Gourman Report A Rating Of Undergraduate Programs:

The Gourman Report Jack Gourman,1996 This popular guide evaluates the strengths and weaknesses of American and international institutions of higher education assigning each a precise numerical score Up to date statistical tables identify the top undergraduate programs in more than 150 separate fields of study The Gourman Report Jack Gourman,1989 Here is an indispensable guide for college students their parents and counselors offering up to date information on the top undergraduate programs in more than 100 separate fields with evaluations of each school and program The Gourman Report Jack Gourman,2009 The Gourman Report Jack Gourman,1997 The complex rating criteria Jack Gourman devised to rank major and degree programs have become the professional standard among academic counselors college administrators and licensing authorities GRADUATE PROGRAMS ranks the top 105 U S graduate and top 49 international programs It also features an appendix rating the quality of research facilities at schools in the U S The Gourman Report Jack Gourman,2006 Education Nancy Patricia O'Brien,Robert H. Burger,2000-01-15 Focusing on English language publications of the last decade this guide identifies and describes key reference and information sources in the field of education today In addition to general reference sources O'Brien covers major social science reference sources that have a direct or overlapping relationship to education Nearly 500 entries are arranged by subject and type of work Most are new to this work For example there are now a number of Internet sources with URL addresses and an increased number of journals which reflects the increasing reliance on periodicals as information sources The book has also been completely reorganized with new chapters covering Educational Technology and Media Multilingual and Multicultural Education Adult Alternative Continuing and Distance Education Curriculum Instruction and Content areas Educational Research Measurement and Testing and so forth Excluded are lists of education associations and organizations general social science reference Grading the College Scott M. Gelber,2020-06-23 A comprehensive history of evaluation in American higher education In Grading the College Scott M Gelber offers a comprehensive history of evaluating teaching and learning in higher education He complicates the conventional narrative that portrays evaluation as a newfangled assault on the integrity of higher education while acknowledging that there are many compelling reasons to oppose those practices The evaluation of teaching and learning Gelber argues presented genuine dilemmas that have attracted the attention of faculty members and academic leaders since the 1920s Especially during the peak era of faculty authority that followed the end of the Second World War significant numbers of professors and administrators believed that evaluation might improve institutional performance reduce the bias inherent in traditional methods of supervision strengthen communication with laypersons and encourage a more deliberate focus on the distinctive goals of college Gelber reveals the extent to which professors and academic interest groups participated in the development of our most common evaluation instruments including student course questionnaires achievement tests surveys rubrics rankings and accreditation self studies Although these efforts may seem distant from the present era of shortsighted scrutiny and ill conceived comparisons Gelber demonstrates that the evaluation of college teaching and learning has long consisted of a set of intellectually sophisticated questions that have engaged and could continue to engage faculty members and their advocates By providing a deeper understanding of how evaluation operated before the dawn of high stakes accountability Grading the College seeks to promote productive conversations about current attempts to define and measure the purposes of American higher education and Education, Center for Education, Committee on Programs for Advanced Study of Mathematics and Science in American High Schools, 2002-09-06 This book takes a fresh look at programs for advanced studies for high school students in the United States with a particular focus on the Advanced Placement and the International Baccalaureate programs and asks how advanced studies can be significantly improved in general It also examines two of the core issues surrounding these programs they can have a profound impact on other components of the education system and participation in the programs has become key to admission at selective institutions of higher education By looking at what could enhance the quality of high school advanced study programs as well as what precedes and comes after these programs this report provides teachers parents curriculum developers administrators college science and mathematics faculty and the educational research community with a detailed assessment that can be used to guide change within advanced study programs Our Cherished Halls of Ivy Phillip L. Beukema, 2022-10-10 Higher education has both supporters and detractors although not in equal numbers Some would have us believe that our higher education enterprise is on the brink of disaster that it's falling apart at the seams Some go so far as to call the system broken beyond repair suggesting that it be rebuilt from the ground up Can it be this bad Drawing on his long experience in higher ed administration the author examines the sea change that's affected nearly every corner of the higher learning landscape These corners include the high and rising costs of tuition the crushing levels of student debt the shamefully low graduation rates in too many schools the growing million dollar clubs whose members include university presidents and football and basketball coaches the inadequacies of accreditation and the growing influence of partisan politics in the conduct of our public universities That's for starters With an insider's perspective the author paints a picture that is up front and honest laying bare the depth and extent of specific problems confronting that crucial engine of our economy higher education In each case he spells out what needs a tune up and what needs something closer to an overhaul Of course he offers specific proposals for fixing those problems They're likely to be controversial but the author hopes they spark a debate that ultimately leads to productive solutions Phoebe Apperson Hearst Alexandra M. Nickliss, 2018-05-01 In Phoebe Apperson Hearst A Life in Power and Politics Alexandra M Nickliss offers the first biography of one of the Gilded Age's most prominent and powerful women A financial manager businesswoman and reformer Phoebe Apperson Hearst was one of the wealthiest and most influential women of the era and a philanthropist almost without rival in the San Francisco Bay Area Hearst was born into a humble middle class family in rural Missouri in 1842 yet she died a powerful member of society's urban elite in 1919 Most people know her as the mother of William Randolph Hearst the famed newspaper mogul and as the wife of George Hearst a mining tycoon and U S senator By age forty eight however Hearst had come to control her husband's extravagant wealth after his death She shepherded the fortune of the family estate until her own death demonstrating her intelligence and skill as a financial manager Hearst supported a number of significant urban reforms in the Bay Area across the country and around the world giving much of her wealth to organizations supporting children health reform women s rights and well being higher education municipal policy formation progressive voluntary associations and urban architecture and design among other endeavors She worked to exert her ideas and implement plans regarding the burgeoning Progressive movement and was the first female regent of the University of California which later became one of the world s leading research institutions Hearst held other prominent positions as the first president of the Century Club of San Francisco first treasurer of the General Federation of Woman s Clubs first vice president of the National Congress of Mothers president of the Columbian Kindergarten Association and head of the Woman s Board of the Panama Pacific International Exposition Phoebe Apperson Hearst tells the story of Hearst s world and examines the opportunities and challenges that she faced as she navigated local national and international corridors of influence rendering a penetrating portrait of a powerful and often contradictory woman
