From A South Seas Diary:

From a South Seas Diary, 1938-1942. [With Plates, Including Portraits, and an Endpaper Map.]. Sir Harry Charles Luke (K.C.M.G., formerly Lukach.), 1945 In The South Seas Neil Rennie, Robert Louis Stevenson, 1998-10-29 IN THE SOUTH SEAS records Stevenson's travels with his wife Fanny and their family in the Marquesas the Paumotu and the Gilbert Islands during 1888-9 Originally drafted in journal form while Stevenson travelled it was then ambitiously rewritten to describe the islands and islanders as well as Stevenson's own personal experiences IN THE SOUTH SEAS was published posthumously in 1896 Its combination of personal anecdote and historical account of autobiography and anthropology of Stevenson and South Sea Islands has a particular charm Australian Travellers in the South Seas Nicholas Halter, 2021-02-08 This book offers a wide ranging survey of Australian engagement with the Pacific Islands in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Through over 100 hitherto largely unexplored accounts of travel the author explores how representations of the Pacific Islands in letters diaries reminiscences books newspapers and magazines contributed to popular ideas of the Pacific Islands in Australia It offers a range of valuable insights into continuities and changes in Australian regional perspectives showing that ordinary Australians were more closely connected to the Pacific Islands than has previously been acknowledged Addressing the theme of travel as a historical literary and imaginative process this cultural history probes issues of nation and empire race and science commerce and tourism by focusing on significant episodes and encounters in history This is a foundational text for future studies of Australia's relations with the Pacific and histories of travel generally The South Seas Sean Brawley, Chris Dixon, 2015-04-21 The South Seas charts the idea of the South Seas in popular cultural productions of the English speaking world from the beginnings of the Western enterprise in the Pacific until the eve of the Pacific War Building on the notion that the influences on the creation of a text and the ways in which its audience receives the text are essential for understanding the historical significance of particular productions Sean Brawley and Chris Dixon explore the ways in which authors and producers ideas about the South Seas were haunted by others who had written on the subject and how they in turn influenced future generations of knowledge producers The South Seas is unique in its examination of an array of cultural texts Along with the foundational literary texts that established and perpetuated the South Seas tradition in written form the authors explore diverse cultural forms such as art music theater film fairs platform speakers surfing culture and tourism South Sea Maidens Michael Sturma, 2002-03-30 From the first European contact with Tahiti in 1767 the myth of the South Sea maiden has endured through many incarnations Although the maiden frequently provided an idealized antidote to Western women's self assertion the South Pacific also afforded a space where boundaries between the sexes could be relaxed and transgressed From James Cook and Captain Bligh to James Michener and Margaret Mead the Island girl has occupied a special place in the erotic imagination of the West In a sweeping study that embraces history literature visual arts anthropology and film this study gives fresh insight into the myths and reality of a Western icon While women from far off lands have always been presented as exotic and alluring the South Sea maiden has come to symbolize feminine sexuality as an integral part of the adventure sensuality and romance of the South Pacific Everyone from early explorers to 19th century writers and artists to latter day anthropologists film makers and tourism promoters have extolled their virtues and their bodies Sturma looks behind the popular cliché to reveal how the myth making process reflected not only Western desires but the cut and thrust of changing sexual politics The result is an intriguing look at both South Sea image makers and the women whom they found so seductive In the Strange South

Seas Beatrice Grimshaw,2021-05-20 In her evocative travel narrative In the Strange South Seas Beatrice Grimshaw transports readers into the heart of the Pacific Islands vividly capturing the breathtaking landscapes and vibrant cultures she encounters Drawing upon her sharp observational skills and lyrical prose Grimshaw masterfully intertwines personal reflection with rich descriptions of the indigenous peoples and their customs Set against the backdrop of early 20th century imperialism this work not only documents her adventures but also engages with contemporary themes of colonialism identity and the allure of the exotic making it a significant contribution to the literary genre of travel writing Beatrice Grimshaw a trailblazing writer and journalist from Ireland was deeply influenced by her own experiences of adventure and her commitment to understanding the diverse world around her Her extensive travels and extensive work in journalism led her to immerse herself in the cultures she described providing a nuanced perspective often absent in her contemporaries works Grimshaw's passion for storytelling and dedication to uncovering the truths of the places she visited equipped her with a distinctive voice that resonates throughout this volume This book invites readers to explore the mesmerizing accounts of the South Seas through Grimshaw's insightful lens Her blend of adventure cultural introspection and poetic language makes In the Strange South Seas an unforgettable expedition for those interested in travel literature or the complexities of human societies across time Shipowners investing in the South Sea Whale Fishery from Britain: 1775-1815 Jane M.

Changing Contexts, Shifting Meanings
 Elfriede Hermann, 2011-09-30 This book sheds new light on processes of cultural transformation at work in Oceania and analyzes them as products of interrelationships between culturally created meanings and specific contexts In a series of inspiring essays noted scholars of the region examine these interrelationships for insight into how cultural traditions are shaped on an ongoing basis The collection marks a turning point in the debate on the conceptualization of tradition Following a critique of how tradition has been viewed in terms of dichotomies like authenticity vs inauthenticity contributors stake out a novel perspective in which tradition figures as context bound articulation This makes it possible to view cultural traditions as resulting from interactions between people their ideas actions and objects and the ambient contexts Such interactions are analyzed from the past down to the Oceanian present with indigenous agency being highlighted The work focuses first on early encounters initially between Pacific Islanders themselves and later with the European navigators of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries to clarify how meaningful actions and contexts interrelated in the past The present day memories of Pacific Islanders are examined to ask how such memories represent encounters that occurred long ago and how they influenced the social political economic and religious changes that ensued Next contributors address ongoing social and structural interactions that social actors enlist to shape their traditions within the context of globalization and then the repercussions that these intersections and intercultural exchanges of discourses and practices are having on active identity formation as practiced by Pacific Islanders Finally two authorities on Oceania who themselves move in the intersecting space between anthropology and history discuss the essays and add their own valuable reflections With its wealth of illuminating analyses and illustrations Changing Contexts Shifting Meanings will appeal to students and scholars in the fields of cultural and social anthropology history art history museology Pacific studies gender studies cultural studies and literary criticism Contributors Aletta Biersack Françoise Douaire Marsaudon Bronwen Douglas David Hanlon Brigitta Hauser Schublin Peter Hempenstall Margaret Jolly Miriam Kahn Martha Kaplan John D Kelly Wolfgang Kempf Gundolf Krüger Jacquelyn Lewis Harris Lamont Lindstrom Karen Nero Ton Otto Anne Salmond Serge Tchierkoff Paul van der Grijp Toon van Meijl
