

The background of the book cover is a Romantic-style landscape painting. It depicts a wide river flowing through a lush, green valley. In the distance, a waterfall cascades over a rocky ledge. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds, and the overall color palette is dominated by earthy greens, browns, and blues, with a touch of red in the middle ground. The painting style is characterized by visible brushstrokes and a sense of atmospheric perspective.

Before the Romantics, 1984 Before the Romantics, 1984 Robert Owen and New Lanark The Open University, This 12 hour free course explored the ideas of Robert Owen and a range of social issues he sought to address in the early 1800s York Notes Companions: Romantic Literature John Gilroy, 2014-08-28 Alienation and Affect Warren TenHouten, 2016-12-01 Alienation has objective social structural determinants yet is experienced subjectively as a psychological state involving both emotion and cognition Part I considers conceptualizations of alienation and affect in historical context emphasizing Rousseau Hegel Marx Simmel and Weber Part II develops a theory of the affective bases of Seaman's original five varieties of alienation normlessness meaninglessness self estrangement cultural estrangement and powerlessness The book argues that both normlessness and cultural estrangement manifest in two distinct forms and involve distinct emotions Thus it develops the affective bases of seven distinct varieties of alienation This work synthesizes classical and contemporary alienation theory and the sociology of emotions It contributes to political sociology and finds application in social psychiatry and related health and social service fields that treat traumatized and highly alienated individuals 30 Great Myths about the Romantics Duncan

Wu, 2015-03-04 Brimming with the fascinating eccentricities of a complex and confusing movement whose influences continue to resonate deeply 30 Great Myths About the Romantics adds great clarity to what we know or think we know about one of the most important periods in literary history Explores the various misconceptions commonly associated with Romanticism offering provocative insights that correct and clarify several of the commonly held myths about the key figures of this era Corrects some of the biases and beliefs about the Romantics that have crept into the 21st century zeitgeist for example that they were a bunch of drug addled atheists who believed in free love that Blake was a madman and that Wordsworth slept with his sister Celebrates several of the mythic objects characters and ideas that have passed down from the Romantics into contemporary culture from Blake's Jerusalem and Keats's Ode on a Grecian Urn to the literary genre of the vampire Engagingly written to provide readers with a fun yet scholarly introduction to Romanticism and key writers of the period applying the most up to date scholarship to the series of myths that continue to shape our appreciation of their work

Anthology of Romanticism Ernest Bernbaum, 1929 Arcade of Memory Howard Giskin, 2019-08-26 The passing of years seems a ruse of the gods for only yesterday I was playing in the sand Memory is a strange thing A fragile patchwork of recollection A dream that fades after waking Arcade of Memory is a beautiful collection of essays poems and short stories that explores the notion of memory drawing from the author's experiences traveling throughout the world Essays examine memory and the act of making meaning Poems written in the style of Japanese tanka draw inspiration from global culture Short stories use history as a springboard for contemplating the mysteries of life This lyrical thoughtful collection reminds us that our personal past is a mythical land which can only be visited through recollection and imagination The Marcus

Garvey and Universal Negro Improvement Association Papers, Volume XII Marcus Garvey, 2014-09-29 Volume XII of the Marcus Garvey and Universal Negro Improvement Association Papers covers a period of twelve months from the opening of the UNIA's historic first international convention in New York in August 1920 to Marcus Garvey's return to the United States in July 1921 after an extended tour of Cuba Jamaica Panama Costa Rica and Belize In many ways the 1920 convention marked the high point of the Garvey movement in the United States while Garvey's tour of the Caribbean in the winter and spring of 1921 registered the greatest outpouring of popular support for the UNIA in its history The period covered in the present volume was the moment of the movement's political apotheosis as well as the moment when the finances of Garvey's Black Star Line went into free fall Volume XII highlights the centrality of the Caribbean people not only to the convention but also to the movement The reports to the convention discussed the range of social and economic conditions obtaining in the Caribbean particularly their impact on racial conditions The quality of the discussions and debates were impressive Contained in these reports are some of the earliest and most clearly enunciated statements in defense of social and political freedom in the Caribbean These documents form an underappreciated and still underutilized record of the political awakening of Caribbean people of African descent State Terror, State Violence Bettina Koch, 2015-12-16 The volume critically discusses theoretical discourses and theoretically informed case studies on state violence and state terror How do states justify their acts of violence How are these justifications critiqued Although legally state terrorism does not exist some states nonetheless commit acts of violence that qualify as state terror as a social fact In which cases and under what circumstances do illegitimate acts of violence qualify as state terrorism Geographically the volume covers cases and discourses from the Caucasus South East and Central Asia the Middle East and North America

Political Poetry as Discourse Angela M. Leonard, 2010-01-01 Political Poetry as Discourse examines the works of the political poets John Greenleaf Whittier and Ebenezer Elliott drawing comparisons to contemporary hip hoppers who take their words from local newspapers and other discursive sources that they read hear and observe Local presses and news vehicles stand as cultural material forms that supply poets with words particularly words that congeal into patterns of language allowing the creation of a poetic discourse As readers of these poets apply techniques and theories of discourse analysis they reveal how poets borrow lift hijack or resituate words from one or more different genres to use as tools of political change Leonard engages with the critical toolboxes of content analysis semiosis and deconstruction to demonstrate how to critically investigate and interrogate the images sounds and words not just of politically engaged poets but also of any disseminator of culture and news Moving beyond theory into praxis this book becomes a model of its own transgressive premise by thinking analyzing writing and teaching against the grain Its focus on language as unbounded discourse makes this book a relevant and insightful demonstration in democratic pedagogy and in teaching for transformation
