From Modernization To Modes Of Production:

From Modernization to Modes of Production John G. Taylor, 1979-09-05 Presents speeches by various African American religious and political leaders from the days of slavery to the present along with biographical information and historical background

MODERN COMPARATIVE POLITICS SAMIRENDRA N. RAY, 1998-01-01 Designed primarily as an introductory textbook for graduate and senior undergraduate students offering comparative politics as a compulsory course this finely integrated text is by far the most comprehensive yet concise and critical analysis of the contending approaches methods and models and the theory building efforts made in the second half of this century The book provides a lucid and up to date presentation of the ramifications of the governmental process and political dynamics issues and problems relating to the structure function process and operation of governmental and political organizations in a genuinely comparative perspective

From Adult Education to the Learning Society Peter Jarvis, 2013-01-11 This unique text provides a valuable route map to the development of thinking in adult education and lifelong learning It includes more than twenty five seminal articles from the first two decades of the International Journal of Lifelong Education written by leading authors in the field from the UK the USA Australia and Europe Compiled to show the development of the field the articles are divided into four sections From Adult Education to Lifelong Education and Lifelong Learning to the Learning Society and Beyond The specially written Introduction by the editor contextualises the selection and introduces readers to the main issues and current thinking in the field This is the only text of its kind to demonstrate practice and policy internationally over this period and as the collection of articles are now available in one easy access place this is an excellent resource for students and scholars

Encyclopedia of Political Economy Phillip O'Hara, 1999-02-04 Content Description Includes bibliographical references and index

Power and Resistance in an African Society Les Switzer, 1993 Imagine a history of the United States written from the perspective of the African American community Imagine that the story of this community is told not only from the viewpoint of its leaders the middle class elites but also from the viewpoint of sharecroppers industrial workers and others living on the margins of American culture And finally imagine that this is not only about political and economic relations but also about race class gender and religious relations about the lived experiences of one community that both reflect and represent fundamental issues of power and resistance in an entire society This is what Les Switzer has tried to do with his book Power and Resistance in an African Society Scholars who have read it suggest that this is the first attempt to write a history of South Africa from the perspective of one subordinate community in South Africa The result is a transformed history from below The names dates events and issues of conventional textbook history lose their meaning in the process of reconstructing a history that seeks to free the African from the domain of South Africa's ruling culture The book also offers a unique contribution to African studies in sub Saharan Africa because it explores the material and symbolic manifestations of power and resistance in a pre colonial colonial and post colonial setting The Ciskei region in the eastern Cape was selected as the case study This was the historic zone of conflict between European and Bantu speaking African in southern Africa the Cape Xhosa wars in this region lasting a century The contemporary African nationalist movement in South Africa first emerged in a variety of organizational forms in the Ciskei during the 1870s and 1880s The strategy of petitionary protest probably persisted longer here than anywhere else in South Africa in the post colonial period but popular resistance found a variety of windows outside organized African politics The Ciskei for example was a focal point of rural resistance in the 1920s and early 1930s and again between the early 1940s and early 1960s The gap between rural and urban dissidents in South Africa moreover was first bridged in the Ciskei and its environs during the 1952 Defiance Campaign Finally the Ciskei s segregated African reserve where economic conditions were judged to be most serious emerged as a primary site of struggle on South Africa s periphery during the 1970s and 1980s The focus of this study is on the Xhosa speaking peoples who lived in the Ciskei region in the first century after conquest To highlight the linkages between regional and national issues the Xhosa in the Ciskei are examined in the context of unfolding events in the Cape Colony and in the unified settler state of South Africa after 1910 A distinct plurality of voices would be formed in the complex interplay between color consciousness and class as this community sought space for itself within the domain of South Africa s ruling culture

The Study of International Relations Hugh C. Dyer, Leon Mangasarian, 1989-10-16 This wide ranging study surveys the present state of international relations as an academic field It locates and assesses recent developments in the field in short what is being done where by whom and why The editors have focused on some central and controversial theoretical issues and included surveys of principal sub fields as well as the various approaches to the study of international relations in different countries The book provides a comprehensive overview of an important and fast growing area of academic endeavour and is essential reading for teachers and students of international politics and the social sciences at large

Islamic Liberalism Leonard Binder, 1988-08-15 The resurgence of Islamic fundamentalism in the 1980s influenced many in the Islamic world to reject Western norms of liberal rationality and to return instead to their own tradition for political and cultural inspiration This rejection of foreign thought threatens to end the centuries long dialogue between Islam and the West a dialogue that has produced a nascent Middle Eastern liberalism along with many less desirable forms of discourse With Islamic Liberalism Leonard Binder hopes to reinvigorate that dialogue asking whether political liberalism can take root in the Middle East without a vigorous Islamic liberalism But Binder asks is an Islamic liberalism possible The Islamic political community presents special problems to the development of an indigenous liberalism That community is conceived of as divinely ordained and its notions of the good are to be derived from scriptural revelation not arrived at through rational discourse Liberal politics would seem to stand little chance of surviving in such an atmosphere let alone thriving Binder responds to the challenge of Edward Said s critique of Orientalism of a range of neo Marxian development theorists of Sayyid Qutb s fundamentalist vision of Samir Amin s vision of Egypt s role in the Arab awakening of Tariq al Bishri s new populism of Zaki

Najib Mahmud's pragmatism and the structuralism of Arkoun and Laroui. The deconstruction of these varied texts produces a number of persuasive hermeneutical conclusions that are sequentially woven together in a critical argument that refocuses our attention on the central question of political freedom and democracy. In the course of constructing this argument, Binder reopens the dialogue between Western modernity and Islamic authenticity and reveals the surprising extent to which there is a convergent interest in liberal democratic civil society. Finally, in a concluding chapter, he addresses the prospects for liberalism in the three major bourgeois states of Islam: Egypt, Turkey, and Iran.

Imperialism: Crit Concepts V3 Peter J. Cain, Mark Harrison, 2023-01-06. First published in 2004. This is Volume III in a collection on Imperialism: Critical Concepts in Historical Studies and includes PART V Cultural and Postcolonial Critiques. Encyclopedia of Political Economy: A-K Phillip Anthony O'Hara, 1999. Based on developments in political economy since the 1960s, this text is a compendium of the main principles, concepts, problems, institutions, schools, and policies associated with political economy. It is a comprehensive introduction to the field.

Karl Marx's Social and Political Thought Bob Jessop, Russell Wheatley, 1999. Women Wielding the Hoe Deborah Bryceson, 2020-08-29. How effective is western aid agency intervention in Africa? What can African women do to manage the AIDS crisis? Can western feminist theory be applied to the rural African context? These vital issues and many others are considered in this topical book by eminent scholars and development consultants. The book aims to increase awareness of the importance of women agricultural producers to African material development and to expose the western biases that have traditionally pervaded the study of rural African women. The authors' critical analyses of conventional research methodology and key women and development debates over the last three decades will stimulate new research perspectives. Students and scholars of development, development workers, and policymakers will all find this book fascinating reading.

Transitions: Methods, Theory, Politics Tom Brass, 2022-08-22. The focus of this volume is on political discourse about the pattern and desirability of economic development and how/why historical interpretations of social phenomena connected to this systemic process alter. It is a trajectory pursued here with reference to the materialism of Marxism via the mid-nineteenth-century ideas about race through the development decade, the cultural turn, debates about modes of production and their respective labour regimes culminating in the role played by immigration before and after the Brexit referendum. Also examined is the trajectory followed by travel writing and how many of its core assumptions overlap with those made in the social sciences and development studies. The object is to account for the way concepts informing these trajectories do or do not alter.

The Ecological Crisis and the Logic of Capital Xueming Chen, 2017-09-11 The worsening environmental crisis has become a serious threat to mankind The search for a solution to this crisis must begin by understanding its causes Taking an eco socialist perspective The Ecological Crisis and the Logic of Capital explores the logic of capitalism as a fundamental cause of today s environmental crisis in particular the thirst for profit and the capitalist mode of production By demonstrating the inherent antagonism between capital and ecology this book argues that proposals to resolve the crisis within the capitalist system are utopian that proposed remedies relying on scientific progress alternative energies low carbon technologies or the introduction of ecological ethics and new attitudes toward Nature into market mechanisms are doomed to failure without a radical overhaul of the principles that govern capitalism
