Invisible Cathedrals Neil H. Donahue, 1995 Invisible Cathedrals places Wilhelm Worringer in the foreground of discussions of Expressionism and German Modernism for the first time These essays not only reveal the complexities of his individual works such as Abstraction and Empathy 1908 and Form Problems of the Gothic 1911 they also examine his lesser known books and essays of the post World War I years the 1920s and beyond Invisible Cathedrals offers both a basic introduction to Worringer's writings and their broad influence and a profound and detailed revisionist analysis of his significance in German and European Modernism It also provides the most comprehensive bibliography to date of his own work and of the scattered criticism devoted to Worringer in different disciplines Worringer's works were provocative widely read and often reprinted and were highly influential among artists and writers in Germany As a result they both raised suspicion in his own academic discipline of art history and excited discussion in other diverse fields such as literary and social theory psychology and film theory Worringer emerges here not solely as a scholarly commentator on the history of art but also as an activist scholar who engaged his historical criticism of other periods directly in the production of culture in his own time Contributors are Magdalena Bushart Neil H Donahue Charles W Haxthausen Michael W Jennings Joseph Masheck Geoffrey Waite and Joanna E Ziegler

Gothic architecture and scholasticism : Wimmer lecture, 1948 Erwin Panofsky, 1951 The Spatial Logic of Social Struggle Nikolaus Fogle, 2011-04-07 Pierre Bourdieu's theory of practice is widely regarded as among the most innovative and illuminating fruits of recent social thought As evidence mounts that the spatial turn in the social sciences and humanities is no mere theoretical fad but rather an enduring paradigm of social and cultural research Bourdieu's status as a profoundly spatial thinker takes on a renewed importance The Spatial Logic of Social Struggle A Bourdieuan Topology focuses on Bourdieu's philosophy of space arguing that space is at once a condition for social knowledge a methodological instrument and a physical context for practice By considering Bourdieu's theory of social space and fields alongside his several accounts of socially potent physical spaces Nikolaus Fogle develops an understanding of the systematic co-determinations between social and physical space He traces Bourdieu's ideas about the spatiality of social life through his investigations of Algerian peasant villages and Gothic cathedrals as well as spaces of class lifestyle and cultural creation revealing that social and environmental struggles are only logical insofar as they are topological He also demonstrates how a Bourdieuan dialectical understanding of social and physical space can be brought to bear on contemporary issues in architecture and urban development This book will be useful and accessible not only to philosophers but also to architects geographers sociologists

Medieval Christianity Kevin Madigan, 2015-01-13 An engaging narrative history of the medieval church with new attention to women ordinary parishioners attitudes toward Jews and Muslims and more Publishers Weekly starred review For many the medieval world seems dark and foreign an often brutal and seemingly irrational time of superstition miracles and strange relics The aggressive pursuit of heretics and attempts to control the Holy Land might come to mind Yet the medieval world produced much that is part of our world today including universities the passion for Roman architecture and the development of the gothic style pilgrimage the emergence of capitalism and female saints This new narrative history of medieval Christianity spanning the period 500 to 1500 CE attempts to integrate the familiar with new themes and narratives Elements of novelty in the book include a steady focus on the role of women in Christianity the relationships among Christians Jews and Muslims the experience of ordinary parishioners the adventure of asceticism devotion and worship and instruction through drama architecture and art Kevin Madigan expertly integrates these areas of focus with more traditional themes such as the evolution and decline of papal power the nature and repression of heresy sanctity and pilgrimage the conciliar movement and the break between the old Western church and its reformers Illustrated with more than forty photographs of physical remains this book promises to become an essential guide to a historical era of profound influence Compelling a picture of medieval Christianity that is no less lively for being well informed and carefully balanced

Commonweal Rage and Denials Branko Mitrović, 2015-08-13 In Rage and Denials philosopher and architectural historian Branko Mitrović examines in detail the historiography of art and architecture in the twentieth century with a focus on the debate between the understanding of society as a set of individuals and the understanding of individuals as mere manifestations of the collectives to which they belong The conflict between these two views constitutes a core methodological problem of the philosophy of history and was intensely debated by twentieth century art historians one of the few art historical debates with a wide range of implications for the entire field of the humanities Mitrović presents the most significant positions and arguments in this dispute as they were articulated in the art and architectural historical discourse as well as in the wider context of the historiography and philosophy of history of the era He explores the philosophical content of scholarship engaged in these debates examining the authors positions the intricacies and implications of their arguments and the rise and dominance of collectivist art historiography after the 1890s He centers his study on the key art historical figures Erwin Panofsky Ernst Gombrich and Hans Sedlmayr while drawing attention to the writings of the less well known Vasily Pavlovich Zubov Rage and Denials offers a valuable window onto how key aspects of modern research in the humanities took shape over the course of the twentieth century Theology in Built Environments Sigurd

Bergmann,2017-07-12 Built space is both a physical entity as well as a socially and historically constructed place It constantly interacts with human beings affecting their behavior thinking and feeling Doing religious work in a particular environment implies acknowledging the surroundings to be integral to theology itself The contributors to this volume view buildings scriptures conversations prayers preaching artifacts music and drama and built and natural surroundings as contributors to a contextual theology The view of the environment in which religion is practiced as integrated with theology represents not just a new theme but also a necessity if one is to understand religion s own depth Reflections about space and place and how they reflect and affect religious experience provide a challenge and an urgent necessity for theology This is particularly important if religious practitioners are to become aware of how theology is given expression in the existential spatiality of life Can space set theology free This is a challenging question one that the editor hopes can be answered at least in part in this volume The diversity of theoretical concepts in aesthetics cultural theory and architecture are not regarded as a problem to be solved by constructing one overarching dominant theory Instead this diversity is viewed in terms of its positive potential to inspire discourse about theology and aesthetics In this discourse theology does not need to become fully dependent on one or another theory but should always clearly present its criteria for choosing this or that theoretical framework This volume shows clearly how different modes of design in sacred spaces capture a sense of the religious
