by delivering meals to their homes preparing meals at the church and developing a transportation network that will take parishioners to doctor appointments church or on recreational outings preparing meals running errands housekeeping handling paperwork negotiating legal issues and offering friendship possible components of volunteer buddy programs for homebound PLWAs training pastors clergy and Sunday school teachers to educate ministries on AIDS in the African American community sexual intimacy intravenous drug use and needle sharing monogamy community resources and condom use Since some clergy still believe that AIDS is a gay disease Somebody's Knocking at Your Door discusses the issue of homosexuality within the church By analyzing passages from the Bible the authors refute the belief that homosexuals were neglected by God and undeserving of care and love This belief according to the authors inhibits some churches and individuals from discussing HIV AIDS because of fear they would also be acknowledging homosexuality Highlighting AIDS ministries throughout the United States Somebody's Knocking at Your Door encourages the African American church to confront the issue of AIDS and understand that the disease can affect anyone This book will give you the necessary strategies for starting and implementing AIDS ministries and intervention programs that will educate and support your community
