Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot

From A Crooked Rib:

From a Crooked Rib Nuruddin Farah, 2006-06-27 Written with complete conviction from a woman's point of view Nuruddin Farah's spare shocking first novel savagely attacks the traditional values of his people yet is also a haunting celebration of the unbroken human spirit Ebla an orphan of eighteen runs away from her nomadic encampment in rural Somalia when she discovers that her grandfather has promised her in marriage to an older man But even after her escape to Mogadishu she finds herself as powerless and dependent on men as she was out in the bush As she is propelled through servitude marriage poverty and violence Ebla has to fight to retain her identity in a world where women are sold like cattle

From a Crooked Rib Farah Nuruddin, 2004 An Analytical Study of Nuruddin Farah's From a Crooked Rib and Sardines Fatameh Vafai, 1986 Emerging Perspectives on Nuruddin Farah Derek Wright, 2002 The first critical anthology of its kind this is an in depth look at Somalia's internationally acclaimed and award winning novelist Farah one of Africa's most multilingual and multi literal writers Although since his exile in 1974 he has been influenced by many cultural trends from around the world his writing is still very firmly rooted in the African continent which he has made his base since 1981

Daybreak is Near Ali Jimale Ahmed, 1996 In Daybreak is Near Literature Clans and the Nation State in Somalia Ali Jimale Ahmed examines the role literature has played in modern Somali society of the past half century The writer examines Somali literature both written and oral to trace the development of Somali nationalism as well as seek explanations for the disintegration of the post colonial Somali nation state Andindilile: The Anglophone Literary-Linguistic Co, 2023-01-10 Michael Andindilile in The Anglophone Literary Linguistic Continuum English and Indigenous Languages in African Literary Discourse interrogates Obi Wali's 1963 prophecy that continued use of former colonial languages in the production of African literature could only lead to sterility as African literatures can only be written in indigenous African languages In doing so Andindilile critically examines selected novels of Achebe of Nigeria Ngugi of Kenya Gordimer of South Africa and Farah of Somalia and shows that when we pay close attention to what these authors represent about their African societies and the way they integrate African languages values beliefs and cultures we can discover what constitutes the Anglophone African literary linguistic continuum This continuum can be defined as variations in the literary usage of English in African literary discourse with the language serving as the base to which writers add variations inspired by indigenous languages beliefs cultures and sometimes nation specific experiences Student Encyclopedia of African Literature Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot, 2007-12-30 African literature is a vast subject of growing output and interest Written especially for students this book selectively surveys the topic in a clear and accessible way Included are roughly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on writers genres and major works Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography Africa is a land of contrasts and of diverse cultures and traditions It is also a land of conflict and creativity The literature of the continent draws upon a fascinating body of oral traditions and lore and also reflects the political turmoil of the modern world With the increased interest in cultural diversity and the growing centrality of Africa in world politics African literature is figuring more and more prominently in the curriculum This book helps students learn about the African literary achievement Written expressly for students this book is far more accessible than other reference works on the subject Included are nearly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on authors such as Chinua Achebe Athol Fugard Buchi Emecheta Nadine Gordimer and Wole Soyinka major works such as Things Fall Apart and Petals of Blood and individual genres such as the novel drama and poetry Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography

Memoirs from the Women's Prison Nawāl Sa'dāwī, 1994-11-18 If Kafka had been a feminist his prisoner might have had Nawal el Sa adawi's feistiness maybe like her he would have hoed a prison garden led veiled and unveiled cellmates in rebellious calisthenics strategized with a murderess to foil state illogic This book gives me hope even makes me laugh Cynthia Enloe author of The Morning After

Dictionary of African Biography Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong, Professor Henry Louis Gates, Jr., 2012-02-02 From the Pharaohs to Fanon Dictionary of African Biography provides a comprehensive overview of the lives of the men and women who shaped Africa's history Unprecedented in scale DAB covers the whole continent from Tunisia to South Africa from Sierra Leone to Somalia It also encompasses the full scope of history from Queen Hatsheput of Egypt 1490 1468 BC and Hannibal the military commander and strategist of Carthage 243 183 BC to Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana 1909 1972 Miriam Makeba and Nelson Mandela of South Africa 1918

The Mayor of Mogadishu Andrew Harding, 2024-05-01 The true life story of Somalia's controversial politician Tarzan Nur interwoven with the history of the troubled African nation Part on the ground war reporting part investigative biography Harding's book captures both the fragile hopes and the appalling violence of Somalia The New York Times In The Mayor of Mogadishu one of the BBC's most experienced foreign correspondents Andrew Harding reveals the tumultuous life of Mohamoud Tarzan Nur an impoverished nomad who was abandoned in a state orphanage in newly independent Somalia and became a street brawler and activist When the country collapsed into civil war and anarchy Tarzan and his young family became part of an exodus eventually spending twenty years in north London But in 2010 Tarzan returned as Mayor to the unrecognizable ruins of a city now almost entirely controlled by the Islamist militants of Al Shabab For many in Mogadishu and in the diaspora Tarzan became a galvanizing symbol of courage and hope for Somalia But for others he was a divisive thug who sank beneath the corruption and clan rivalries that continue today to threaten the country's revival. The Mayor of Mogadishu is a rare insider's account of Somalia's unraveling and an intimate portrayal of one family's extraordinary journey. Africa can be explained in dry prose in figures in newspaper reports or it can be explained as Andrew Harding does in this book through an astonishing personal story, vivid and utterly memorable. This is a triumph of a book surprising, informative and humane. National bestselling author Alexander McCall Smith

Contemporary African Literature and the Politics of Gender Florence Stratton, 2020-09-23
The influence of colonialism and race on the development of African literature has been the subject of a number of studies. The effect of patriarchy and gender, however, and indeed the contributions of African women, have up until now been largely ignored by the critics. Contemporary African Literature and the Politics of Gender is the first extensive account of African literature from a feminist perspective. In this first radical and exciting work, Florence Stratton outlines the features of an emerging female tradition in African fiction. A chapter is dedicated to each of the works of four women writers: Grace Ogot, Flora Nwapa, Buchi Emecheta, and Mariama Ba. In addition, she provides challenging new readings of canonical male authors such as Chinua Achebe, Ngugi wa Thiong'o, and Wole Soyinka. Contemporary African Literature and the Politics of Gender thus provides the first truly comprehensive definition of the current literary tradition in Africa.

Reading Nuruddin Farah F. Fiona Moolla, 2014
A close analysis of Farah's novels is used to track the contradictions implicit in the notion of the modern disengaged self and how transformations of the novel in literary history attempt to negotiate this founding contradiction.
Getting Somalia Wrong? Mary Harper, 2012-02-09
Somalia is a failed state representing a threat to itself, its neighbours, and the wider world. In recent years, it has become notorious for the piracy off its coast and the rise of Islamic extremism, opening it up as a new southern front in the war on terror. At least that is how it is inevitably portrayed by politicians and in the media. Mary Harper presents the first comprehensive account of the chaos into which the country has descended and the United States renewed involvement there. In doing so, Harper argues that viewing Somalia through the prism of al Qaeda risks further destabilizing the country and the entire Horn of Africa, while also showing that though the country may be a failed state, it is far from being a failed society. In reality, alternative forms of business, justice, education, and local politics have survived and even flourished. Provocative in its analysis, Harper shows that until the international community starts to get it right, the consequences will be devastating, not just for Somalia but for the world.
