Medieval Art in the Christian West Victoria Charles,Klaus H. Carl,2020-02-27 September 4 476 A D marked the end of the Western Roman Empire After several centuries of prosperity Europe sank into chaos With Charlemagne a new dynamic begins that of a civilising reconstruction The Romanesque period is part of the rediscovery of this Roman Empire lost in memories but living on in the architectural testimonies of the cities and the countryside In art history Romanesque art refers to the period between the beginning of the 11th and the end of the 12th century This era was characterised by a great diversity of regional schools each practising their own unique style In architecture as well as in sculpture Romanesque art is marked by raw forms Through its rich iconography and captivating text this work endeavours to restore the importance of this art which is often overshadowed by the later Gothic style Gothic art is defined by the powerful architecture of the cathedrals of northern France It is a medieval art movement that evolved throughout Europe over 200 years Abandoning curved Roman forms the architects started using flying buttresses and pointed arches to open cathedrals to daylight A period of great economic and social change the Gothic era incorporated new iconography celebrating the Holy Mary a drastic contrast to the dismal themes of Roman times Full of rich changes in all of the various art forms architecture sculpture painting etc Gothic art paved the way for the Italian Renaissance and the International Gothic movement Art And Architecture In Medieval France Whitney S. Stoddard,2018-02-20 This is an English language study on the architecture and art of medieval France of the Romanesque and Gothic periods between 1000 1500 In addition to essays on individual monuments there are general discussions of given periods and specific problems such as why did Gothic come into being Whitney Stoddard explores the interrelationship between all forms of medieval ecclesiastical art and characterization of the Gothic cathedral which he believes to have an almost metaphysical basis Gothic Art Michael Camille,1996 When we look at the soaring spaces of Chartres cathedral or the shimmering pages of a gilded and painted manuscript we are witnesses to a new kind of vision In this radical reappraisal of Gothic art in Europe the word Gothic describes not only an art style but a changing concept of space time and society a new kind of perception both visual and spiritual in which light is of central importance Camille shows us how the art of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries was seen in its own time and explores the way vision itself was understood In this age of glorious painting magnificent intricate architecture and sculpture and jewellike manuscript illumination art was an expression of religious passion and earthly power of public and private wealth of science and learning The new vision led to an explosion of brilliant images but had its grim side rarely noticed by art history the distorted representation of others like Jews heretics and lepers a new vision not only of the marvelous but also of the grotesque

The Art of the West in the Middle Ages: Gothic art Henri Focillon,1969 How to Recognize Gothic Art Maria Cristina Gozzoli,1979 Explores the Gothic style featuring strict geometrical regularity and close attention to detail and its exemplification in architecture sculpture painting and the applied arts

Gothic Art 1140-c. 1450 Teresa Grace Frisch,1987-01-01 An anthology offering a chronological assessment of a whole range of technical documents on art written by and for clerks laymen churchmen lawyers city magistrates and guilds this text reveals differences in milieu customs resources and psychology during different periods First Published in 1971 by Prentice Hall

Understanding Art ,2000 Presents illustrated overviews of the architecture sculpture and painting of the Renaissance and Baroque periods also includes a glossary and a bibliography

Art Topics in the History of Sculpture, Painting and Architecture Charles Samuel Farrar,1903

Believing and Seeing Roland Recht,2008-10-15 Developments in medieval science that elevated sight above the other senses found religious expression in the Christian emphasis on miracles relics and elaborate structures In his incisive survey of Gothic art and architecture Roland Recht argues that this preoccupation with vision as a key to religious knowledge profoundly affected a broad range of late medieval works In addition to the great cathedrals of France Recht explores key religious buildings throughout Europe to reveal how their grand designs supported this profusion of images that made visible the signs of scripture Metalworkers for example fashioned intricate monstrances and reliquaries for the presentation of sacred articles and technical advances in stained glass production allowed for more expressive renderings of holy objects Sculptors meanwhile created increasingly naturalistic works and painters used multihued palettes to enhance their subjects lifelike qualities Reimagining these works as a link between devotional practices in the late Middle Ages and contemporaneous theories that deemed vision the basis of empirical truth Recht provides students and scholars with a new and powerful lens through which to view Gothic art and architecture
