Epiphanies Geoffrey Macnab,2019-07-25 What I remember was that it was the first time a piece of fiction had had such a devastating emotional effect on me A lot of children remember seeing cartoons Pinocchio or Bambi or something that breaks their heart I remember seeing The Blue Angel and it breaking my heart It was the first time I realised there was an adult world that adults could damage each other or destroy each other emotionally It might have fed into a whole series of epiphanies about my own upbringing I was living in a family where my grandparents had separated in quite complex circumstances Perhaps it resonated with some elements of that to do with simply how love can be a rupturing and damaging emotion as well as a healing one Also to see somebody who is in an authority position made so small so diminished by the feeling of having no control Anthony Minghella The Blue Angel In a strange lethal way I was suddenly wildly attracted to the process of filmmaking even though it is described as a nightmare a matter of horror in that film There is a trancelike atmosphere Suddenly I was reminded that you can feel like it's a matter of life and death when you make a film It changed from being a mediocre feeling of emptiness in your life to something that feels necessary I realised that filmmaking can be many things and it can be narcotic in a way You can become addicted to it Thomas Vinterberg Hearts of Darkness Screen Epiphanies brings together 32 leading film makers to discuss the films that inspired them to pursue a career in the movie business or which influenced their own film making practice or which stayed with them because of their depictions of familiar communities intense human relationships or unknown worlds Beautifully illustrated with images from the films discussed Screen Epiphanies is a thought provoking and often moving insight into the creative process and the way in which artists are inspired by each other's work but also into the centrality of cinema in all our lives and its power to change our ambitions and how we see the world around us

Film Theory Thomas Elsaesser, Malte Hagener, 2015-03-12 What is the relationship between cinema and spectator This is the key question for film theory and one that Thomas Elsaesser and Malte Hagener put at the center of their insightful and engaging book now revised from its popular first edition Every kind of cinema and every film theory first imagines an ideal spectator and then maps certain dynamic interactions between the screen and the spectator's mind body and senses Using seven distinctive configurations of spectator and screen that move progressively from exterior to interior relationships the authors retrace the most important stages of film theory from its beginnings to the present from neo realist and modernist theories to psychoanalytic apparatus phenomenological and cognitivist theories and including recent cross overs with philosophy and neurology This new and updated edition of Film Theory An Introduction through the Senses has been extensively revised and rewritten throughout incorporating discussion of contemporary films like Her and Gravity and including a greatly expanded final chapter which brings film theory fully into the digital age

Cinema and Contact Laura McMahon, 2017-07-05 Drawing on the work of contemporary French philosopher Jean Luc Nancy Cinema and Contact investigates the aesthetics and politics of touch in the cinema of three of the most prominent and distinctive filmmakers to have emerged in France during the last fifty years Robert Bresson Marguerite Duras and Claire Denis Countering the dominant critical account of touch elaborated by recent models of embodied spectatorship this book argues that cinema offers a privileged space for understanding touch in terms of spacing and withdrawal rather than immediacy and continuity Such a deconstructive configuration of touch is shown here to have far reaching implications inviting an innovative rethinking of politics aesthetics and theology via the textures of cinema The first study to bring the thought of Nancy into sustained dialogue with a series of detailed analyses of films Cinema and Contact also forges new interpretative perspectives on Bresson Duras and Denis tracing a compelling two way exchange between cinema and philosophy

The Seventh Seal Melvyn Bragg,2020-10-15 The Seventh Seal is probably Bergman s best known work and the film that most clearly bears the director s unmistakable signature The opening scene sets the tone a stony beach under a leaden sky the knight alone with his thoughts then the approach of black clad Death whom the knight invites to play a game of chess Bergman s medieval allegory of faith and doubt is dark with the horrors of witch burnings and the plague But it is also shot through with bright flashes of peace and joy symbolised in the milk and wild strawberries offered to the knight by an innocent family of actors In his compelling appreciation Melvyn Bragg describes his own first encounter as a student with this extraordinary film and how it revealed to him another cinema quite different from the Hollywood he had grown up with He recounts too his later meeting with Bergman himself and how the marks of the director s powerful personality are everywhere in this troubling and inspiring masterpiece

The New York Times Film Reviews 1999-2000 New York Times Theater Reviews,2001-12 From the Oscar winning blockbusters American Beauty and Shakespeare in Love to Sundance oddities like American Movie and The Tao of Steve to foreign films such as All About My Mother the latest volume in this popular series features a chronological collection of facsimiles of every film review and awards article published in The New York Times between January 1999 and December 2000. Queer Bergman Daniel Humphrey, 2013-03-15 One of the twentieth century's most important filmmakers, indeed one of its most important and influential artists, Ingmar Bergman and his films have been examined from almost every possible perspective, including their remarkable portrayals of women and their searing dramatizations of gender dynamics. Curiously, however, especially considering the Swedish filmmaker's numerous and intriguing comments on the subject, no study has focused on the undeniably queer characteristics present throughout this nominally straight auteur's body of work. Indeed, they have barely been noted. Queer Bergman makes a bold and convincing argument that Ingmar Bergman's work can best be thought of as profoundly queer in nature. Using persuasive historical evidence, including Bergman's own on-the-record, though stubbornly ignored, remarks alluding to his own homosexual identifications, as well as the discourse of queer theory, Daniel Humphrey brings into focus the director's radical denunciation of heteronormative values, his savage and darkly humorous deconstructions of gender roles, and his work's trenchant, if also deeply conflicted, attacks on homophobically constructed forms of patriarchal authority. Adding an important chapter to the current discourse on GLBT queer historiography, Humphrey also explores the unaddressed historical connections between post-World War II American queer culture and a concurrently vibrant European art cinema, proving that particular interrelationship to be as profound as the better documented associations between gay men and Hollywood musicals, queer spectators, and the horror film, lesbians, and gothic fiction, and others.

The New York Times Encyclopedia of Film Gene Brown, 1984

Black Screens, White Frames Tanya Shilina-Conte, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Tanya Shilina-Conte, 2024-11-22 Black Screens, White Frames offers a new understanding of blank screens in cinema. Drawing on Gilles Deleuze's film philosophy and pursuing an affirmative approach to non-images through the concept of the filmmaking machine, author Tanya Shilina-Conte shows how absence can be a productive mode that alters the way we study film.

Ingmar Bergman Birgitta Steene, 2005 Exhaustive compendium by one of the world's foremost experts on the Swedish master, covers Bergman's life, his cultural background, his entire artistic career, and extensive annotated bibliographies of interviews and critical writings on Bergman.

Awake in the Dark Roger Ebert, 2022-12-22 A collection of greatest film reviews from a critic who understands how to pop the hood of a movie and tell us how it runs. Steven Spielberg, Pulitzer Prize-winning film critic Roger Ebert wrote movie reviews for the Chicago Sun Times for over forty years. His wide knowledge, keen judgment, and sharp sense of humor made him America's most celebrated film critic, the only one to have a star dedicated to him on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. His hit TV show At the Movies made two thumbs up a coveted hallmark in the industry. From The Godfather to GoodFellas, from Cries and Whispers to Crash, the reviews in Awake in the Dark span some of the most exceptional periods in film history, from the dramatic rise of rebel Hollywood and the heyday of the auteur to the triumph of blockbuster films such as Star Wars and Raiders of the Lost Ark to the indie revolution The extraordinary interviews included capture Ebert engaging with such influential directors as Martin Scorsese Steven Spielberg Woody Allen Robert Altman Werner Herzog and Ingmar Bergman as well respected actors as diverse as Robert Mitchum James Stewart Warren Beatty and Meryl Streep Also gathered here are some of his most admired essays among them a moving appreciation of John Cassavetes and a loving tribute to the virtues of black and white films A treasure trove for film buffs Awake in the Dark is a compulsively readable chronicle of film since the late 1960s Ebert has a keen understanding of the way movies work Martin Scorsese Ebert's criticism shows a nearly unequalled grasp of film history and technique A O Scott New York Times
