Gerhard Richter Gerhard Richter, Martin Hentschel, Helmut Friedel, 1998 Catalogue raisonné Gerhard Richter - the Art of the Impossible - Paintings 1964-1998 Gerhard Richter, Jutta Nestegard, 1999-01-01 Gerhard Richter Robert Storr, Gerhard Richter, 2002 Tour of the exhibition the Museum of Modern Art New York Feb 14 May 21 2002 and others

Gerhard Richter Dietmar Elger, 2009 This fascinating book offers unprecedented insight into artist Gerhard Richter's life and work From his childhood in Nazi Germany to his time in the West during the turbulent 1960s and 70s this work presents a complete portrait of the often reclusive Richter Gerhard Richter Gerhard Richter, Haus der Kunst München, Museum Ludwig, 2008 Talking to art historian Benjamin Buchloh in 1988 Gerhard Richter cited the appearances of Jackson Pollock and Lucio Fontana at the second Documenta in Kassel in the late 50s as decisive encounters for his then incipient art Just a few years later Richter would style himself as a German Pop artist but in the 80s he returned to pure abstraction for its possibilities of bitter truth liberation and a completely different and new content expressing itself His abstract paintings present a heavily worked surface blurred and scraped to both veil and expose prior layers In other words they manage a tension between depth layer and strong horizontal activity blur Unlike much heavily worked abstraction and in spite of their scale their total effect is not heroic Richter's almost deadpan process oriented transparency cancels out such chest beating but the artist that responded to the direct energies of Pollock's work has clearly found a way some decades later to conjure both zest and detachment simultaneously Abstraction has made up a dominant portion of Richter's output since the 80s inaugurating a fruitful dialectic with figuration and Large Abstracts collects works produced between 1986 and 2006 For this volume Buchloh once described by former Museum of Modern Art New York curator and current Dean of the Yale School of Art Robert Storr as the artist's longtime sparring partner returns to the fray and along with Beate Stnjen and Gregor Stemmrich offers critical insight on this iconic oeuvre Gerhard Richter, Editions 1965-2004 Gerhard Richter, 2004 Compiled through intensive research over a period of many years by art historian Hubertus Butin Richter's former assistant this collection of full color and black and white illustrations is accompanied by basic texts that shed new light on the significance of the German artist's work Flesh of My Flesh Kaja Silverman, 2009-10-28 What is a woman What is a man How do they and how should they relate to each other Does our yearning for wholeness refer to something real and if there is a Whole what is it and why do we feel so estranged from it For centuries now art and literature have increasingly valorized uniqueness and self sufficiency The theoreticians who loom so large within contemporary thought also privilege difference over similarity Silverman reminds us that this is but half the story and a dangerous half at that for if we are all individuals we are doomed to be rivals and enemies A much older story one that prevailed through the early modern era held that likeness or resemblance was what organized the universe and that everything emerges out of the same flesh Silverman shows that analogy so discredited by much of twentieth century thought offers a much more promising view of human relations In the West the emblematic story of turning away is that of Orpheus and Eurydice and the heroes of Silverman's sweeping new reading of nineteenth and twentieth century culture the modern heirs to the old analogical view of the world also gravitate to this myth They embrace the correspondences that bind Orpheus to Eurydice and acknowledge their kinship with others past and present The first half of this book assembles a cast of characters not usually brought together Friedrich Nietzsche Sigmund Freud Marcel Proust Lou Andr  as Salom Romain Rolland Rainer Maria Rilke Wilhelm Jensen and Paula Modersohn Becker The second half is devoted to three contemporary artists whose works we see in a moving new light Terrence Malick James Coleman and Gerhard Richter

Uncertain Histories Kate Palmer Albers, 2015-07-21 The compulsion to dwell on history on how it is recorded stored saved forgotten narrated lost remembered and made public has been at the heart of artists' engagement with the photographic medium since the late 1960s Uncertain Histories considers some of that work ranging from installations that incorporate vast numbers of personal and vernacular photographs by Christian Boltanski Dinh Q L and Gerhard Richter to confrontations with absence in the work of Joel Sternfeld and Ken Gonzales Day Projects such as these revolve around a photographic paradox that hinges equally on knowing and not knowing on definitive proof coupled with uncertainty on abundance of imagery being met squarely with its own inadequacy Photography is seen as a fundamentally ambiguous medium that can be evocative of the historical past while at the same time limited in the stories it can convey Rather than proclaiming definitively what photography is the work discussed here posits photographs as objects always held in suspension perpetually oscillating in their ability to tell history Yet this ultimately leads to a new kind of knowledge production uncertainty is not a dead end but a generative space for the viewer's engagement with the construction of history Themes in Modern European History Since 1945 Rosemary Wakeman, 2003-06-26 Twelve chapters consider the key political cultural and economic changes of post 1945 Europe
