Society has always been fixated on looks and celebrities but how we look has deep ramifications for ordinary people too In this book Bonnie Berry explains how social inequality pertains to prejudice and discrimination against people based on their physical appearance This form of inequality overlaps with other better known forms of inequality such as those that result from sexism racism ageism and classism Social inequality regarding looks is notable in a number of settings work medical treatment romance and marriage to mention a few It is experienced as limitations on access to social power Berry discusses the pressures to be attractive and the methods by which we strive to alter our appearance through plastic surgery cosmetics and the like Berry also discusses cultural factors such as the manner in which globalization of media advertisements and movies have trended toward homogenization whereby we are all encouraged to appear tall thin white and with Northern European features even if we are none of those things She also analyzes the underlying social forces such as economic incentives that on the one hand channel us to be as physically acceptable as possible via the sale of diet pills and skin lighteners and on the other hand encourage us to accept ourselves as we are by selling us plus size clothing The book concludes with suggestions for equal rights extended to all regardless of appearance Here Berry describes budding social movements and grassroots endeavors toward an acceptance of looks diversity

Beauty Up Laura Miller, 2006-07-15 This engaging introduction to Japan's burgeoning beauty culture investigates a wide range of phenomenon aesthetic salons dieting products male beauty activities and beauty language to find out why Japanese women and men are paying so much attention to their bodies Laura Miller uses social science and popular culture sources to connect breast enhancements eyelid surgery body hair removal nipple bleaching and other beauty work to larger issues of gender ideology the culturally constructed nature of beauty ideals and the globalization of beauty technologies and standards Her sophisticated treatment of this timely topic suggests that new body aesthetics are not forms of deracialization but rather innovative experimentation with identity management While recognizing that these beauty activities are potentially a form of resistance Miller also considers the commodification of beauty exploring how new ideals and technologies are tying consumers even more firmly to an ever expanding beauty industry By considering beauty in a Japanese context Miller challenges widespread assumptions about the universality and naturalness of beauty standards

God's Beauty Patrick T. McCormick, 2012 What if we began our study of Christian ethics not with an examination of our moral duties but with an exploration of the call of beauty For like justice beauty generates a call to a larger more generous self In Gods Beauty Patrick McCormick asks How does the beauty of the righteous community manifest the glory of God How can we imitate and improve this beauty by reforming our own societies What fundamental need and right do all of us especially the poor have to experience and create beauty in our lives and communities Why is it also essential to our own humanity that we recognize and treasure the beauty of the stranger alien and foe and resist every effort to render these unrecognized neighbors ugly McCormick offers a fresh positive approach to moral arguments calling us to work for social justice Instead of laying out the evils of failing to work for justice protect human rights overcome alienation and hostility or tend to the earth Gods Beauty focuses on the calling of divine beauty summoning us to be tenders and creators of beauty

Beauty in African Thought Angela Roothaan, Bolaji Bateye, Mahmoud Masaeli, Louise Müller, 2023-03-20 A 2023 Choice Reviews Outstanding Academic Title Beauty in African Thought A Critique of the Western Idea of Development investigates how the concept of beauty in African philosophy and related qualitative social sciences may contribute to a richer intercultural exchange on the idea of development While working within frameworks created in post colonial and arguably neo colonial times African thinkers have reacted against the mainstream view that restricts the meaning and scope of good development to economic growth and western style education These thinkers have worked toward a critical self understanding of the potentials inherent in cultural spiritual and political traditions since pre colonial times Edited by Bolaji Bateye Mahmoud Masaeli Louise Müller and Angela Roothaan this collection explores branches of thought from wisdom or oral traditions to political thought and philosophy of culture This book is urgent reading material for any policy maker scholar or student wishing to attend to the voices of Africanist thinkers who search for alternative approaches to global questions of development in a time of climate change and increasing socioeconomic inequality
