The background is a composite image. The upper portion features a classical profile of a man's head, possibly a philosopher or leader, rendered in a light blue, etched style. Behind the head is a faint, historical map of a region, likely the Mediterranean or North Africa, with various place names and geographical features. The lower portion of the image shows a landscape with green grass and a large, dark, craggy rock formation in the foreground. The overall color palette is dominated by blues, greens, and earthy tones.

The United States of War David Vine, 2020-10-13 2020 L A Times Book Prize Finalist History A provocative examination of how the U S military has shaped our entire world from today's costly endless wars to the prominence of violence in everyday American life The United States has been fighting wars constantly since invading Afghanistan in 2001 This nonstop warfare is far less exceptional than it might seem the United States has been at war or has invaded other countries almost every year since independence In The United States of War David Vine traces this pattern of bloody conflict from Columbus's 1494 arrival in Guantanamo Bay through the 250 year expansion of a global U S empire Drawing on historical and firsthand anthropological research in fourteen countries and territories The United States of War demonstrates how U S leaders across generations have locked the United States in a self perpetuating system of permanent war by constructing the world's largest ever collection of foreign military bases a global matrix that has made offensive interventionist wars more likely Beyond exposing the profit making desires political interests racism and toxic masculinity underlying the country's relationship to war and empire The United States of War shows how the long history of U S military expansion shapes our daily lives from today's multi trillion dollar wars to the pervasiveness of violence and militarism in everyday U S life The book concludes by confronting the catastrophic toll of American wars which have left millions dead wounded and displaced while offering proposals for how we can end the fighting Making Never-Never Land Mónica A. Jiménez, 2024-06-04

Puerto Rico has been an unincorporated territory of the United States for over a century For much of that time the archipelago has been mostly invisible to US residents and neglected by the government However a series of crises in the first two decades of the twenty first century from outsized debt to climate fueled disasters have led to massive protests and brought Puerto Rico greater visibility Mónica A Jiménez argues that to fully understand how and why Puerto Rico finds itself in this current moment of precarity we must look to a larger history of US settler colonialism and racial exclusion in law The federal policies and jurisprudence that created Puerto Rico exist within a larger pantheon of exclusionary race based laws and policies that have carved out states of exception for racial undesirables Native Americans African Americans and the inhabitants of the insular territories This legal regime has allowed the federal government plenary or complete power over these groups Jiménez brings these histories together to demonstrate that despite Puerto Rico's unique position as a twenty first century colony its path to that place was not exceptional Physical Education and Physical Culture in South Africa, 1837-1966

Francois Johannes Cleophas, 2024-10-17 The interconnectedness between sport and colonialism has long been a matter of interest to sport historians Consequently a large number of scholarly works exist on physical education and physical culture history but there is no significant work on this within a South African context both nationally and at community level This book therefore provides the first historical account of physical education and physical culture in Cape Town South Africa and its surrounding areas in the Western Cape Eastern Medieval Architecture Robert G. Ousterhout, 2019-08-26

The rich and diverse architectural traditions of the Eastern Mediterranean and adjacent regions are the subject of this book including the social and cultural developments of the Byzantine Empire the Caucasus the Balkans and Russia as well as parallel developments in Crusader and early Islamic architecture
