

A top-down photograph of two hands, palms up, holding two small, rectangular, cream-colored sticky notes. The left hand holds a sticky note with the words 'BAD NEWS' written in red, uppercase, sans-serif letters. The right hand holds a sticky note with the words 'GOOD NEWS' written in green, uppercase, sans-serif letters. The hands are positioned symmetrically against a plain, light gray background. The person's forearms, wearing a dark blue long-sleeved shirt, are visible at the top of the frame.

Good News, Bad News, Who Can Tell? Don Worth Ph.D.,2022-11-06 The title of this book comes from an ancient parable about a farmer who when greeted with fortune or misfortune has the same retort Good news bad news who can tell The parable provides some simple wisdom in approaching turbulence and catastrophe in life such as living through a pandemic This book offers a variety of touching stories lyrics and poems written by people who represent nine categories of those on the frontlines of the pandemic educators COVID survivors artists clergy those who lost loved ones students physicians restaurateurs and journalists from the U S and India regarding experiences lessons and wisdom they acquired A novel interpretation of the parable is presented as well as a framing a figure 8 that provides some perspective and guidance as we move through the various trials and tribulations of life and through challenges of mental illness and substance use There is also a chapter signs of the times which showcases a variety of creative and amusing signs that were all around us during the pandemic Even some clever bathroom signs The summary outlines lessons learned and wisdom gained by the editor from struggling through the pandemic in rural West Virginia as a psychotherapist on the frontlines and from reading the heartfelt stories and poems in the book And perhaps the most interesting feature of the book is the last chapter an opportunity to reflect and write your own lessons story poem and space for your photos to add to the documentation of this experience called the pandemic The Good News is the Bad News is Wrong Ben J. Wattenberg,1985 In search of the truth about the American condition the author examines the latest social economic attitudinal and demographic data Bad News, Good News Douglas W. Maynard,2003-05 When we share or receive good or bad news from ordinary events such as the birth of a child to public catastrophes such as 9 11 our old lives come to an end and suddenly we enter a new world In Bad News Good News Douglas W Maynard explores how we tell and hear such news and what s similar and different about our social experiences when the tidings are bad rather than good or vice versa Uncovering vocal and nonvocal patterns in everyday conversations clinics and other organizations Maynard shows practices by which people give and receive good or bad news how they come to realize the news and their new world how they suppress or express their emotions and how they construct social relationships through the sharing of news He also reveals the implications of his study for understanding public affairs in which transmitting news may influence society at large and he provides recommendations for professionals and others on how to deliver bad or good tidings more effectively For anyone who wants to understand the interactional facets of news delivery and receipt and their social implications Bad News Good News offers a wealth of scholarly insights and practical advice

Give Us This Day Charles Erlandson, 2011-08 Give Us This Day is a unique daily devotional commentary for the entire New Testament based on the ancient method called lectio divina Lectio divina or divine reading is the method used by the early church and countless Christians through the centuries to read the Scriptures to form and transform the soul more than merely to inform the mind Rather than writing a short devotional about a particular verse from a passage Give Us This Day deals in depth with entire passages and their contexts rather than selecting only certain portions of the New Testament to write about Fr Charles has written a devotional for each and every passage of the New Testament At the end of each day s devotional an appropriate Prayer is offered as well as Points for Further Reflection on the day s lesson Each devotional concludes with a suggested Resolution to put into effect what the Spirit has stirred up in the heart of the reader during the course of his reading meditation and prayer Matthew is the first volume of an eight volume series that will provide daily devotionals for every passage in the New Testament     Looking at Ourselves and Others ,1998 Looking at Ourselves and Others contains lesson plans activities and readings that help students understand components of their own culture and leads them to appreciate and understand differences between their culture and that of others Home page
