Feece, 2022-11-07 Book Cover Love Pride and Murder is a murder mystery taking place in New Hampshire primarily Concord and upstate near Hanover and Woodstock It is told in first person style by T B Stone a local private investigator TB is decidedly not hard boiled nor is he painfully rational Instead he tends to be intuitive conjuring up solutions inductively with the help of friends and colleagues The plot unfolds largely through encounters with others and is driven by relationships that form along the way As an example and as the novel progresses TB finds himself falling for his client Lucia who ultimately helps him pursue the case TB gets caught up with spies assassins and an assortment of unsavory deeds The solution to the mystery is less obvious than it may seem and in the end there is nothing cozy about it However cozy is as cozy does so most readers will find it comfortable reading Love between Men in English Literature Paul Hammond, 1996-11-12 This is the first book to provide an account of the representation of emotional and sexual relationships between men across English literature from the Renaissance to the modern period Based on new research but aimed at the student and the general reader Paul Hammond discusses major writers such as Marlowe and Shakespeare Tennyson and Wilde Forster and Lawrence but also introduces less familiar texts which cast light on the homosexual culture of their periods There is an extensive bibliography Love Trumps Grief Kristin Akin, 2012-06 The Complete Works of Rev. St. Andrew's Cross ,1910 Love's Knowledge Martha C. Nussbaum,1990 This volume brings together Nussbaum s published papers on the relationship between literature and philosophy especially moral philosophy The papers many of them previously inaccessible to non specialist readers deal with such fundamental issues as the relationship between style and content in the exploration of ethical issues the nature of ethical attention and ethical knowledge and their relationship to written forms and styles and the role of the emotions in deliberation and self knowledge Nussbaum investigates and defends a conception of ethical understanding which involves emotional as well as intellectual activity and which gives a certain type of priority to the perception of particular people and situations rather than to abstract rules She argues that this ethical conception cannot be completely and appropriately stated without turning to forms of writing usually considered literary rather than philosophical It is consequently necessary to broaden our conception of moral philosophy in order to include these forms Featuring two new essays and revised versions of several previously published essays this collection attempts to articulate the relationship within such a broader ethical inquiry between literary and more abstractly theoretical elements
