Geriatrics & Gerontology of the Dog and Cat Johnny D. Hoskins, 2004

Geriatrics and Gerontology of the Dog and Cat Johnny D. Hoskins, 2004 This groundbreaking reference is the first and only comprehensive book to address the needs of older dogs and cats providing the veterinary clinician, veterinary student and animal health technician with health related information that is clinically relevant and quickly retrievable in a simple format. It offers a complete and practical review of the causes, incidence, clinical features, diagnosis and management of both common and uncommon problems associated with the aging process and acquired illness. Each chapter offers tips on the physical examination of that body system and provides quick reference tables for guidance on diagnosis and treatment. Because of the increased health problems in aging dogs and cats and the ardent attachment of the pet owner, veterinarians need to know more about aging so they may delay or minimize the progressive deterioration of aging and improve the quality of life for geriatric dogs and cats. Discusses state of the art medical and surgical therapy. Covers nutritional management that is crucial to aging dogs and cats. Reviews the most cost effective techniques in treating aging pets. Reviews common disorders including the cause, incidence, clinical features, diagnosis and management of each illness. A chapter on client services includes a discussion of pet death and grief reaction. Explores the special human-animal bond that develops as the dog and cat population ages. Information has been revised and updated for accuracy. New chapter on ophthalmological considerations for the geriatric dog and cat.

Canine and Feline Geriatric Oncology Alice Villalobos, Laurie Kaplan, 2008-02-28 Half the population of dogs and cats aged 10 and over will die of neoplasia. The bonds that clients have developed with their older pets are especially strong and drive the increasing demand for more proficient and highly compassionate medical treatment of companion animals diagnosed with cancer. This book offers more than just a competent clinical approach to the most common tumors in dogs and cats. This book also offers a focus on the special needs of geriatric pets and their owners. Amply illustrated with dozens of case studies representative of those regularly encountered in practice. Canine and Feline Geriatric Oncology will provide readers with the tools needed to diagnose and treat aging pets with cancer and to help clients make the best decisions for themselves and for the animals with whom they share their lives. Canine and Feline Geriatric Oncology is a unique resource. It is a useful oncology reference for specialists, veterinarians in general practice, veterinary technicians and clinic staff. The many what-ifs that the practitioner inevitably faces in interactions with clients and their aging pets with cancer are presented and discussed. Special Features Focuses on the special needs of geriatric pets and their caregivers Offers direction in the diagnosis and treatment of aging pets with cancer Addresses many of the what ifs that arise in interactions with clients and aging pets with cancer Amply illustrated with full color throughout A valuable reference for practicing veterinarians technicians hospital staff and professionals involved in supportive counseling for pet caregivers
