From Main Street To Cyber Street Govern:

The Media, Cultural Control and Government in Singapore Terence Lee, 2010-05-06 This book explores this inherent contradiction present in most facets of Singaporean media cultural and political discourses and identifies the key regulatory strategies and technologies that the ruling People Action Party PAP employs to regulate Singapore media and culture and thus govern the thoughts and conduct of Singaporeans It establishes the conceptual links between government and the practice of cultural policy arguing that contemporary cultural policy in Singapore has been designed to shape citizens into accepting and participating in the rationales of government Outlining the historical development of cultural policy including the recent expansion of cultural regulatory and administrative practices into the creative industries Terence Lee analyzes the attempts by the Singaporean authorities to engage with civil society the ways in which the media is used to market the PAP's policies and leadership and the implications of the internet for the practice of governmental control Overall The Media Cultural Control and Government in Singapore offers an original approach towards the rethinking of the relationship between media culture and politics in Singapore demonstrating that the many contradictory discourses around Singapore only make sense once the politics and government of the media and culture are understood

Information and communications technology in government Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2011-07-05 This report examines the Government s new strategy for ICT and the practical steps necessary to implement its 30 key actions The strategy is ambitious with some 30 actions to be delivered in just 24 months However it lacks quantitative targets or a baseline of current performance which will make it difficult to measure success The implementation plan due in August 2011 should include milestones on which the government can be held to account The Committee welcomes the differences between this and previous strategies The Efficiency and Reform Group ERG will insist on shorter more iterative projects that take no more than two to three years will step in and micro manage a department s project if required will promote greater input from smaller business suppliers and will require a focus on designing services around the customer Yet there are serious concerns about the strategy It lacks detail about the Government s approach to cyber security which is worrying given the drive for more government services to move online Government also has not yet assessed the size of its existing ICT workforce or the number of ICT people or the skills it will need to deliver its strategy ERG has only a small team of experts to keep on top of more than 50 major projects The Committee is concerned that ERG could not provide any detail on the nature or the number of its major projects HM

Government: Serious Organised Crime Strategy - Cm. 8715 Great Britain: Home Office,2013-10-07 This is a new strategy to deal with the challenges we face from serious and organised crime It is published to coincide with the launch of the new National Crime Agency NCA and reflects changes to the threats faced and the lessons learned from previous work Organised crime includes drug trafficking human trafficking and organised illegal immigration high value fraud and other financial crimes counterfeiting organised acquisitive crime and cyber crime The aim of the strategy is to substantially reduce the level of serious and organised crime affecting the UK and its interests The strategy uses the framework developed for our counter terrorist work and has four components prosecuting and disrupting people engaged in serious and organised crime Pursue preventing people from engaging in this activity Prevent increasing protection against serious and organised crime Protect and reducing the impact of this criminality where it takes place Prepare The strategy lists strategic objectives under each of the four areas of work Tactical operational objectives e g priority crime groups will be set by the NCA with law enforcement agency counterparts Our immediate priority is the work set out under Pursue to prosecute and relentlessly disrupt organised criminals and reduce the threat they pose Like other threats to our national security serious and organised
