However, there is hope that many countries are now recognizing the importance of providing access to public information resources. Digital Access and E Government Perspectives from Developing and Emerging Countries explores the relationships that exist between access to information laws and e government. It shares the strategies used in encouraging access to information in a variety of jurisdictions and environments to be of use to e government designers and practitioners, policymakers and university professors.

Knowledge Networks for Business Growth Andrea Back, Ellen Enkel, Georg von Krogh, 2007-01-10 Companies are constantly searching for new ways of creating higher profit and a larger market share. Growth seems to be the most appropriate tactic for surviving economically in difficult times. New instruments and methods as a support to a company's growth strategy can be essential in gaining a competitive advantage. Knowledge management is one of the answers to this challenge. It can support strategic goals such as the improvement of efficiency, the minimization of risk and an increase in innovation but also has inherent potentials which have not been leveraged yet. The first part of the book contains three case studies which illustrate the idea of knowledge networks for growth. The step by step methodology of the second part shows the reader how to build up and maintain these networks. The templates in the last part of the book ease the adaptation of networks for the reader's own company or his or her specific business needs.

Organizational Change Management Strategies in Modern Business Goksoy, Asli, 2015-10-30 Scholars agree that change has become a staple in organizational life and will likely remain as such beyond the 21st century. As the rate of change continues to accelerate, organizations must strive to develop and implement new initiatives in order to obtain significant benefits to organizational survival, economic viability and human satisfaction. Organizational Change Management Strategies in Modern Business covers the most important elements of change management as well as the difficulties and challenges that organizations have faced when implementing change. In sampling different disciplines relevant to topics such as resistance to change, mergers and acquisitions, management leadership, the role of human resource strategies and culture, this reference work is a useful resource for academics, professionals, managers, administrators and others interested in organizational change.

analytics and business and information systems development Digital Collaborative Learning in General, Higher, and Business Education Henrik Bellhäuser, Sanna Järvelä, Rene Roepke, Christin Siegfried, Carolyn Rose, 2025-04-10 Please note that all spontaneous submissions are required to submit an abstract and await feedback before submitting the full manuscript any spontaneous submissions which only submit a full manuscript will be rejected Collaborative learning takes place with the expectation that people will achieve more together than alone Crucial to this is the appropriate composition of groups and the participation of each group member through communication written verbal or non verbal by sharing ideas experiences and knowledge in a diverse and elaborate way However collaboration is extended and substantially changed by the Internet and other technologies The always on connection to the Internet enables people to be in contact with peers anytime and anywhere and can help to overcome social isolation which is particularly common in digital learning contexts not least because it can positively influence learner satisfaction The ability to record speech and writing in a digital context encourages reflection on one's own contributions before they are made available to the group Moreover digital applications and methods can support the externalization of one's own thinking and learning processes to the group members AI helps to investigate how collaborative learning works e.g. through data driven methods of learning analytics ECRM 2018 17th European Conference on Research Methods in Business and Management Prof. Michela Marchiori, 2018-07-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 17th European Conference on Research Methodology for Business and Management Studies ECRM which is being hosted this year by Universit Roma TRE Rome Italy on 12-13 July 2018 Research Handbook on Transport and COVID-19 Junyi Zhang, Ying Jiang, Yoshitsugu Hayashi, 2025-05-14 Drawing on interdisciplinary studies from a wide range of countries and contexts this timely Research Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the impacts of COVID-19 while envisioning a promising future through resilient frameworks and innovative solutions This book offers essential guidance for navigating the complexities of transportation in the post pandemic era Advances in Artificial Intelligence Balázs Kégl, Guy Lapalme, 2005-05-03 The 18th conference of the Canadian Society for the Computational Study of Intelligence CSCI continued the success of its predecessors This set of papers reflects the diversity of the Canadian AI community and its international partners AI 2005 attracted 135 high quality submissions 64 from Canada and 71 from around the world Of these eight were written in French All submitted papers were thoroughly reviewed by at least three members of the Program Committee A total of 30 contributions accepted as long papers and 19 as short papers are included in this volume We invited three distinguished researchers to give talks about their current research interests Eric Brill from Microsoft Research Craig Boutilier from the University of Toronto and Henry Krautz from the University of Washington The organization of such a successful conference benefited from the collaboration of many individuals Foremost we would like to express our appreciation to the Program Committee members and external referees who provided timely and significant reviews To manage the submission and reviewing process we used the

Paperdyne system which was developed by Dirk Peters We owe special thanks to Kellogg Booth and Tricia d Entremont for handling the local arrangements and registration We also thank Bruce Spencer and members of the CSCSI executive for all their efforts in making AI 2005 a successful conference

Structural Change in Transportation and Communications in the Knowledge Society Kiyoshi Kobayashi, T. R. Lakshmanan, William Peter Anderson, 2006-12-21 The transformation of the world economy from a system of nations trading materials intensive goods to a system of seamless global networks for information intensive goods and services has created the need for a comprehensive restructuring of transportation and communications activities The contributors transportation and communications analysts from Japan and the United States address this restructuring from a variety of perspectives ranging from theoretical treatments of the role of information in the economy to applications of communications technologies for the collection of travel data The authors transcend traditional methods of transportation and communication analysis in order to address emerging issues that are not well represented by the prevailing cost benefit framework Many draw from advances in social sciences such as game theory that recognize the interdependence of human decision making New ways of assessing the economic benefit of infrastructure and the evolving role of institutions in the information economy are demonstrated along with novel approaches to analyzing human mobility and interaction in a knowledge rich environment By moving beyond traditional forms of analysis that were better suited to an earlier time the chapters in this book provide a wealth of insights for policy formulation in the globalized knowledge economy This comprehensive volume will be of great value to regional scientists and economic geographers as well as civil engineers economists and analysts interested in transportation and communications

The Polycentric Metropolis Peter Hall, Kathy Pain, 2012-06-25 A new 21st century urban phenomenon is emerging the networked polycentric mega city region Developed around one or more cities of global status it is characterized by a cluster of cities and towns physically separate but intensively networked in a complex spatial division of labour This book describes and analyses eight such regions in North West Europe For the first time this work shows how businesses interrelate and communicate in geographical space within each region between them and with the wider world It goes on to demonstrate the profound consequences for spatial planning and regional development in Europe and by implication other similar urban regions of the world The Polycentric Metropolis introduces the concept of a mega city region analyses its characteristics examines the issues surrounding regional identities and discusses policy ramifications and outcomes for infrastructure transport systems and regulation Packed with high quality maps case study data and written in a clear style by highly experienced authors this will be an insightful and significant analysis suitable for professionals in urban planning and policy environmental consultancies business and investment communities technical libraries and students in urban studies geography economics and town spatial planning
