From Huts to Houses J. Rasmus Brandt, Lars Karlsson, 2001 Early states, territories and settlements in protohistoric Central Italy Peter Attema, Jorn Seubers, Sarah Willemsen, 2016-03-31 This volume is the second of the series Corollaria Crustumina aimed at the publication of conference proceedings doctoral theses and specialist studies concerning the Latin settlement of Crustumium Rome and Italian protohistory It contains multidisciplinary papers of an international group of archaeologists discussing new fieldwork data and theories of broad relevance to Italian archaeology and with specific relevance to the study of Crustumium's settlement cemeteries and material culture in light of the site's cultural identity

Continuity and Change in Etruscan Domestic Architecture Paul M. Miller, 2017-04-30 Etruscan architecture underwent various changes between the later Iron Age and the Archaic period This book reconsiders these changes by focusing on the building materials and techniques used in the construction of domestic structures

Remaking China's Great Cities Samuel Y. Liang, 2014-07-25 China's rapid urbanization has restructured the great socialist cities Beijing Shanghai and Guangzhou into mega cities that embrace global capitalism This book focuses on the urban transformations of these three cities Beijing is the nation's political and cultural capital Shanghai is the economic and financial powerhouse and Guangzhou is the capital of Guangdong Province and the regional center of south China All are historical cities with rich imperial colonial and regional heritages and all have been drastically transformed in the last six decades This book examines the cities' continuous urban legacies since 1949 in relation to state governance economic reforms and cultural production By adopting local historical perspectives it offers more nuanced accounts of the current urban change than the modernization globalization paradigm and conceptualizes the change in the context of the cities' socialist colonial and imperial legacies Specifically Samuel Y Liang offers an overview of the urban planning and territorial expansion of the great cities since 1949 explores the production and consumption of urban housing its spatial forms media representations and socio political implications and examines the state led redevelopment of old urban cores and residential neighborhoods and the urban conservation movement Remaking China's Great Cities will be of great interest to students and scholars working across a range of fields including Chinese studies Chinese culture and society urban studies and architecture

Etruscology Alessandro Naso, 2017-09-25 This handbook has two purposes it is intended 1 as a handbook of Etruscology or Etruscan Studies offering a state of the art and comprehensive overview of the history of the discipline and its development and 2 it serves as an authoritative reference work representing the current state of knowledge on Etruscan civilization The organization of the volume reflects this dual purpose The first part of the volume is dedicated to methodology and leading themes in current research organized thematically whereas the second part offers a diachronic account of Etruscan history culture religion art archaeology and social and political relations and structures as well as a systematic treatment of the topography of the Etruscan civilization and sphere of influence

The Oxford Handbook of Pre-Roman Italy (1000-49

BCE) Marco Maiuro, Jane Botsford Johnson, 2024 The Oxford Handbook of Pre Roman Italy provides a comprehensive account of the many peoples who lived on the Italian peninsula during the last millennium BCE. Written by more than fifty authors, the book describes the diversity of these indigenous cultures, their languages, interactions, and reciprocal influences. It gives emphasis to Greek colonization, the rise of aristocracies, technological innovations, and the spread of literacy, which provided the urban texture that shaped the history of the Italian peninsula. A Companion to Roman Italy Alison E.

Cooley, 2016-01-05 A Companion to Roman Italy investigates the impact of Rome in all its forms: political, cultural, social, and economic upon Italy's various regions, as well as the extent to which unification occurred as Rome became the capital of Italy. The collection presents new archaeological data relating to the sites of Roman Italy. Contributions discuss new theories of how to understand cultural change in the Italian peninsula. Combines detailed case studies of particular sites with wider ranging thematic chapters. Leading contributors not only make accessible the most recent work on Roman Italy but also offer fresh insight on long standing debates. New Perspectives on the Bronze Age Sophie Bergerbrant, Anna

Wessman, 2017-04-30 This collection of articles helps to explain why the Bronze Age has come to hold such a fascination within modern archaeological research. By providing new theoretical and analytical perspectives on the evidence, new interpretative avenues have opened. It situates the history of the Bronze Age in both a local and a global setting. Blood Ground Elizabeth Elbourne, 2002-12-03 Blood Ground traces the transition from religion to race as the basis for policing the boundaries of the white community. Elbourne suggests broader shifts in the relationship of missions to colonialism. As the British movement became less internationalist, more respectable, and more emblematic of the British imperial project, it shows that it is symptomatic that many Christian Khoekhoe ultimately rebelled against the colony. Missionaries across the white settler empire brokered bargains: B rights in exchange for cultural change, for example, B that brought Aboriginal peoples within the aegis of empire but ultimately were only partially and ambiguously fulfilled. The Archaeology of Etruscan Society Vedia Izzet, 2007-12-13 The late sixth century was a period of considerable change in Etruria. This change is traditionally seen as the adoption of superior models from Greece. In a re-alignment of agency, this book examines a wide range of Etruscan material culture: mirrors, tombs, sanctuaries, houses, and cities, in order to demonstrate the importance of local concerns in the formation of Etruscan material culture. Drawing on theoretical developments, the book emphasises the deliberate nature of the smallest of changes in material culture form and develops the concept of surface as a unifying key to understanding the changes in the ways Etruscans represented themselves in life and death. This concept allows a uniquely holistic approach to the archaeology of Etruscan society and has the potential for other archaeological investigations. The book will interest all scholars and students of classical archaeology. Historical Dictionary of the Etruscans Simon K.F.

Stoddart, 2009-06-16 The Etruscans were the creators of one of the most highly developed cultures of the pre-Roman Era. Having at one time control over a significant part of the Mediterranean, the Etruscans laid the foundation of the city of Rome.

They had their own language which has never been totally decoded and their art influenced such artists as Michelangelo While the Etruscans were eventually conquered by the Romans they left a rich culture behind The Historical Dictionary of the Etruscans relates the history of this culture focusing on aspects of their material culture and art history A chronology introductory essay bibliography appendix of museums and research institutes and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons places events and institutions provide an entry into a comparative study of the Etruscans

San Giovenale Lars Karlsson,2006 Chartered Municipal Engineer ,1919 Journal - Institution of Municipal Engineers Institution of Municipal Engineers (Great Britain),1920 Ceramics, Cuisine and Culture Michela Spataro,Alexandra Villing,2015-10-31 The 23 papers presented here are the product of the interdisciplinary exchange of ideas and approaches to the study of kitchen pottery between archaeologists material scientists historians and ethnoarchaeologists They aim to set a vital but long neglected category of evidence in its wider social political and economic contexts Structured around main themes concerning technical aspects of pottery production cooking as socioeconomic practice and changing tastes culinary identities and cross cultural encounters a range of social economic and technological models are discussed on the basis of insights gained from the study of kitchen pottery production use and evolution Much discussion and work in the last decade has focussed on technical and social aspects of coarse ware and in particular kitchen ware The chapters in this volume contribute to this debate moving kitchen pottery beyond the Binfordian technomic category and embracing a wider view linking processualism ceramic ecology behavioral schools and ethnoarchaeology to research on historical developments and cultural transformations covering a broad geographical area of the Mediterranean region and spanning a long chronological sequence The Archaeology of Late Bronze Age Interaction and Mobility at the Gates of Europe Francesco Iacono,2018-12-27 Interaction and mobility have attracted much interest in research within scholarly fields as different as archaeology history and more broadly the humanities Critically assessing some of the most widespread views on interaction and its social impact this book proposes an innovative perspective which combines radical social theory and currently burgeoning network methodologies Through an in depth analysis of a wealth of data often difficult to access and illustrated by many diagrams and maps the book highlights connections and their social implications at different scales ranging from the individual settlement to the Mediterranean The resulting diachronic narrative explores social and economic trajectories over some seven centuries and sheds new light on the broad historical trends affecting the life of people living around the Middle Sea The Bronze Age is the first period of intense interaction between early state societies of the Eastern Mediterranean and the small scale communities to the west of Greece with people and goods moving at a scale previously unprecedented This encounter is explored from the vantage point of one of its main foci Apulia located in the southern Adriatic at the junction between East and West and the entryway of one of the major routes for the resource rich European continent Chalkis Aitolias II Sanne Houby-Nielsen,2020-07-24 Homeric Chalkis is situated on the coast of Aetolia at the very gateway of the Gulf of Patras The foundation occurred during an important period in early Greek history when trade and movement of peoples along the Gulf intensified with a resulting strong pull to the coast Well preserved stratigraphies date the foundation to the early seventh century BC and testify to a flourishing settlement in the sixth century lasting till the early fifth century BC when the site was temporarily given up Walls and roads follow a rectilinear layout A broad spectre of pottery shapes and wares attest to innovative local and regional workshops already from the onset of the settlement Alongside the pottery tools for complex textile manufacture were found in all houses among which were many small pyramidal loom weights and spools These findings indicated a high degree of experimental weaving techniques and demonstrated how the courtyard house as a new house model was particularly well suited to accommodate this manufacture probably mantels The results therefore offer important new evidence on relations between gender behaviour and Greek houses The catalogue is richly illustrated with profile drawings plans black and white and colour photos and accompanied by discussions of the material

A Short History of the Etruscans Corinna Riva, 2020-12-10 Of all civilizations of the ancient Mediterranean it is perhaps the Etruscans who hold the greatest allure This is fundamentally because unlike their Greek and Latin neighbours the Etruscans left no textual sources to posterity The only direct evidence for studying them and for understanding their culture is the archaeological and to a much lesser extent epigraphic record The Etruscans must therefore be approached as if they were a prehistoric people and the enormous wealth of Etruscan visual and material culture must speak for them Yet they offer glimpses in the record left by Greek and Roman authors that they were literate and far from primordial indeed that their written histories were greatly admired by the Romans themselves Applying fresh archaeological discoveries and new insights A Short History of the Etruscans engagingly conducts the reader through the birth growth and demise of this fascinating and enigmatic ancient people whose nemesis was the growing power of Rome Exploring the discovery of the Etruscans from the Renaissance onwards Corinna Riva discusses the mysterious Etruscan language which long remained wholly indecipherable the Etruscan landscape the 6th century growth of Etruscan cities and Mediterranean trade Close attention is also paid to religion and ritual sanctuaries and monumental grave sites and the fatal incorporation of Etruria into Rome's political orbit

Indonesian Houses, 2022-06-20 The traditional houses and settlements of the several hundred ethnic groups of Indonesia are extremely varied and all have their own unique history Underlying this rich diversity are fundamental similarities rooted in the ancient heritage that is shared by all the peoples in the Indonesian field of study The multiplicity of ways in which this heritage is given shape in each local situation bears witness to an amazing creativity in adapting to regional circumstances and social changes Inter ethnic comparison of the architectural structures is a way to arrive at a better understanding of both the shared traditions and the diverging developments In many cases the variety of house forms will reflect successful attempts at one group's making distinct its buildings from those of neighbouring groups in an ongoing ethnic process of what could be called mutual contrasting although sometimes by means of pseudo traditions which have little to do with indigenous customs of the past The contributions to this volume are grouped in four sections The first consists of essays describing approaches to the transformation and variation of houses The second set presents applications of these approaches in case studies of specific Sumatran cultures The third group widens the perspective through the inclusion of a number of cultures from outside Sumatra namely from Flores Sulawesi Kalimantan Palu and Roti The final set deals not so much with houses as with settlements In their pursuit of the cultural dimension of houses the contributions focus on villages and towns exploring their cosmological and symbolic organization The Idea of Order Richard Bradley, 2012-10-11 Bradley s volume uses archaeological evidence to investigate the creation use and ultimate demise of circular architecture in prehistoric Europe Concerned mainly with the prehistoric period from the origins of farming to the early first millennium AD it considers the role of circular features across a wide geographical spectrum
