Government Budgeting George M. Guess, 2015-06-01 Practitioner oriented sampling of the major tools used to deal with current public sector fiscal issues Directed at state and local financial managers Government Budgeting presents in a short and succinct manner a sampling of the major tools used to deal with current fiscal problems George M Guess provides examples from a number of states and localities and explains how to use them in diverse situations At the end of each chapter cases exercises and or questions are provided for further study The chapters cover the major topics needed by today s practitioners core concepts and definitions of budgeting and financial management how to analyze the revenue budget and evaluate revenue sources how one might plan expenditures and prepare an annual request how capital projects should and should not be planned analyzed compared placed into a capital improvements program and financed and the critical topic of budget implementation Without claiming that practical tools can resolve every problem the book suggests that if all stakeholders used such analytic tools the outcomes might be better for the general welfare

Revised Guide on Resource Revenue Transparency International Monetary Fund, 2007-04-20 The Guide which is a companion document to the IMF s Code of Good Practices on Fiscal Transparency 2007 has been revised to reflect the new Code and to provide more recent examples of good practice by individual countries The Guide applies the good practices of the Code to the unique set of transparency issues faced by countries that derive a significant share of revenues from natural resources It addresses issues arising both from the sheer size and volatility of such resources and the technical complexity of the transaction flows The Guide supplements the Manual on Fiscal Transparency 2007

Research Handbook on International Energy Law Kim Talus, 2014-04-25 International energy law is an elusive but important concept There is no body of law called international energy law nor is there any universally accepted definition for it yet many specialised areas of international law have a direct relationship Implementing the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative ,2008-01-01 This book contains statistical snapshots for 195 countries and 13 regional and income groups The 200 tables each focused on one country region or income group explore immigration emigration and skilled emigration and inward and outward remittance flows Summary reports on the top 10 countries in each category are also included Mineral Rents and the Financing of Social Policy Katja Hujo,2012-05-30 An exploration of the implications of mineral led wealth and the opportunities that this creates for economic and social development The book includes theoretical and policy analyses as well as micro level country case studies including Norway Chile Indonesia Nigeria and Botswana Contemporary Issues on Governance, Conflict and Security in Africa Adeoye O. Akinola,2023-05-25 This edited volume reflects on some of the important discussions on the trends of governance conflict and security in Africa It explores some of the emerging concerns and offers a holistic understanding of the remote and immediate causes of the conflict and how the neo colonial African states have been structured in a manner that makes violent conflict inevitable The book thereby provides an overview of Africa s security challenges and proffers some sustainable policy options for curtailing lawlessness and armed conflict on the continent Literature is exhaustive about the nexus between governance peace and security however discourse on the impact of new conflict on governance has been scant Understanding these new trends has become a necessity and precondition for sustainable development as reflected in both the African Union AU Agenda 2063 and the United Nations UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Material Politics Andrew Barry,2013-09-23 In Material Politics author Andrew Barry reveals that as we are beginning to attend to the importance of materials in political life materials has become increasingly bound up with the production of information about their performance origins and impact Presents an original theoretical approach to political geography by revealing the paradoxical relationship between materials and politics Explores how political disputes have come to revolve not around objects in isolation but objects that are entangled in ever growing quantities of information about their performance origins and impact Studies the example of the Baku Tbilisi Ceyhan oil pipeline a fascinating experiment in transparency and corporate social responsibility and its wide spread negative political impact Capitalizes on the growing interdisciplinary interest especially within geography and social theory about the critical role of material artefacts in political life

Enacting the Corporation Marina Welker,2014-03-21 What are corporations and to whom are they responsible Anthropologist Marina Welker draws on two years of research at Newmont Mining Corporation s Denver headquarters and its Batu Hijau copper and gold mine in Sumbawa Indonesia to address these questions Against the backdrop of an emerging Corporate Social Responsibility movement and changing state dynamics in Indonesia she shows how people enact the mining corporation in multiple ways as an ore producer employer patron promoter of sustainable development religious sponsor auditable organization foreign imperialist and environmental threat Rather than assuming that corporations are monolithic profit maximizing subjects Welker turns to anthropological theories of personhood to develop an analytic model of the corporation as an unstable collective subject with multiple authors boundaries and interests Enacting the Corporation demonstrates that corporations are constituted through continuous struggles over relations with and responsibilities to local communities workers activists governments contractors and shareholders

Ecological Dimensions for Sustainable Socio Economic Development

A. Yáñez-Arancibia, R. Dávalos-Sotelo, J. W. Day, 2014-05-13 This book fills a gap in the literature on environmental sustainability by addressing the topic from the perspective of social and economic development Progress in understanding and achieving sustainability requires the integration of scientific social economic and legal issues Yet progress in understanding and achieving sustainability will only be achieved through integration of scientific social economic and legal aspects A treatise on environmental sustainability should raise the current state of knowledge by proposing and recommending decision making efforts and breaking new ground with agendas aimed for the younger generation These younger scientists will be confronted with future uncertainty related to the set of crises that characterise the 21st Century e g ecological social food energy environmental climatic financial etc Currently there are a number of indicators that demonstrate that ecological conditions are being compromised globally These include reduced primary productivity reduction in biological complexity spreading pollution such as eutrophication ecological degradation in any continental basin coastal sea ecosystem reduction in biodiversity lowered resilience and slow recovery of damaged ecosystems and reduced ecological integrity All of these problems are related to social and economic pressure The challenge for most ecological systems is not only to establish the baseline for current ecosystem conditions but also to explore options for recovery and sustainability The latter involves ecological restoration where ecosystem and environmental services are maintained and enhanced These services are essential to social integration and economic development This book not only introduces a theoretical and conceptual framework for the topic but also analyses the uncertainty for sustainability because of dwindling natural resources It includes contributions providing a basis for public policies case studies integrating concepts and tools for solutions and a set of position papers addressing new agenda topics that will shape the 21st century The book will be useful for researchers professors and students alike as well as for all stakeholders from social economic and academic sectors
