

A dramatic scene from the biblical story of David and Goliath. In the foreground, a young David, wearing a red cape and a dark tunic, stands with his back to the viewer, holding a slingshot. He is looking towards a massive, towering Goliath who stands in the center background. Goliath has long dark hair and a beard, and is wearing a dark, patterned tunic with arm guards and leg coverings. He holds a sword in his right hand. Behind Goliath, a line of soldiers in armor with spears fixed to their shields stands ready. The ground is dusty and uneven, with large rocks scattered around. The sky is overcast and hazy.

David's Capacity for Compassion Barbara Green,2017-04-20 In this book Barbara Green demonstrates how David is shown and can be read as emerging from a young naive whose early successes grow into a tendency for actions of contempt and arrogance of blindness and even cruelty particularly in matters of cult However Green also shows that over time David moves closer to the demeanor and actions of wise compassion more closely aligned with God Leaving aside questions of historicity as basically undecidable Green's focus in her approach to the material is on contemporary literature Green reads the David story in order applying seven specific tools which she names describes and exemplifies as she interprets the text She also uses relevant hermeneutical theory specifically a bridge between general hermeneutics and the specific challenges of the individual and socially located reader As a result Green argues that characters in the David narrative can proffer occasions for insight wisdom and compassion

Acknowledging the unlikelihood that characters like David and his peers steeped in patriarchy and power can be shown to learn and extend wise compassion Green is careful to make explicit her reading strategies and offer space for dialogue and disagreement
