READING: BOSSES PREFER AUSSIE CULTURE OVER SKILLS

By Louise Williams from Sydney Morning Herald (6/10/92)

1 Australian companies routinely appoint Australian-born applicants over highly trained 2 migrants because they fear cultural difficulties in the workplace, a new study has 3 found. "There is an entrenched preference... which may not be overtly racist but is 4 covertly discriminatory," the study says.

5 The study, Minimising Diversity, is the first major assessment of the attitudes of 15 applicants with accented English. The negative stereotypes included that the physical size

16 of some Asians was a factor in their unsuitability for positions of authority, that South 17 Africans and Indians were too authoritative for positions of power and the Turkish and 18 Polish migrants were difficult to integrate because of their 'hot-headedness'. "What struck 19 me most was that Australian employers had not even considered the advantages of 20 overseas-trained professionals," Ms Iredale said. Only one of the 55 organisations had 21 considered migrant professionals in terms of advantages, such as international business 22 links, rather than problems, such as cultural differences and lack of local experience.

23 The survey showed that recruitment methods of mining, construction and engineering 24 companies "virtually closed" the firms to overseas-qualified applicants living in 25 Australia. These industries relied heavily on recruiting at Australian universities, 26 informal, methods such as word-of-mouth involving local and family ties and a
