Structural Adjustment and Economic Development on Africa United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on International Development, Finance, Trade and Monetary Policy, 1990

Structural Adjustment, Reconstruction and Development in Africa Kempe Ronald Hope, 2019-06-04 First published in 1997 this volume is intended to make a contribution to both the literature and the contentious debate on the relationship between structural adjustment and reconstruction and development in Africa as seen from the multidisciplinary perspective of academics and practitioners working in Africa on African development problems and issues The implementation of structural adjustment in Africa has spawned a considerable and still on going debate with vociferous advocates on both sides of the issue particularly with respect to the efficacy of structural adjustment programmes SAPs as an antidote to Africa s development crisis This book contributes to that debate with a rich mixture of analytical views and ideas covering a wide range of countries and sectors on the role and impact of structural adjustment programmes on the process of reconstruction and development in Africa

Development Stuart Corbridge, 2000 Brings together more than one hundred articles dealing with the discipline of development in all its diversity Key topics include the transformation of peasant economies agribusiness rural urban relations markets industrialization workers trade aid and structural adjustment A unique set in its comprehensiveness and diversity it also considers four key challenges for development theory and practice relating to capabilities ethics sustainability and regulation

Modernization and the Crisis of Development in Africa Jeremiah I. Dibia, 2017-11-28 In this book Jeremiah I Dibia challenges prevailing notions of Africa s development crisis by drawing attention to the role of modernization as a way of understanding the nature and dynamics of the crisis and how to overcome the problem of underdevelopment He specifically focuses on Nigeria and its development trajectory since it exemplifies the crisis of underdevelopment in the continent He explores various theoretical and empirical issues involved in understanding the crisis including state class gender and culture often neglected in analysis from an interdisciplinary radical political economy perspective This is the first book to adopt such an approach and to develop a new framework for analyzing Nigeria s and Africa s development crisis It will influence the debate on the development dilemma of African and Third World societies and will be of interest to scholars and students of race and ethnicity modern African history class analysis gender studies and development studies

Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel Ndhlovu, 2025-03-06 The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities and the agricultural sector's potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent In contributing to the debate on development in Africa this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation This will be achieved by i providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities ii outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi disciplinary discussion the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research

Exporting Paradise? EU Development Policy towards Africa since the End of the Cold War Tiago Faia, 2012-11-30 The central aim of this book is to define the approach of EU development policy regarding Africa since the end of the Cold War It focuses on the impact of EU development policy on the domain of international development and the objective of the EU to become a prominent international actor The book relies on Martha Finnemore's Social Constructivist research It concentrates on the dynamics maintained by the EU with the normative basis that characterises the structure and agents of international development and assesses how it affected EU behaviour as expressed through its development policy concerning Africa By doing so it exposes both the marked effect of EU development policy in the domain of international development and the form of paradise model of development the EU promoted in Africa Therein the volume largely confirms the identified agents as the source of the norms that define the structure of international development and the EU as its derivative It argues that EU development policy is currently a general projection of the normative structure of international development specifically regarding the policy orientation of its identified agents As a result the book contends that the EU fell short of its efforts to export its form of paradise to Africa since the end of the Cold War as a corollary of its limitations to stand as a distinct and leading actor in the domain of international development

Religion and Development in Africa Ezra Chitando, Masiwa Ragies Gunda, Lovemore Togarasei, 2020-06-09 What is development Who defines that one community country is developed while another community country is under developed What is the relationship between religion and development Does religion contribute to development or underdevelopment in Africa These and related questions elicit quite charged reactions in African studies development studies political science and related fields Africa's own history including the memory of marginalisation slavery and exploitation by global powers ensures that virtually every discussion on development is characterised by a lot of emotions and conflicting views In this volume scholars from various African countries and many different religions and denominations contribute to this debate

Creating Opportunities for Change and Organization Development in Southern Africa Dalitso Samson Sulamoyo, 2012-12-01 This book takes the position that successful OD applications in cross cultural settings are predicated on the ability of OD experts to localize them for purposes of suiting local conditions and context Cultural frameworks have been utilized by global OD experts to understand the general cultural settings of environments in which they are working and applying OD techniques However the complexities of culture within organizations communities and countries may not always be understood within these cultural frameworks and models Assumptions of culture based or reliant on models alone can impede the successful applications of OD The author discusses the role of cultural translations of OD techniques within a southern African context It examines the approach of western consultants in a southern African environment as well as the approach of local southern African consultants as they interact with western developed OD applications in their own local environments The book uses three methods for conveying the opportunities and experience of OD in southern Africa research practitioner point of view and storytelling The author recognizes the works of renowned African scholars in the field of management as well OD practitioners carrying out innovative and pioneering work in southern Africa Their work may not have had much exposure in the West however their contributions to the field of management should be recognized OD is discussed in this book as an opportunity for change and development for southern African countries that are in democratic transitions post conflict environments and on a path of development The future of OD is explored within the context of economical global and political emerging issues The time is right for change and development in southern Africa with OD as the driving force

Development Finance and Policy Reform Paul Mosley, 1992-08-18 Conditionality has long been used by the IMF and more recently by World Bank and bilateral donors as an instrument for improving the effectiveness of international finance This collection of essays by representatives of donors and recipients as well as independent observers suggests that because of recipients increased bargaining power such an improvement has seldom resulted
