Extra Innings A Memoir:

Extra Innings Doris Grumbach, 1995-06 This memoir offers an intense sometimes funny sometimes tart and often very moving account of the life of Doris Grumbach author of Coming into the End Zone Grumbach records an eventful year crowded with literary pleasures and pains and the natural beauties and social particulars of life in coastal Maine Extra Innings Jeff Benjamin, 2025-01-30 Jeff Benjamin spent his childhood in Davenport Iowa as the son of the only rabbi in town Jeff was never very religious but always had a deep respect for his father's work and accomplishments in the civil rights movement Like many American kids Jeff's life changed the day he attended his first Major League baseball game Not only did he find something he would love forever in the Chicago Cubs but it was a love he shared with his father which deepened their bond like nothing else When Rabbi Benjamin was ousted from his position in Davenport for demanding equal treatment for black students at the local high school he landed a job leading a congregation on Long Island New York and uprooted Jeff at the start of high school It was a culture shock but after a disastrous first year and another move Jeff made friends that would last a lifetime and fatefully fell into a job in food service that would become a career As Rabbi Benjamin's stellar career winds down Jeff's star begins to rise as he teams up with Marc Vetri to open what would become one of America's most heralded Italian restaurants Vetri Cucina Just before Jeff opens the restaurant his father is diagnosed with a life threatening form of cancer Through weekly visits back home Jeff and his family help their patriarch get back to the top of the mountain at least for one shining moment Through it all father and son have weekly hourlong conversations on the phone or at the cigar club that keep both of them going through their respective ups and downs These conversations are mostly about the Chicago Cubs with a few minutes at the end reserved for less important things like career health and relationships It's a dynamic that countless American fathers and sons share As Rabbi Benjamin's health deteriorates he becomes increasingly concerned for his unmarried son's future prospects for a family of his own and in one delirious moment makes an offhand comment on the subject that shocks everyone and seals Jeff's fate Lively gritty at times hilarious and ultimately bittersweet Extra Innings is an entertaining and uplifting story of a father and son fandom and fate Extra Innings, a Memoir Frank G. Splitt, 2024 The biography of the author Extra Innings Doris Grumbach, 2014-12-02 A New York Times Notable Book A moving glimpse of a life shrewdly examined Extra Innings follows a year in the life of Doris Grumbach beginning with the release of her previous memoir and journal Coming into the End Zone and revealing that the devoted essayist novelist and critic possesses as keen an eye in her seventies as she did when she wrote The Spoil of Flowers thirty years earlier Grumbach details each passing month and the trials and tribulations therein Age and experience have tempered her anger allowing her to view the world in a rosier light than she has before In this eventful period that concludes with her move from Washington DC to Maine Grumbach travels between signings and speeches describes her home life in a new state and deals not only with her own mortality but with that of her daughter Grumbach's wisdom and wit endure as she looks back on her own memories seeing the world as only Doris Grumbach can The Collected Memoirs Volume One Doris Grumbach, 2018-11-20 Three memoirs about isolation aging and death from an author whose private self is as intelligent and generous as her public persona Publishers Weekly Fifty Days of Solitude Faced with a rare opportunity to experiment with true solitude Doris Grumbach decided to live in her coastal Maine home without speaking to anyone for fifty days A New York Times Notable Book the result is a quiet elegantly written recollection about what it means to write to be alone and to come to terms with mortality Publishers Weekly The Pleasure of Their Company As her eightieth birthday approaches Doris Grumbach uses the event as an opportunity both to look backward and to grow She weaves a delightful tapestry of surprising and meaningful observations allowing readers a glimpse into her life and the characters that have peopled her nearly eight decades on Earth Library Journal Extra Innings This New York Times Notable Book follows a year in Doris Grumbach's life beginning with the release of her memoir Coming into the End Zone and revealing that she possesses as keen an eye in her seventies as she did when she wrote The Spoil of Flowers thirty years earlier In this clear honest picture of her own old age Grumbach details each passing month with their trials and triumphs Library Journal The Memoir and the Memoirist Thomas Larson, 2007 The memoir is the most popular and expressive literary form of our time Writers embrace the memoir and readers devour it propelling many memoirs by relative unknowns to the top of the best seller list Writing programs challenge authors to disclose themselves in personal narrative Memoir and personal narrative urge writers to face the intimacies of the self and ask what is true In The Memoir and the Memoirist critic and memoirist Thomas Larson explores the craft and purpose of writing this new form Larson guides the reader from the autobiography and the personal essay to the memoir a genre focused on a particularly emotional relationship in the author's past an intimate story concerned more with who is remembering and why than with what is remembered The Memoir and the Memoirist touches on the nuances of memory of finding and telling the truth and of disclosing one's deepest self It explores the craft and purpose of personal narrative by looking in detail at more than a dozen examples by writers such as Mary Karr Frank McCourt Dave Eggers Elizabeth Wurtzel Mark Doty Nuala O Faolain Rick Bragg and Joseph Lelyveld to show what they reveal about themselves Larson also opens up his own writing and that of his students to demonstrate the hidden mechanics of the writing process For both the interested reader of memoir and the writer wrestling with the craft The Memoir and the Memoirist provides guidance and insight into the many facets of this provocative and popular art form Extra Innings Richard F. Peterson, 2001 Extra Innings tackles the question of how writing about baseball has shaped our understanding and misunderstanding of the national pastime In a series of astute reflections on baseball histories biographies personal reminiscences and fiction Richard Peterson explores the shifting balance of romance and fact in standard baseball histories offers a lively discussion of baseball fiction and assesses the realism of postmodern baseball writing He discusses the influence of Jackie Robinson on the serious baseball novel and the reluctance of baseball fiction to treat race issues realistically He also surveys baseball fleeting appearances in the literary canon and suggests a top nine reading list for the baseball aficionado Slicing away the myths and distortions of baseball's bizarre history Extra Innings Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 A lively and accessible guide to lesbian and gay literary culture Featuring authors of works with lesbian or gay content as well as known lesbian and gay writers it offers an invaluable guide to a rich and varied literary culture

Minding the Body Patricia Foster, 2011-05-18 A multicultural anthology of fiction and non-fiction literary narratives which addresses the psychological and political aspects of a woman's body in today's culture An important and much needed book for women who seek to understand their bodies and find independent imaginative ways to cope with aging beauty expectations beauty expectations and ethnic comparisons Book Review Digest, 1995

Learning to Be Old Margaret Cruikshank, 2013-02-14 This work examines what it means to grow old in America today The book questions social myths and fears about aging sickness and the other social roles of the elderly the over medicalization of many older people and ageism Here the author proposes alternatives to the ways aging is usually understood in both popular culture and mainstream gerontology She does not propose the ideas of successful aging or productive aging but more the idea of learning how to age Featuring new research and analysis the third edition of this text demonstrates more thoroughly than the previous editions that aging is socially constructed The book focuses on the differences in aging for women and men as well as for people in different socioeconomic groups The author is able to put aging in a broad context that not only focuses on how aging affects women but men as well Key updates in the third edition include changes in the health care system changes in how long older Americans are working especially given the impact of the recession and new material on the brain and mind body interconnections The author challenges conventional ideas about aging and brings forth some new ideas surrounding aging in America today

Gay and Lesbian Literary Heritage Claude J. Summers, 2014-02-25 The revised edition of The Gay and Lesbian Literary Heritage is a reader's companion to this impressive body of work It provides overviews of gay and lesbian presence in a variety of literatures and historical periods in depth critical essays on major gay and lesbian authors in world literature and briefer treatments of other topics and figures important in appreciating the rich and varied gay and lesbian literary traditions Included are nearly 400 alphabetically arranged articles by more than 175 scholars from around the world New articles in this volume feature authors such as Michael Cunningham Tony Kushner Anne Lister Kate Millet Jan Morris Terrence McNally and Sarah Waters essays on topics such as Comedy of Manners and Autobiography and overviews of Danish Norwegian Philippines and Swedish literatures as well as updated and revised articles and bibliographies

The Lioness in Winter Ann Burack-Weiss, 2015-10-13 When she started working with the aged more than forty years ago Ann Burack Weiss began storing the knowledge and skills she thought would help when she got old herself It was not until she hit her mid seventies that she realized she had packed sneakers to climb Mount Everest not anticipating the crevices and chasms that constitute the rocky terrain of old age The professional gerontological and social work literature offered little help so she turned to the late life works of beloved women authors who had bravely climbed the mountain and sent back news from the summit Maya Angelou Colette Simone de Beauvoir Joan Didion Marguerite Duras M F K Fisher Doris Lessing Mary Oliver Adrienne Rich May Sarton and Florida Scott Maxwell were among the many guides she turned to for inspiration In The Lioness in Winter Burack Weiss blends an analysis of key writings from these and other famed women authors with her own wisdom to create an essential companion for older women and those who care for them She fearlessly examines issues such as living with loss finding comfort and joy in unexpected places and facing disability and death This book is filled with powerful passages from women who turned their experiences of aging into art and Burack Weiss ties their words to her own struggles and epiphanies framing their collective observations with key insights from social work practice Shame and the Aging Woman J. Brooks Bouson, 2016-08-19 This book brings together the research findings of contemporary feminist age studies scholars shame theorists and feminist gerontologists in order to unfurl the affective dynamics of gendered ageism In her analysis of what she calls embodied shame J Brooks Bouson describes older women's shame about the visible signs of aging and the health and appearance of their bodies as they undergo the normal processes of bodily aging Examining both fictional and nonfiction works by contemporary North American and British women authors this book offers a sustained analysis of the various ways that ageism devalues and damages the identities of otherwise psychologically healthy women in our graying culture Shame theory as Bouson shows astutely explains why gendered ageism is so deeply entrenched in our culture and why even aging feminists may succumb to this distressing but sometimes hidden cultural affliction At Eighty-Two May Sarton, 2014-07-22 The New York Times bestselling author of At Seventy returns with a memoir about advancing age including her experience with a series of strokes In this poignant and fearless account Sarton chronicles the struggles of life at eighty two She juxtaposes the quotidian details of life battling a leaky roof sharing an afternoon nap with her cat the joy of buying a new mattress with lyrical musings about work celebrity devoted friends and the limitations wrought by the frailties of age She creates poetry out of everyday existence whether bemoaning a lack of recognition by the literary establishment or the devastation wrought by a series of strokes Incapacitated by illness Sarton relies on friends for the little things she always took for granted As she becomes more and more aware of what holds life together in a workable whole she takes solace in flowers and chocolate and reading letters from devoted fans This journal takes us into the heart and mind of an extraordinary artist and woman and is a must read for Sarton devotees and anyone facing the reality of growing older This ebook features an extended biography of May Sarton Worth Writing About Jake Wizner, 2023-10-10 Who am I This is the question that many adolescents ask during the turbulent middle and high school years In Worth Writing About Exploring Memoir with Adolescents Jake Wizner addresses how searching for the answer to this question leads his students to reflection to reading and ultimately to deeper more meaningful writing Wizner a 20 year teaching veteran believes that a well designed memoir unit not only aligns with the Common Core State Standards but also forges community in the classroom encourages kids to read nonfiction and works wonders with students who struggle with their writing or with their lives Worth Writing About addresses the most common challenges teachers face when teaching memoir writing How do you help students who say that nothing interesting has happened in their lives How do you help students balance what is meaningful with what is too personal to share How do you help students overcome the I don't remember syndrome Wizner delves into the craft of writing from using mentor texts to crafting leads and memorable endings He uses student models from his own classroom to show the deep important work his students produce during the memoir unit By writing about themselves and how they view the world around them students discover more about themselves and how they want to move forward in the future

Grieving the Death of a Friend Harold Ivan Smith, 2025-05-27 Written by grief counselor Harold Ivan Smith this book is for those who have loved and lost a dear friend Drawing on personal and professional experience Smith guides readers through grief and offers comfort and support The Last Gift of Time Carolyn G. Heilbrun, 2011-07-20 From the author of Writing a Woman's Life comes an inspirational reflection on aging and the gift of life in your 70s and beyond When she was young distinguished author and critic Carolyn Heilbrun solemnly vowed to end her life when she turned seventy But on the advent of that fateful birthday she realized that her golden years had been full of unforeseen pleasures Now the astute and ever insightful Heilbrun muses on the emotional and intellectual insights that brought her to choose each day for now to live There are reflections on her new house and her sturdy comfortable marriage sweet solitude and the pleasures of sex at an advanced age the fascination with e mail and the joy of discovering unexpected friends Even the encroachments of loss pain and sadness that come with age cannot spoil Heilbrun's moveable feast They are merely the price of bountiful living
