From Learning for Love to Love of Learning ,1969      From Learning for Love to Love of Learning Rudolf Ekstein,Rocco L. Motto,1969      Bettelheim David James Fisher,2008 Wallerstein M D Emeritus Professor and former Chair Department of Psychiatry University of California San Francisco School of Medicine These sparkling personal essays on Bettelheim a pathbreaker of modern ego psychology who has been savagely attacked and deprecated since his death seventeen years ago restore the man and his work in historical clinical and human context for the contemporary clinician and informed reader Fisher has done a splendid job of bringing this complex fascinating figure to life Peter J Loewenberg Ph D Professor of History and Political Psychology University of California at Los Angeles former Director of Education New Center for Psychoanalysis in Los Angeles David James Fisher has written a moving personal portrait of Bruno Bettelheim as thinker writer and friend      Research in Education ,1970      Psychoanalysis and the University Max Cavitch,2025-04-23 This book charts the past and present vicissitudes of psychoanalysis s relation to education and emphasizes on the necessity of its increased presence in university settings Why can fewer and fewer people afford either time intensive psychoanalytic psychotherapy or a three to four year college education Why have psychoanalytic teaching and research become so marginalized Where and how does psychoanalysis retain a foothold in academia In an era when the futures of both psychoanalysis and higher education seem evermore uncertain Psychoanalysis and the University argues for the need to overcome existing precarities and mutual resistances and suggests ways in which their prospects for survival could be reciprocally enhanced Each chapter surveys and interprets present conditions while arguing the necessity of supporting and expanding psychoanalytic teaching and research at both the undergraduate and graduate levels Drawing on Cavitch s deep understanding of both psychoanalysis and university settings this is essential reading for psychoanalysts university teachers and administrators and all students interested in how augmented psychoanalytic education could enhance their understanding of the world      Bibliography of the History of Medicine ,1972      National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1972 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70      The Learning Curve Judith Marks Mishne,1996 Dr Judith Mishne s book shows how to raise self reliant children who thrive at school Written for parents and for professionals working with children and their parents this book demonstrates that children s social development must be given paramount importance in order for them to achieve long term school success Particularly in the early years a child s sense of self and his or her ability to trust the environment are the qualities that need to be nurtured more than cognitive skills Dr Mishne shows parents how to be effective caregivers by knowing realistically what to expect from a child based on a well illustrated developmental timetable and an appreciation for individual differences From supporting bids for autonomy to structuring homework assignments she gives parents the know how for managing challenges She also dispels popular misconceptions about children that can impede healthy parent child interaction and child development Throughout Dr Mishne suggests how to engender in children independence self confidence and a sense of responsibility for themselves and their studies      Psychodynamic Perspectives on Working with Children, Families, and Schools Michael O'Loughlin,2012-12-08 With the push toward accountability and test performance in schools there has been a decline in emphasis on creativity imagination and feelings in schools Psychodynamic Perspectives on Working with Children Families and Schools is designed for students and professionals who are interested in restoring such values to their work with children There is an absence of psychoanalytic ways of thinking in conventional professional discourses of schooling With a few notable exceptions the discourses of child development classroom management early childhood education special education school psychology and school counseling have constructed notions of children and schooling that are often behaviorist instrumental and symptom focused Curriculum too often focuses on acquisition of knowledge and behaviors discipline is conceptualized as compliance and symptoms such as anger school resistance etc are pathologized and reacted to out of context children s special needs are often conceptualized instrumentally and children with complex psychological symptoms are delimited depersonalized or simply removed Professionals who work with children psychodynamically draw on diverse frameworks including the work of Anna Freud the long tradition of the Tavistock Clinic in London e g Anne Alvarez Susan Reid Margaret Rustin Frances Tustin etc the writings of Klein Winnicott and their colleagues French analysts e g Piera Aulagnier Didier Anzieu Laurent Danon Boileau Fran oise Dolto Maud Mannoni and Catherine Mathelin and Italian infant child analyst Alessandro Piontelli This work is valuable but often inaccessible to school professionals because the writing is somewhat specialized and because there is no tradition of teaching such work in professional preparation in those fields This collection is theoretically grounded in that the authors share a commitment to valuing children s emotions and understand the usefulness of psychoanalytic approaches for enhancing children s lives It is laden with examples to invite into this discussion those students and professionals who value these ideas but for whom this book may be their first introduction to progressive educational ideals and psychodynamic ways of working with children Psychodynamic Perspectives on Working with Children Families and Schools provides an introductory volume to open the door to the possibility of introducing psychodynamic frameworks to education and human service professors and school professionals and professionals working with children      An Introduction to the Collected Works of C. G. Jung Clifford Mayes,2016-03-24 An Introduction to the Collected Works of C G Jung Psyche as Spirit offers a concise and engaging overview of Jung s work and contributions to the field of psychology Mayes first examines Jung s philosophical influences as well as his work and eventual break with Sigmund Freud providing insights into how these experiences shaped Jung s theory Mayes brings into focus the major concepts and themes explored in Carl Gustav Jung s Collected Works including the ego Self Axis archetypes personality types and the Collective Unconscious presenting a thorough introduction and a valuable resource for both Jungian students as well as Jungian scholars      Resources in Education ,1970      Educating the

Emotions N.M. Szajnberg, 2013-11-11 These essays provide both an overview of Bruno Bettelheim's contributions to psychoanalysis and education and a reflection on present issues confronting child psychiatry education and the social sciences It will point to new directions for scholarly study and psychoanalytic intervention

Archetype, Culture, and the Individual in Education Clifford Mayes, 2020-03-16 In Archetype Culture and the Individual in Education The Three Pedagogical Narratives Clifford Mayes presents a unique approach to understanding how Jungian principles can inform pedagogical theory and practice In a time when what the educational historian Lawrence Cremin called the military industrial educational complex and its standardized education are running roughshod over the psyche and spirit of students Mayes deploys depth psychology especially the work of Jung to advance an archetypal approach to teaching and learning Mayes demonstrates how catastrophic it is to students when the classroom is governed by forces that objectify the individual in a paralysing stranglehold He argues that one's life narrative is significantly impacted by one's narrative as a learner thus schooling that commodifies learning and turns the student into an object has neuroticizing effects that will spread throughout that student's entire life In Part I Mayes explores the interaction between archetypes and various types of time ultimately focusing on the individual but always mediated by the cultural unconscious In Parts II and III he brings together education with post Jungian and post Freudian psychology examining transference countertransference in the classroom the Jungian idea of the shadow applied to educational processes Jung's unique vision of the symbol and its importance for educational theory and Jung's transcendent function as a prime educational modality Mayes concludes by looking to the future of archetypal pedagogy This groundbreaking work in the emerging field of Jungian pedagogy is invaluable reading in Jungian Studies depth psychological theory educational theory and for teachers and psychotherapists

The Language of Psychotherapy Rudolf Ekstein, 1989-01-01 Ekstein's book brings together papers on a number of themes which have occupied his thinking during the last 40 years In the Wiener Kreis the Vienna circle of philosophers he studied together with his professor Moritz Schlick the philosophy of science the analysis of language and the clarification of meaning Throughout his life he has always been inspired by the work of Ludwig Wittgenstein In the Vienna Psychoanalytic Institute his interest in psychotherapy and psychoanalysis was reinforced and he established for himself a bridge between the kind of thinking that looks for philosophical clarification and that which searches for psychological meaning The psychotherapeutic and psychoanalytic methods of psychological clarification depend on the language tools of the thinking process But these language tools referring now to different theories of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy in the various schools have their usefulness as well as their limitations Ekstein's chronological assessment allows us to arrive at a philosophical and psychological clarification of present psychotherapeutic and psychoanalytic schools

Learning Problems in the Classroom Marianne Frostig, Phyllis Maslow, 1973 This book concerns itself with the education of children with special learning problems To that end the child specifics of developmental status overall motivation and surrounding social
