and television history presenters this book looks critically at alternative literary and visual ways of presenting the past as both academic history and popular history. Historians discussed include Stephen Ambrose, Niall Ferguson, Eric Hobsbawm, Robert A. Rosenstone, Simon Schama, Joan Wallach Scott, and A. J. P. Taylor. Chapter topics include Hollywood and history, Michael Bellesiles' controversial history of gun rights in the USA, Philippa Gregory's historical novels, historians and the David Irving trial, and Terry Deary's Horrible Histories. Raising serious questions about the nature, study, and communication of history, Presenting History is an essential text for historians and history students as well as anyone involved in listening to, reading, or watching presenters of the past.

World War I for Kids R. Kent Rasmussen, 2014-04-01 One hundred years after the start of the Great War, World War I for Kids provides an intriguing and comprehensive look at this defining conflict that involved all of the world's superpowers. Why and how did the war come about? What was daily life like for soldiers in the trenches? What roles did zeppelins, barbed wire, and the passenger ship Lusitania play in the war? Who were Kaiser Wilhelm, the Red Baron, and Edith Cavell? Young history buffs will learn the answers to these questions and many others, including why the Western Front bogged down into a long stalemate, how the war ushered in an era of rapid military technological and societal advances, and how the United States' entry helped end the war. Far from a dry catalog of names, dates, and battles, this richly illustrated book goes in depth into such fascinating topics as the turn of the 20th-century weaponry and the important roles animals played in the war, and explains connections among events and how the war changed the course of history. Hands-on activities illuminate both the war and the times. Kids can make a periscope, teach a dog to carry messages, make a parachute, learn a popular World War I song, cook Maconochie Stew, and much more.
