German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski,Michael David Richardson,2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College The to Z of German Cinema Robert C. Theodor W. Adorno Detlev Claussen,2009-06-30 He was famously hostile to biography as a literary form And yet this life of Adorno by one of his last students is far more than literary in its accomplishments giving us our first clear look at how the man and his moment met to create critical theory An intimate picture of the quintessential twentieth century transatlantic intellectual the book is also a window on the cultural ferment of Adorno's day and its ongoing importance in our own The biography begins at the shining moment of the German bourgeoisie in a world dominated by liberals willing to extend citizenship to refugees fleeing pogroms in Eastern Europe Detlev Claussen follows Theodor Wiesengrund Adorno 1903 1969 from his privileged life as a beloved prodigy to his intellectual coming of age in Weimar Germany and Vienna from his exile during the Nazi years first to England then to the United States to his emergence as the Adorno we know now in the

perhaps not so unlikely setting of Los Angeles There in 1943 with his collaborator Max Horkheimer Adorno developed critical theory whose key insight that to be entertained is to give one's consent helped define the intellectual landscape of the twentieth century In capturing the man in his complex relationships with some of the century's finest minds including among others Arnold Schoenberg Walter Benjamin Thomas Mann Siegfried Kracauer Georg Lukács Hannah Arendt and Bertolt Brecht Claussen reveals how much we have yet to learn from Theodor Adorno and how much his life can tell us about ourselves and our time
