Education in the Developing World Conflict and Crisis Sarah Graham-Brown, 1991 , The City in the Developing World Robert B. Potter, Sally Lloyd-Evans, 2014-09-25 The City in the Developing World is a comprehensive and up to date introduction to urbanisation in developing countries The goal of this text is to place an understanding of the developing world city in its wider global context First this is done by developing the concept of social surplus product as a key to understanding the character of the contemporary Third World city Second throughout this text the city in developing areas is centrally placed in the context of global social economic political and cultural change Thus the important themes of globalisation modernity and postmodernity are examined both in relation to the structure of sets of towns and cities which make up the national or regional urban system and in respect of ideas and concepts dealing with the morphology structure and social patterning of individual urban areas The City in the Developing World is a core text for second and third year undergraduates in the fields of geography development studies planning economics and the social sciences taking options which deal with development issues development theory gender and development and Third World development

School Management and Effectiveness in Developing Countries Clive Harber, Lynn Davies, 2006-02-08 This book is quite different from existing Western books on school effectiveness It describes and analyses the way in which schools operate in developing countries and also tries to explain why they are as they are Examining them at three levels the macro the meso and the micro the authors use a theoretical framework that they have termed post bureaucracy The book has four interlinked sections First the authors examine the existing economic and theoretical contexts around school effectiveness including an analysis of the causes of economic crisis and its impact on school management In the second section the analysis of schools as bureaucratic facades is proposed The reality of school life from which any theory of school effectiveness must derive is illustrated by an ethnographic account of the job of the headteacher in developing countries The third section explores different ways to understand this reality operating on three levels global relationships national and community cultures and individual agency In the final section Harber and Davies draw these levels and realities together They argue for the democratization of schools as the only way forward for effective education for development

Education and Development in Central America and the Latin Caribbean D. Brent Edwards Jr., Mauro C. Moschetti, Pauline Martin, Ricardo Morales-Ulloa, 2025-03-18 Rooted in an international political economy theoretical framework this book provides unique insights into the global forces and local responses that are shaping education systems in Central America and the Latin Caribbean CALC The book covers all Spanish speaking countries of the CALC region and examines the effects of macro economic pressures geopolitical intervention neo colonial relationships global pandemics transnational gang networks and the influence of international organizations Chapters analyse the challenges and opportunities these global forces present to education systems in the region as well as highlighting the local efforts to address mitigate and counteract them In doing so the book illuminates how education can contribute to either maintaining or challenging inequalities and exclusion in the face of pressures from the global to local levels Education and International Development Clive Harber, 2014-05-05 This book is a comprehensive introductory text for those beginning their studies of the complex yet fascinating area of education and international development It sets out an overview of the main theories ideologies and issues of education in developing countries always with an eye to the contextual and practical realities of life in schools and other educational institutions The book takes a balanced yet critical approach and examines both positive and negative aspects of the many relationships between education and development It will be of use to undergraduate master s and doctoral students as well as to staff in higher education who teach on courses concerned with education and development and those who work in international institutions and non governmental organisations

The Oxford Handbook of the History of Education John L. Rury, Eileen Tamura, 2019 This handbook offers a global perspective on the historical development of educational institutions systems of schooling educational ideas and educational experiences Its 36 chapters consider the field s changing scholarship while examining particular national and regional themes and offering a comparative perspective Each also provides suggestions for further research and analysis

Globalization, Privatization, and the State D. Brent Edwards Jr., Mauro C. Moschetti, Alejandro Caravaca, 2022-08-16 This text explores how the dynamics of globalization and privatization have influenced State policy and impacted education reform in Honduras It makes the argument that understanding education reform in post colonial contexts requires that scholars go beyond a surface level description of such trends as privatization to consider in addition the ways that the logics practices and relationships that characterized colonialism continue to be embedded in the apparatus of modern States The first part of the volume documents historical trends and the evolution of privatisation in Honduras while the second part explicitly engages in an extended discussion of State theory before shifting to present a framework for depicting how these logics are the foundational layer upon which states and global governance have been constructed The framework draws upon scholarship from political economy world systems and post colonialism to depict the ethos of privatization at the core of post colonial States wherein what drives the system is private benefit in the interest of individuals and their networks but not in the interest of those outside the State Applying this unique framework to the case of Honduras and offering empirical analysis of the Honduran education sector the changing role and priorities of the State and the increasing involvement of international organizations NGOs and private actors in the provision of education the text increases understanding of how State theory interacts with broader global dynamics to impact education This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with a focus on international and comparative education policy analysis globalization and international development     Third International Handbook of Globalisation, Education and Policy Research Joseph Zajda, 2021-09-17 This handbook presents a global overview of current research in education and education policy reforms during the last decade. It provides an accessible practical and comparative source of current research that examines the intersecting and diverse discourses of this important issue. It first examines globalisation, education and policy research and reforms in higher education including coverage of main trends in education and policy reforms globally as well as specific policy issues such as gender equity, minorities and human rights. Next, the handbook offers a comparative perspective that evaluates the ambivalent and problematic relationship between globalisation, the state and education reforms globally. It features coverage on curricula issues and education reforms in schools around the world, the curriculum in the global culture as well as globalisation and education futures with respect to social justice and human rights. The handbook contributes to a better and a more holistic understanding of the education reforms and research nexus, offering possible strategies for the effective and pragmatic policy planning and implementation at the local, regional and national levels. It will serve as a vital sourcebook of ideas for researchers, practitioners and policy makers in education.     Education, Modern Development, and Indigenous Knowledge Seana McGovern, 2013-06-17 This book reconceptualizes the field of international and comparative education by utilizing indigenous knowledge as a central component for altering the dominant eurocentric social science research paradigm. Examples from indigenous sources of knowledge are juxtaposed to the dominant discourses on education and modern development in subaltern societies in order to provide scholars with alternative ways of viewing education and development and to shape how subaltern peoples are understood and represented in academic research. Bibliography Index

Peace Education in a Postmodern World Ian M. Harris, 2013-12-16 This special issue of the Peabody Journal of Education provides a comprehensive overview of the latest developments in peace education reform. School reforms based upon principles of peace education have in common a belief in the power of peace to create a positive learning climate in schools and to address the problems of violence in the broader culture. A peace education strategy for improving school productivity rests upon three main assumptions: 1. Violence contributes to the poor performance of many students. 2. Adults in school settings need to address problems created by violence in order for schools to improve. 3. Anxieties that make it hard for students to master traditional subject matter can best be addressed by a comprehensive peace education strategy that makes school a safe place to learn and provides students with knowledge about alternative nonviolent ways to resolve conflicts. Peace building reforms go beyond responding to immediate forms of violence that may be overwhelming students and teachers to promoting positive images of peace through the study of nonviolence. Written by established experts in the field of peace education from six different countries, this collection of articles not only represents a wide variety of peace education practices from different corners of the globe but it also represents varying academic perspectives. Educators can play a key role in helping human societies progress toward more sustainable ways of living by implementing peacemaking, peacekeeping and peace building strategies in school programs Peace education reforms point to a new way of thinking about schools as vehicles for promoting a peace culture through insights offered by nonviolent theory

Emerging Realities and the Future of Technology in the Classroom Jaafar, Inaya, Pedersen, James M., 2021-04-23 The COVID 19 pandemic has shed light on how much humans rely more than ever before in our history on technology While technology in its simplest definition is the use of a tool for a practical purpose in the last three decades educators can confidently say it has revolutionized how information is communicated and accessed Most importantly educators who had to recently shift their classes online understood the important role of technology to stay connected and instruct students remotely There are many different facets of technology in today s classrooms and ideas on where educators are headed in preparing their students for a technology rich world With new technologies being constantly developed and new scenarios rising to the surface in the educational environment the future of technology in the classroom is widespread consistently growing and always advancing with more technological reliance Emerging Realities and the Future of Technology in the Classroom provides an understanding on how technology is integrated into today s classroom and how institutions can be further informed of the importance of technology in today s world This book examines a variety of pertinent topics that look at the present and future potential roles of technology in the classroom While highlighting topics such as STEM in online education leadership and technology new instructional models in online learning and gaming in education this book is essential for teachers across all disciplines and in higher education and K 12 school administrators principals instructional designers librarians media specialists educational software developers educational technologists IT specialists practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in the current status of technology in the classroom and its potential role in education for the years ahead

Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 Parts one and two of this volume present the theoretical lenses used to study the social contexts of education These include long established foundations disciplines such as sociology of education and philosophy of education as well as newer theoretical perspectives such as critical race theory feminist educational theory and cultural studies in education Parts three four and five demonstrate how these theoretical lenses are used to examine such phenomena as globalization media popular culture technology youth culture and schooling This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study This book is appropriate as a reference volume not only for scholars in the social foundations of education but also for scholars interested in the cultural contexts of teaching and learning formal and informal It is also appropriate as a textbook for graduate level courses in Social Foundations of Education School and Society Educational Policy Studies Cultural Studies in Education and Curriculum and Instruction
