Kindergarten Narratives on Froebelian Education Helen May, Kristen Nawrotzki, Larry Prochner, 2016-11-03 Kindergarten Narratives on Froebelian Education showcases the latest scholarship and historical understandings concerning the casting of the kindergarten idea abroad across cultures continents and centuries Each chapter reveals previously unknown narratives of intrepid endeavour political pragmatism and pedagogical innovation that collectively provide insight into the transformation of Froebel's ideas on early education into a global phenomenon. Across global contexts each chapter presents a case study of the ideas scattering abroad illustrative of the movement of ideas, curricula and pedagogical change in effect taking the kindergarten beyond the geographies and pedagogies of its German beginnings and borders. Chapters draw on historical examples of Froebelian education from The Netherlands, New Zealand, Japan, Sweden, the UK and the USA. In the journal History of Education in 2006 Froebelian history scholar Professor Kevin J. Brehony (1948-2013) lamented the relative neglect of the history of early years education. At the same time there was a heightened global social and political interest in educating the young child. In this book an international team of contributors respond to Brehony's suggestion that historical perspectives can play a role in current debates and suggest ways historical narratives might inform policies and practices in twenty-first century early childhood education care settings and contexts. Reconnecting past lessons and insights with present and future concerns for early education, young children and their place in society, this important collection also includes an historical timeline charting the spread of Froebelian education ideas and kindergartens across the world.

The Bureaucracy of Beauty
Arindam Dutta, 2006-11-06. The Bureaucracy of Beauty is a wide-ranging work of cultural theory that connects literary studies, postcoloniality, the history of architecture and design and the history and present of empire. Professor Ananya Roy of UC Berkeley calls it a fantastic book and in many ways this is the best description of it. The Bureaucracy of Beauty begins with nineteenth-century Britain's Department of Science and Arts, a venture organized by the Board of Trade and how the DSA exerted a powerful influence on the growth of museums, design schools and architecture throughout the British Empire. But this is only the book's literal subject in a remarkable set of chapters. Dutta explores the development of international laws of intellectual property, ideas of design pedagogy, the technological distinction between craft and industry, the relation of colonial tutelage to economic policy, the politics and technology of exhibition and competing philosophies of aesthetics. His thinking across these areas is ignited by engagements with Benjamin Marx, Adam Smith and Jeremy Bentham, Kant, Mill, Ruskin and Gandhi. A rich study in the history of ideas of design and architecture and of cultural politics, The Bureaucracy of Beauty converges on the issues of present-day globalization. From nineteenth-century Britain to twenty-first-century America, The Bureaucracy of Beauty offers a theory of how things big things change.

The Block Scheduling Handbook
J. Allen Queen, 2008-12-19. A wonderful guide for school leaders as they create a contemporary schedule for middle and high school students to take advantage of a variety of curricular offerings. This second addition is comprehensive with numerous subject-centered examples and detailed specifics for those desiring to move to more advanced designs. It is no wonder why Queen is often referred to as the father of the new block schedule. Henry Peel Wachovia Distinguished Professor, East Carolina University. A comprehensive step-by-step handbook on making the most of block scheduling. Block scheduling is one of the most popular ways of restructuring the school day and schools engaged in some form of alternative scheduling have seen significant benefits This ready to use guidebook provides educators with the tools they need to design a successful block scheduling program that results in better student teacher rapport more in depth learning improved discipline higher morale and better grades Revised to include updated resources and a brand new overview on block scheduling this second edition provides Insightful discussions of elementary middle and high schools on the block including an in depth case study of an ideal elementary curriculum Three specific block schedule models the advantages and disadvantages of each and ways to find the best fit Classroom management and student centered instructional strategies for the block Guidance on curriculum alignment instructional evaluation and assessment methods Forms and sample lessons to get programs up and running For educators designing a new scheduling program or needing support for an existing one The Block Scheduling Handbook is the ideal resource

A Call for Character Education and Prayer in the Schools William H. Jeynes, 2009-11-24 This book offers an examination of the related topics of school prayer and character education in the United States advocating for their return to public schools According to William Jeynes the lack of both school prayer and consistent moral instruction in our schools has had devastating consequences both for our education system and for the nation as a whole In A Call for Character Education and Prayer in the Schools Jeynes makes a compelling case for restoring moral instruction and nonspecific religious moments to the classroom as a way of restoring a much needed moral grounding in American society in general A Call for Character Education and Prayer in the Schools traces the history of character education in the public schools including coverage of leading advocates of their inclusion from Thomas Jefferson to DeWitt Clinton to Horace Mann Jeynes then offers a broad survey of the country since the Supreme Court decisions of 1962 and 1963 asserting that most of America's greatest problems are moral in nature and could be addressed by making moral instruction and a focus on the spiritual a part of our young citizens school lives

□□□□□□□□, 1971 Women, Power Relations, and Education in a Transnational World Christine Mayer, Adelina Arredondo, 2020-05-06 This edited collection addresses the nexus of gender power relations and education from various angles while covering a broad spectrum of the history of education in both time and geographic space Taking the position that historians of gender and education find the concept of transnationalism very useful for a deeper understanding of historical change and situations the editors and their contributors employ a transnational perspective to explore the complex and entangled dimensions of a history of education that transcends regional and national boundaries through a variety of approaches e.g. through exploring new fields of research sources questions perspectives for interpretation or methodologies In doing so they also undertake to open up a transnational global perspective for the historiography of education

The Encyclopedia Americana, 1985 The Making of Geography as a Secondary School Subject John Mortimer, Tom O'Donoghue, 2021-06-02 No work has ever been produced previously that shows how historically geography has been constructed as a subject for the senior years of secondary schooling in Western Australia from 1917 to 1997 In doing so this book contributes to the existing corpus of international research on the history of curriculum and particularly the history of geography as a senior secondary school subject Much of it is based on primary sources including the textbooks and atlases used along with syllabus manuals and geography examination papers It also provides a framework for investigating the construction of senior secondary school geography curricula in other constituencies and could act as a model for engaging in further research in curriculum history for other school subjects state wide nationally and internationally The book also makes an important contribution to the fields of curriculum design curriculum development and curriculum innovation It will be of great interest to historians of education comparative educationists education leaders policy makers and librarians Papers on Froebel's Kindergarten Henry Barnard,1881 International Handbook of Early Childhood Education Marilyn Fleer,Bert van Oers,2017-10-10 This international handbook gives a comprehensive overview of findings from longstanding and contemporary research theory and practices in early childhood education in the Northern and Southern hemispheres The first volume of the handbook addresses theory methodology and the research activities and research needs of particular regions The second volume examines in detail innovations and longstanding programs curriculum and assessment and conceptions and research into child family and communities The two volumes of this handbook address the current theory methodologies and research needs of specific countries and provide insight into existing global similarities in early childhood practices By paying special attention to what is happening in the larger world contexts the volumes provide a representative overview of early childhood education practices and research and redress the current North South imbalance of published work on the subject Kindergarten and Child Culture Papers Henry Barnard,1884
