Faber Of Poems And Places:

The Faber Book of Poems and Places Geoffrey Grigson, 2008-08 Places enter poems sometimes incidentally sometimes penetrating the poems as if place were their whole substance It is not surprising After all in places we grow up Place is our external condition place is garden field landscape woods fells springs rivers estuaries beaches valleys villages towns streets Place is sunshine rain snow ice It is west east north and south It is where the seasons change Our feeling flows into places and an accumulation of feeling historical cultural and personal flows back from places into our consciousness So Geoffrey Grigson introduces an anthology of poems in which place is prominent which ranges not only geographically over the entire British Isles and the whole history of poetry in English but includes sections on the landscape of France and Italy there are poems in French about London and in English about Sorrento Tennyson said A known landscape is to me an old friend that continually talks to me of my own youth and half forgotten things This and the related feelings for place find their expression and evocation in a selection of nearly three hundred poems which cannot fail to give pleasure to those who share those feelings poetry lovers or not and shows Geoffrey Grigson's gifts as an anthologist to full advantage

Poems of Places and People George Barker, 1971-01-01 The Arms of the Infinite Christopher Barker, 2010-11-15 The Arms of the Infinite takes the reader inside the minds of author Christopher Barker's parents writer Elizabeth Smart By Grand Central Station I Sat Down and Wept and poet George Barker From their first fateful meeting and subsequent elopement Barker candidly reveals their obsessive passionate and volatile love affair He writes evocatively of his unconventional upbringing with his siblings in a shack in Ireland and later a rambling falling down house in Essex Interesting and charismatic figures from the literary and art worlds are regular visitors and the book is full of fascinating cameos and anecdotes North American rights only The Columbia Granger's Dictionary of Poetry Quotations Edith P. Hazen, 1992 Why do smokers claim that the first cigarette of the day is the best What is the biological basis behind some heavy drinkers belief that the hair of the dog method alleviates the effects of a hangover Why does marijuana seem to affect one's problem solving capacity Intoxicating Minds is in the author's words a grand excavation of drug myth Neither extolling nor condemning drug use it is a story of scientific and artistic achievement war and greed empires and religions and lessons for the future Ciaran Regan looks at each class of drugs describing the historical evolution of their use explaining how they work within the brain's neurophysiology and outlining the basic pharmacology of those substances From a consideration of the effect of stimulants such as caffeine and nicotine and the reasons and consequences of their sudden popularity in the seventeenth century the book moves to a discussion of more modern stimulants such as cocaine and ecstasy In addition Regan explains how we process memory the nature of thought disorders and therapies for treating depression and schizophrenia Regan then considers psychedelic drugs and their perceived mystical properties and traces the history of placebos to ancient civilizations Finally Intoxicating Minds considers the physical consequences of our co evolution with drugs how they have altered our very being and offers a glimpse of the brave new world of drug therapies The Poetry of the Forties in Britain A. Trevor Tolley, 1985 The Columbia

Granger's Guide to Poetry Anthologies William A. Katz, Linda Sternberg Katz, Esther Crain, 1994 Reference guide to poetry anthologies with descriptions and evaluations of each anthology The Complete Works of W. H. Auden: Poems, Volume I W. H. Auden, 2022-06-14 The first of two volumes of the eagerly anticipated first complete edition of Auden's poems including some that have never been published before W H Auden 1907 1973 is one of the greatest poets of the twentieth century and his reputation has only grown since his death Published on the hundredth anniversary of the year in which he began to write poetry this is the first of two volumes of the first complete edition of Auden's poems Edited introduced and annotated by renowned Auden scholar Edward Mendelson this definitive edition includes all the poems Auden wrote for publication in their original texts and all his later revised versions as well as poems and songs he never published some of them printed here for the first time This volume traces the development of Auden's early career and contains all the poems including juvenilia that he published or submitted for publication from his first printed work in 1927 at age twenty through the poems he wrote during his first months in America in 1939 when he was thirty two The book also includes poems that Auden wrote during his adult career with the expectation that he might publish them but which he never did song lyrics that he wrote to be set to music by Benjamin Britten but which he never put into print and verses that he wrote for magazines at schools where he was teaching The main text presents the poems in their original published versions The notes include the extensive revisions that he made to his poems over the course of his career and provide explanations of obscure references The second volume of this edition Poems Volume 2 1940 1973 is also available John Clare and the Place of Poetry Mina Gorji, 2008-01-01 Traditional accounts of Romantic poetry have depicted John Clare as a peripheral figure an original genius whose talents removed him from the mainstream This volume helps to show that far from being brilliant yet isolated Clare was deeply involved in the rich cultural life of both his village and the larger metropolis Offering an account of Clare's poems as they relate to the literary culture and burgeoning literary history of his day Mina Gorji defines the context in which Clare's work can best be understood in relation to eighteenth century traditions as they persisted and developed in the Romantic period Edwin Muir Margery Palmer McCulloch, 2019-08-06 Rather than emphasising the Christian transcendental elements in Edwin Muir's writing this critical study focuses on the single disunited world a search for meaning and values in the unstable mundane world Taking the reader chronologically through all his major works it analyses the significance of Muir's Orcadian background the influence of German Romanticism on his early poetry and his European interests in general The stylistic maturity of his later poetry is given particular attention as is the relevance of Scotland to his whole work Although Muir has traditionally been seen as standing apart from MacDiarmid's Renaissance this challenging new study shows how he did in his own way fulfil its aim by taking Scottish Literature and criticism back into the mainstream of European culture Margery Palmer McCulloch is Senior Research Fellow in Scottish Literature at the University of Glasgow

She is co editor of Scottish Literary Review Her recent books include Modernism and Nationalism Source Documents for the Scottish Renaissance and Scottish Modernism and its Contexts 1918 1959 Literature National Identity and Cultural Exchange published by Edinburgh University Press in 2009 A Bibliography of Modern Arthuriana (1500-2000) Ann F. Howey, Stephen Ray Reimer, 2006 Annotated bibliography of the Arthurian legend in modern English language fiction not only in literary texts but in television music and art The legend of Arthur has been a source of fascination for writers and artists in English since the fifteenth century when Thomas Malory drew together for the first time in English a variety of Arthurian stories from a number of sources to form the Morte Darthur It increased in popularity during the Victorian era when after Tennyson's treatment of the legend not only authors and dramatists but painters musicians and film makers found a source of inspiration in the Arthurian material This interdisciplinary annotated bibliography lists the Arthurian legend in modern English language fiction from 1500 to 2000 including literary texts film television music visual art and games It will prove an invaluable source of reference for students of literary and visual arts general readers collectors librarians and cultural historians indeed by anyone interested in the history of the ways in which Camelot has figured in post medieval English speaking cultures ANN F HOWEY is Assistant Professor at Brock University Canada STEPHEN R REIMER is Associate Professor at the University of Alberta Canada Poems in Their Place Neil Fraistat, 2014-07-01 With essays by 13 leading scholars this collection establishes the grounds for a new kind of poetics that considers the poetry book itself the concept and the material fact as an object of interpretation The authors argue that the decisions poets make about the presentation of their works play a meaningful role in the poetic process and therefore should figure as part of the reading experience The common practice of approaching poems chronologically as they are presented in anthologies or in posthumous editions has been fostered by the long prevailing tendency of the New Criticism to treat each poem as self contained This volume urges the reader to reconsider the most fundamental ways that one reads teaches and interprets poetry Moving from classical to contemporary poetry these essays develop a literary history and theory for such a poetics at the same time providing a generous set of models for a related practical criticism At the heart of this collection are such issues as order arrangement and intertextuality Reading poems in their place helps to return them to their historical contexts because the book itself has had a particular place in its own culture and society Originally published in 1987 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value Sites of Memory, Sites of Mourning Jay Winter, 2014-05-15 Jay Winter's powerful study of the collective remembrance of the Great War offers a major reassessment of one of the critical episodes in the cultural history of the twentieth century Dr Winter looks anew at the culture of commemoration and the ways in which communities endeavoured to find collective solace after 1918 Taking issue with the prevailing modernist interpretation of the European reaction to the appalling events of 1914 18 Dr Winter instead argues that what characterised that reaction was rather the attempt to interpret the Great War within traditional frames of reference Tensions arose inevitably Sites of Memory Sites of Mourning is a profound and moving book of seminal importance for the attempt to understand the course of European history during the first half of the twentieth century Poetics of Place Dermot McCarthy,1991 Ralph Gustafson's personal growth as a poet during a career which spans more than half a century in many ways reflects the development of modern Canadian poetry as a whole A Poetics of Place provides the only available examination of the career of this pre eminent Canadian poet as well as insightful new readings of almost all his poems Making Sense of Place Amanda Bingley,Andrew Ramsey,2014-03-20 Essays dealing with the question of how sense of place is constructed in a variety of locations and media The term sense of place is an important multidisciplinary concept used to understand the complex processes through which individuals and groups define themselves and their relationship to their natural and cultural environments and which over the last twenty years or so has been increasingly defined theorized and used across diverse disciplines in different ways Sense of place mediates our relationship with the world and with each other it provides a profoundly important foundation for individual and community identity It can be an intimate deeply personal experience yet also something which we share with others It is at once recognizable but never constant rather it is embodied in the flux between familiarity and difference Research in this area requires culturally and geographically nuanced analyses approaches that are sensitive to difference and specificity event and locale The essays collected here drawn from a variety of disciplines including but not limited to sociology history geography outdoor education museum and heritage studies health and English literature offer an international perspective on the relationship between people and place via five interlinked sections Histories Landscapes and Identities Rural Sense of Place Urban Sense of Place Cultural Landscapes Conservation Biodiversity and Tourism Ian Convery is Reader in Conservation and Forestry National School of Forestry University of Cumbria Gerard Corsane is Senior Lecturer in Heritage Museum and Gallery Studies International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies Newcastle University Peter Davis is Professor of Museology International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies Newcastle University Contributors Doreen Massey Ian Convery Gerard Corsane Peter Davis David Storey Mark Haywood Penny Bradshaw Vincent O'Brien Michael Woods Jesse Heley Carol Richards Suzie Watkin Lois Mansfield Kenesh Djusipov Tamara Kudaibergenova Jennifer Rogers Eunice Simmons Andrew Weatherall Amanda Bingley Michael Clark Rhiannon Mason Chris Whitehead Helen Graham Christopher Hartworth Joanne Hartworth Ian Thompson Paul Cammack Philippe Dub Josie Baxter Maggie Roe Lyn Leader Elliott John Studley Stephanie K Hawke D Jared Bowers Mark Toogood Owen T Nevin Peter Swain Rachel M Dunk Mary Ann Smyth Lisa J Gibson Stefaan Dondeyne Randi Kaarhus Gaia Allison Ellie Lindsay Andrew Ramsay Knowing One's Place in Contemporary Irish and Polish Poetry Magdalena Kay,2012-02-23 Are we allowed to choose where we belong What pressures make us feel that we should belong somewhere This book brings together four major poets Heaney Mahon Zagajewski and Hartwig who ask themselves these questions throughout their lives They start by assuming that we can choose not to belong but know this is easier said than done Something in them is awry leading them to travel emigrate and return dissatisfied with all forms of belonging Writer after writer has suggested that Polish and Irish literature bear some uncanny similarities particularly in the 20th century but few have explored these similarities in depth Ireland and Poland with their tangled histories of colonization place a large premium upon knowing one's place What happens though when a poet makes a career out of refusing to know her place in the way her culture expects This book explores the consequences of this refusal allowing these poets to answer such questions through their own poems leading to surprising conclusions about the connection of knowledge and belonging roots and identity

Hugh MacDiarmid's Poetry and Politics of Place Scott Lyall, 2006-08-28 By examining at length for the first time those places in Scotland that inspired MacDiarmid to produce his best poetry Scott Lyall shows how the poet's politics evolved from his interaction with the nation exploring how MacDiarmid discovered a hidden tradition of radical Scottish Republicanism through which he sought to imagine a new Scottish future Adapting postcolonial theory this book allows readers a fuller understanding not only of MacDiarmid's poetry and politics but also of international modernism and the social history of Scottish modernism

Penguin's Poems for Life Laura Barber, 2008-09-25 Taking its inspiration from Shakespeare's idea of the seven ages of a human life this new anthology brings together the best loved poems in English to inspire comfort and delight readers for a lifetime Beginning with babies the book is divided into sections on childhood growing up making a living and making love family life getting older and approaching death ending with poems of mourning and commemoration Ranging from Chaucer to Carol Ann Duffy via Shakespeare Keats and LeMn Sissay this book offers something for each of those moments in life whether falling in love finding your first grey hair or saying your final goodbyes when only a poem will do Contains an introduction by Laura Barber

Metamorphosis and Place Mohamed Bakari, Joshua Parker, Lucie Tunkrova, 2009-05-27 If personal and national identity is often constructed in terms of place how do our identities and values change as places themselves are transformed What happens to the spaces in which we live as societal values and identities change These questions can be asked of almost any discipline whether one is taking a photograph or mapping a literary topography tracing linguistic change in a geographic region or language's importance to our conception of a political territory building a house or place of worship on a physical plot of land or constructing them from words on a page or computer software Few places are ever uniquely our own We share them knowing that the geographic points stabilizing our own identities serve on their reverse side to support an entirely different set of meanings We project our cultural or disciplinary markers onto landscapes which are already hardly blank but full of others' meanings This collection brings together scholars from a range of disciplines including literary and cultural studies history political science architecture anthropology photography and art history communications sociology lexicography linguistics tourism management and theoretical psychoanalysis each shedding light on how place is both a transforming subject and a transformed object Voyages over Voices Angela Leighton, 2010-09-15 Voyages over Voices is the first book length critical exploration of the internationally acclaimed American British poet Anne Stevenson A past winner of the The Poetry Foundation s Neglected Masters Award the Lannan Lifetime Achievement Award for Poetry and the Northern Rock Foundation Writer s Award Stevenson has long been admired by poets and critics alike as one of the most important contemporary poets on either side of the Atlantic Angela Leighton brings together a distinguished list of contributors including Jay Parini Carol Rumens Tim Kendall and John Lucas in a collection that provides a significant and invaluable contribution to understanding Stevenson s work as poet and critic Voyages over Voices will be required reading for scholars contemporary British and American poetry
