Expressionism Dorothy Price, 2020-06-24 This book presents new research on the histories and legacies of the German Expressionist group Blaue Reiter the founding force behind modernist abstraction For the first time Blaue Reiter is subjected to a variety of novel inter disciplinary perspectives ranging from a philosophical enquiry into its language and visual perception to analyses of its gender dynamics its reception at different historical junctures throughout the twentieth century and its legacies for post colonial aesthetic practices The volume offers a new perspective on familiar aspects of Expressionism and abstraction taking seriously the inheritance of modernism for the twenty first century in ways that will help to recalibrate the field of Expressionist studies for future scholarship Blaue Reiter still matters the contributors argue because the legacies of abstraction are still being debated by artists writers philosophers and cultural theorists today

German Expressionism North Carolina Museum of Art, Jill Lloyd, Mario-Andreas von Lüttichau, Timothy O. Benson, Peter Nisbet, John Hallmark Neff, 1997 The Expressionist Roots of Modernism Peter Lasko, 2003 This book explores the beginnings of the interior design profession in nineteenth century France Drawing on a wealth of visual sources from collecting and advice manuals to pattern books and department store catalogues it demonstrates how new forms of print media were used to sell the idea of the unified interior as a total work of art enabling the profession of interior designer to take shape In observing the dependence of the trades on the artistic and public visual appeal of their work Interior decorating in nineteenth century France establishes crucial links between the fields of art history material and visual culture and design history The Gorgon's Gaze Paul Coates, 1991-04-26 This interdisciplinary study of recurrent themes in German cinema as it has developed since the early twentieth century focuses on pertinent films of the pre and post World War II eras The author explores the nature of expressionism which is generally agreed to have ended with the advent of sound and its persistence in the styles of such modern masters of film noir as Orson Welles and Ingmar Bergman In considering the possibility of homologies between the necessary silence of pre sound cinema and the widespread modernist aspiration to an aesthetic of silence Coates relates theories of the sublime the uncanny and the monstrous to his subject He also reflects upon problems of representability and the morality of representation of events that took place during the Nazi era

Expressionism in the Cinema Brill Olaf Brill, 2016-02-19 One of the most visually striking traditions in cinema for too long Expressionism has been a neglected critical category of research in film history and aesthetics The fifteen essays in this anthology remedies this by revisiting key German films like The Cabinet of Dr Caligari 1920 and Nosferatu 1922 and also provide original critical research into more obscure titles like Nerven 1919 and The Phantom Carriage 1921 films that were produced in the silent and early sound era in countries ranging from France Sweden and Hungary to the United States and Mexico An innovative and wide ranging collection Expressionism in the Cinema re canonizes the classical Expressionist aesthetic extending the critical and historical discussion beyond pre existing scholarship into comparative and interdisciplinary areas of film research that reach across national boundaries

Expressionism and Poster Design in Germany 1905-1922 Kathleen G. Chapman, 2019-01-21 In Expressionism and Poster Design in Germany 1905 1925 Kathleen Chapman re defines Expressionism by situating it in relation to the most common type of picture in public space during the Wilhelmine twentieth century the commercial poster Focusing equally on visual material and contemporaneous debates surrounding art posters and the image in general this study reveals that conceptions of a modern image were characterized not so much by style or mode of production and distribution but by a visual rhetoric designed to communicate more directly than words As instances of such rhetoric Expressionist art and posters emerge as equally significant examples of this modern image demonstrating the interconnectedness of the aesthetic the utilitarian and the commercial in European modernism
