Memory and Remembering in Early Irish Literature Sarah Künzler, 2023-12-04 Ireland possesses an early and exceptionally rich medieval vernacular tradition in which memory plays a key role What attitudes to remembering and forgetting are expressed in secular early Irish texts How do the texts conceptualise the past and what does this conceptualisation tell us about the present and future Who mediates and validates different versions of the past and how is future remembrance guaranteed This study approaches such questions through close readings of individual texts It centres on three major aspects of medieval Irish memory culture places and landscapes the provision of information about the past by miraculously old eye witnesses and the personal social and cultural impact of forgetting The discussions shed light on the relationship between memory and forgetting and explore the connections between the past present and future This shows the fascinating spatio temporal identity constructions in medieval Ireland and links the Irish texts to the broader European world The monograph makes this rich literary sources available to an interdisciplinary audience and is of interest to both a general medievalist audience and those working in Cultural Memory Studies

Massacre in West Cork: The Dunmanway and Ballygroman Killings Barry Keane, 2014-01-17 The deaths in and around Dunmanway in 1922 have always been shrouded in rumour and supposition This book seeks to get to the bottom of them One thing is certain Captain Herbert Woods shot Commandant Michael O'Neill of the IRA on the stairs of Ballygroman House at 2.30a.m. on the 26th April and killed him Who was Herbert Woods and why did he shoot an unarmed man Who was Michael O'Neill and what was he doing inside the house at that hour of the morning What connection had this event to the killing of ten Protestants in West Cork over the next three nights Are they connected with the killing of four British soldiers in Macroom on the same day What was the effect on the local Protestant minority What happened after Herbert Woods and his Hornibrook relations were arrested by the Irish Republican Police and disappeared This book attempts to answer all these questions Using previously overlooked evidence it proves that the real story is a simple one of revenge It directly challenges claims of sectarianism and British involvement presenting a true story of these appalling events

The New Historians of the Twelfth-century Renaissance Peter Damian-Grint,1999 Examination of the striking new style of writing history in the twelfth century by men such as Gaimar Wace and Ambroise The mid twelfth century saw the sudden appearance of a remarkable group of writers the new historians authors such as Geoffrey Gaimar Benoît de Sainte Maure Wace Jordan Fantosme and Ambroise who were the earliest historical writers to use French Each had his own style and authorial persona yet together despite their considerable differences they pioneered a common form of historical writing which is quite distinct from the styles of previous vernacular writers This book studies some of the more characteristic elements of the common style used by the vernacular historians Their detached and self-conscious authorial presentation is particularly notable it is seen both in the prologues and epilogues to their works where they present their source materials as reliable themselves as serious scholars and their works as worthy of belief and constantly throughout the text as the historians direct audience response to their work The author shows how this historical style fits into both the vernacular and the Latin literature current in the period the vernacular historians borrowed elements from both the learned and the popular traditions to produce their own successful and vigorous hybrid one which was still producing new shoots as late as the fifteenth century and which was widely copied and imitated by both writers of courtly romance and by writers of prose history Dr PETER DAMIAN GRINT teaches at Brasenose College Oxford

Department of Printed Books, 1887 Jesus and the Eyewitnesses, 2nd ed. Richard Bauckham, 2017-04-28 A groundbreaking work in New Testament studies expanded and updated Winner of the 2007 Christianity Today Book Award in Biblical Studies this momentous volume argues that the four Gospels are closely based on the eyewitness testimony of those who personally knew Jesus. Noted New Testament scholar Richard Bauckham challenges the prevailing assumption that the Jesus accounts circulated as anonymous community traditions, asserting instead that they were transmitted in the names of the original eyewitnesses. In this expanded second edition, Bauckham is adding a new preface, three substantial new chapters that respond to critics and clarify key points of his argument, and a comprehensive new bibliography.
