A Naturalistic Afterlife David Harmon, 2017-08-01 This book provides a fresh look at one of the most enduring absorbing and universal questions human beings face What happens to us after we die In secular thought the standard answer is simple we disappear into oblivion David Harmon takes us in a different direction by making the case that a nonconscious portion of our personality survives death literally not figuratively and explains how this kind of naturalistic afterlife can be emotionally relevant to us while we are still living Combining insights from the arts history philosophy and science a compelling argument takes shape for an afterlife without God

Love and Politics Jeffery L. Nicholas, 2021-06-07 In Love and Politics Jeffery L. Nicholas argues that Eros is the final rejection of an alienated life in which humans are prevented from developing their human powers Eros in contrast is an overflowing of acting into new realities and new beauties a world in which human beings extend their powers and senses Nicholas uniquely interprets Alasdair MacIntyre's Revolutionary Aristotelianism as a response to alienation defined as the divorce of fact from value

However this account cannot address alienation in the form of the oppression of women or people of color. Importantly it fails to acknowledge the domination of nature that blackens the heart of alienated life. Alienation must be seen as a separation of the human from nature. Nicholas turns to Aristotle first to uncover the way his philosophy embodies a divorce of human from nature then to reconstruct the essential elements of Aristotle's metaphysics to defend a philosophical anthropology based on Eros, Love and Politics. Persistent Human Desires as a Foundation for Liberation presents a critical theory that synthesizes MacIntyre's Revolutionary Aristotelianism, Frankfurt School Critical Theory and Social Reproduction Theory. It will be of great interest to political theorists and philosophers.

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Economics and Society Frederick F. Wherry, Juliet B. Schor, Consulting Editor, 2015-09-01. Economics is the nexus and engine that runs society affecting societal well being raising standards of living when economies prosper or lowering citizens through class structures when economies perform poorly. Our society only has to witness the booms and busts of the past decade to see how economics profoundly affects the cores of societies around the world. From a household budget to international trade economics ranges from the micro to the macro level. It relates to a breadth of social science disciplines that help describe the content of the proposed encyclopedia which will explicitly approach economics through varied disciplinary lenses. Although there are encyclopedias of covering economics especially classic economic theory and history the SAGE Encyclopedia of Economics and Society emphasizes the contemporary world contemporary issues and society. Features 4 volumes with approximately 800 signed articles ranging from 1 000 to 5 000 words each are presented in a choice of print or electronic editions. Organized A to Z with a thematic Reader's Guide in the front matter groups related entries. Articles conclude with References Future Readings to guide students to the next step on their research journeys. Cross references between and among articles combine with a thorough Index and the Reader's Guide to enhance search and browse in the electronic version. Pedagogical elements include a Chronology of Economics and Society Resource Guide and Glossary. This academic multi author reference work will serve as a general non technical resource for students and researchers within social science programs who seek to better understand economics through a contemporary lens.

THE FANTASY OF FAITH Rogene A. Buchholz, 2023-08-16. In a nutshell Christianity is one of the greatest if not the greatest hoax ever perpetuated on people in the history of the universe. It is practically all fantasy of one sort or another that millions of people believe in all over the world and have done so for many centuries since Christianity began. It all could have been made up out of whole cloth. The Old Testament cannot be taken at face value as the creation story was most likely borrowed from other sources and adapted to fit with the author's purpose of explaining how the world began. The Exodus may be entirely fiction and most certainly did not happen the way it is described in the Bible. As far as the New Testament is concerned it was written decades after the crucifixion of Jesus by people who were not eyewitnesses to the events they described. There may have been a prophet whose teachings drew many followers but there was certainly no virgin birth no miracles and no resurrection. The purpose of all the apocalyptic writing and second coming of Christ may have been motivated by the oppression of the Roman Empire where the Jewish people felt powerless and needed to believe in something that would provide them with a feeling that in the final analysis justice would be done and they would get their revenge Thus Christianity needs to be exposed for the fraud that it is which is what this book attempts to do by looking at the history of Christianity Biblical scholarship and other aspects of Christianity along with its alternatives

The Impact of Immigration on Children's Development Cynthia T. García Coll, 2012 Explores the impact of immigration in a global context All over the world families migrate and with them so do their children Probing the question of what being an immigrant means this publication brings together theory and empirical findings to highlight the impact of immigration on child development in a global context Discussed is the impact of these processes on children and adolescents in a variety of different countries and social contexts to determine both universal and culturally specific aspects of the experience of immigration as it becomes a pervasive reality of the modern world This publication is appropriate for anyone who is interested in the process of migration immigration and how it affects human development Both students and scholars as well as real world practitioners and policy makers in education psychology sociology anthropology ethnic and cultural studies immigration studies government and public policy will find this book a valuable source of information about the present and the way in which the next generation develops in response to the immigrant experience

Native and Christian James Treat, 2012-11-12 Native and Christian is an anthology of essays by indigenous writers in the United States and Canada on the problem of native Christian identity This anthology documents the emergence of a significant new collective voice on the North American religious landscape It brings together in one volume articles originally published in a variety of sources many of them obscure or out of print including religious magazines scholarly journals and native periodicals along with one previously unpublished manuscript
