AREAS OF SIGNIFICANCE

There are 12 areas of importance which, according to Chinese Face reading tradition, relate to specific aspects of life. If these areas appear well developed, bright and healthy looking and are free from blemishes it is said to be a fortunate sign.

1. Home country
2. Political/managerial
3. Fate, destiny
4. Affection, health
5. Fortune, material wealth
6. Virtue, integrity
7. Home, homeland
8. Assets, capital
9. Emotional happiness
10. Love of family
11. Love of children
12. Professional relations

The area between the nose and the lips forms a depression which can have special significance. According to ancient Chinese beliefs, its length indicates the life span of a person. If it narrows towards the nose it can indicate a difficult childhood. If it narrows towards the mouth a person might face difficulties later in life. If it runs parallel a person's whole life will be harmonious.

Saving Face Stephen Pattison,2016-04-01 Faces are all around us and fundamentally shape both everyday experience and our understanding of people To lose face is to be alienated and experience shame to be enfaced is to enjoy the fullness of life In theology as in many other disciplines faces as both physical phenomena and symbols have not received the critical appreciative attention they deserve This pioneering book explores the nature of face and enfacement both human and divine Pattison discusses questions concerning what face is how important face is in human life and relationships and how we might understand face both as a physical phenomenon and as a series of socially inflected symbols and metaphors about the self and the body Examining what face means in terms of inclusion and exclusion in contemporary human society and how it is related to shame Pattison reveals what the experience of people who have difficulties with faces tell us about our society our understandings of and our reactions to face Exploring this ubiquitous yet ignored area of both contemporary human experience and of the Christian theological tradition Pattison explains how Christian theology understands face both human and divine and the insights might it offer to understanding face and enfacement Does God in any sense have a physically visible face What is the significance of having an enfacéd or faceless God for Christian life and practice What does the vision of God mean now If we want to take face and defacing shame seriously and to get them properly into perspective we may need to change our theology thought and practice changing our ways of thinking about God and about theology Read This! rethinking occurs in Heidegger's own laterwork. In particular the crossing out of the earlier work in the turn to the later allows us to think being with as essential to a Heideggerian ethics and to rethink the relationship between ethics and politics which previously issued in Heidegger's engagement with Nazism. This rethinking of ethics and politics in light of the originality of being with brings us before a hitherto unnoticed proximity between Heidegger's later work and the Lacanian political thought of Slavoj Žižek; among others it thereby opens up the possibility of a politically progressive Heideggerianism and many unexpected encounters with thinkers generally considered to be separated from Heidegger by an abyss.
