God Is Rice Masao Takenaka, 2009-08-01 When we say that God is rice we take rice as the symbol of God's gift of life. The provocative title is actually the title of the first essay in the book that explores how the gospel calls us to live in harmony with nature and neighbor to secure just social organizations and be open to renewal. The Community of the Magnificat is a penetrating study of the interaction between Christ and culture in Asia. The Ethics of Betweenness is a case study of Sozo Tanaka who was one of the pioneers of the ecological movement and the people's movement in Japan. On the one hand, Christian faith claims to originate in the revelation of God which transforms culture itself. On the other hand, all such revelation is inevitably received and interpreted by humans in concrete situations. It is no exaggeration to say that two millennia of church history have continually demonstrated the struggle between Christian faith and culture. In an effort to address this struggle, this book explores relevant issues pertinent to the relationship between faith and culture in the particular context of Japan. In this unique work, the context of Japan, well known as a desolate swamp for Christian missions, provides the setting for a re-exploration of issues pertaining to the theology of culture. As such, Japan provides both a concrete and challenging context to work out a theology of culture. This book also helpfully illuminates for Western readers some key problems that may not have appeared fully in their contexts yet but will do so as the post-Christendom era continues. Critical Readings in the History of Christian Mission Martha Frederiks, Dorottya Nagy, 2021-06-22 This selection of texts introduces students and researchers to the multi and interdisciplinary field of mission history. It apprises them with current discussions, insights, and theories. The four parts of this book acquaint the readers with methodological considerations and recurring themes in the academic study of the history of mission. Part one revolves around methods; part two documents approaches; while parts three and four consist of thematic clusters such as mission and language, medical mission, mission and education, women and mission, mission and politics, and mission and art. The text selection represents a wide variety of disciplines, authors, and backgrounds. The texts were chosen because they address the complexities involved in studying the history of Christian mission. Critical Readings in the History of Christian Mission is suitable for course work and other educational purposes. Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so. These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology. The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa.

The Japan Christian Quarterly, 1986 Asian Dreams and Christian Hope Felix Wilfred, 2000 Asian Christian Theologians in Dialogue with Buddhism Kenneth Fleming, 2002

This book is a study of three of Asia's most respected contemporary theologians: Kosuke Koyama, Choan Seng Song, and Aloysius Pieris. It gives an introduction to Asian Buddhism and the Christian dialogue with Buddhists in Asia. Furthermore, it examines the work of each theologian in detail, looking at the method and content of their dialogue and outlining its impact upon their respective theologies. The book provides a critique of their dialogue and engages with the theological issues that have emerged. In areas such as religious identity, theological method, and liberation theology, it is shown that their conversation with Buddhism contributes to the development of a genuinely Asian theology and moreover raises important challenges to the worldwide theological community, churches, and to those engaged in interreligious dialogue.
