Paul's message on this topic and its coherence with the rest of his theology. Payne's exegetical examination of the Pauline corpus is thorough, exploring the influences on Paul, his practice as a church leader, and his teachings to various Christian communities. Paul's theology, instruction, and practice consistently affirm the equal standing of men and women with profound implications for the church today. Man and Woman One in Christ is required reading for all who desire to understand the meaning of Paul's statements regarding women and their relevance for Christian relationships and ministry today. This work has the potential of uniting the church on this contentious issue.

Spousal Violence Among World Christians Elizabeth Koepping, 2020-10-01 This book takes a global approach to violence between husbands and wives in faith contexts. Focusing primarily on Christians, the book uses anthropological, theological, and historical methods which intersect with and are challenged by lay and ordained women and men from sixteen countries. Focusing on marital violence, the book explores ways to understand how various churches, their priests, preachers, theologians, and members approach the topic, interpret the texts, and with often thoughtless complicity, hide from the sin. Drawing on over a decade researching marital violence in Christian contexts across five continents, Elizabeth Koepping, an anthropologist and priest, presents testimonies from abused women as well as theological and cultural justifications for spousal abuse employed by perpetrators and bystanders. She argues that if violence against the female spouse is understood as proper behaviour by many men towards unruly wives, Christians may set aside the core text: Men and women are made in the Image of God, enabling and silently colluding in abuse. The book shows that spousal abuse is an ecumenical phenomenon present all over the inhabited world and therefore in all Christian churches and indeed other faith traditions.

Complementarity Gregg Allison, 2025-05-15 In Complementarity, theologian Gregg Allison presents a fresh vision for understanding God's design for men and women as image bearers in the home, the church, and society. As a framework broader than either complementarianism and egalitarianism and underlying both of them, complementarity affirms the equal dignity, significant difference, and flourishing interdependence of men and women. Allison grounds his exploration of complementarity in the complex history of the relationship between women and men throughout church history as well as the contemporary contexts of feminism, complementarianism, patriarchalism, and egalitarianism. He examines relevant passages from the Old and New Testaments before offering theological considerations of gender and how all Christians fulfill the offices of prophet, priest, and king. Allison concludes by explaining how a robust understanding of complementarity fosters mutual flourishing for male and female image bearers. Allison offers a path forward for Christians who want to foster mutual support for male and female image bearers within their churches and communities.

Feminist Edges of the Qur'an Aysha A. Hidayatullah, 2014-04-01 Aysha Hidayatullah presents the first comprehensive analysis of contemporary feminist interpretations of the Qur'an. Synthesizing prominent feminist readings of the Qur'an in the United States since the late twentieth century, she provides an essential introduction to this nascent field of Qur'anic scholarship and engages in a deep investigation as well as a radical critique of its methods and approaches. With a particular focus on feminist impasses in the Qur'anic text she argues that many feminist interpretations rely on claims about feminist justice that are not fully supported by the text and she proposes a major revision to their exegetical foundations A provocative work of Muslim feminist theology Feminist Edges of the Qur'an is a vital intervention in urgent conversations about women and the Qur'an

The Motives of Self-Sacrifice in Korean American Culture, Family, and Marriage Chul Woo

Son, 2014-01-24 The concept of self sacrifice is highly important to Korean Americans With hierarchy of age social status and gender defined roles taking primacy over equality and justice self sacrifice becomes instrumental in maintaining family and social relationships Unfortunately in family relationships sacrifice has more to do with submission and endurance than it does with sacrificial service that is redemptive and mutually beneficial When self sacrifice carries hidden motives coercive responsibility obligation shame guilt or one's reputation that self sacrifice is not self giving neither serving nor being of mutual benefit In this context it is important to explore the attitudes and motives of self sacrifice in Korean American families In unlocking and exploring the dynamics of the theology and practice of self sacrifice for Korean Americans this book explores cultural virtues marital relationships gender inequality domestic violence and their theological implications The author introduces a new approach and model with a proposal for a healthier and a more judicious understanding of self sacrifice for Korean American family relationships The element of equal regard as pertaining to self sacrifice offers Korean Americans a refreshing hope in the perspective of familial relationships and a liberating casting off of culturally and religiously imposed burdens The Korean American family ought to be grounded on a love ethic of equal regard and place its value on mutuality self sacrifice and individual fulfillment When this is done sacrificial love can be understood as justly appropriated for both husbands and wives males and females and parents and children Thus Christian teaching and theology may deliver a more transparent message of true agape and its liberating effects for the marginalized especially women and children
