God The Minds Desire Reference Reason And Christian Thinking:

God, the Mind's Desire Paul D. Janz, 2004-05-06 This 2004 book reconfigures the basic problem of Christian thinking How can human discourse refer meaningfully to a transcendent God as a twofold demand for integrity integrity of reason and integrity of transcendence Centring around a provocative yet penetratingly faithful re reading of Kant s empirical realism and drawing on an impelling confluence of contemporary thinkers including MacKinnon Bonhoeffer Marion Putnam Nagel Paul D Janz argues that theology s referent must be located within present empirical reality Rigorously reasoned yet refreshingly accessible throughout this book provides an important attentively informed alternative to the growing trends toward obscurantism radicalization and anti reason in many recent assessments of theological cognition while remaining equally alert to the hazards of traditional metaphysics In the book s culmination epistemology and Christology converge around problems of noetic authority and orthodoxy with a kind of innovation depth and straightforwardness that readers of theology at all levels of philosophical acquaintance will find illuminating

God, the Mind's Desire Paul D. Janz, 2004 This book reconfigures the fundamental problem of Christian thinking How can human discourse refer meaningfully to a transcendent God as a twofold demand for integrity integrity of reason and integrity of transcendence Centring around a fresh provocative yet penetratingly faithful re reading of Kant s empirical realism and drawing on an array of thinkers MacKinnon Bonhoeffer Putnam Nagel Barth Marion it argues compellingly that integrity is sustainable on both fronts only when theological discourse locates its referent fundamentally within present empirical reality This both for intellectual reasons and supremely because Jesus Christ today as the unchangingly incarnate Word demands it Forcefully challenging recent rushes into obscurantism and radicalization which compromise integrity through elitism and isolation the book remains equally alert to the hazards of traditional metaphysics Rigorously reasoned and refreshingly accessible throughout it culminates in a stimulating account of the indispensable convergence between Christology and epistemology for the task of theological thinking Publisher s description

Reading Scripture as the Church Derek W. Taylor, 2020-09-22 The Bible is meant to be read in the church by the church as the church Following the example of Dietrich Bonhoeffer Derek Taylor argues that we should regard the reading of Scripture as an inherently communal exercise of discipleship In conversation with other theologians Taylor shares how this approach to Scripture can engender a faithful hermeneutical community

The Legacy of Early Franciscan Thought Lydia Schumacher, 2021-01-18 The legacy of late medieval Franciscan thought is uncontested for generations the influence of late 13th and 14th century Franciscans on the development of modern thought has been celebrated by some and loathed by others However the legacy of early Franciscan thought as it developed in the first generation of Franciscan thinkers who worked at the recently founded University of Paris in the first half of the 13th century is a virtually foreign concept in the relevant scholarship The reason for this is that early Franciscans are widely regarded as mere codifiers and perpetrators of the earlier medieval largely Augustinian tradition from which later Franciscans supposedly departed In this study leading scholars of both periods in the Franciscan intellectual tradition join forces to highlight the continuity between early and late Franciscan thinkers which is often overlooked by those who emphasize their discrepancies in terms of methodology and sources At the same time the contributors seek to paint a more nuanced picture of the tradition's legacy to Western thought highlighting aspects of it that were passed down for generations to follow as well as the extremely different contexts and ends for which originally Franciscan ideas came to be employed in later medieval and modern thought

Christian Theology and Tragedy Kevin Taylor, Giles Waller, 2016-05-23 Drawing together leading scholars from both theological and literary backgrounds Christian Theology and Tragedy explores the rich variety of conversations between theology and tragedy Three main areas are examined theological readings of a range of tragic literature from plays to novels and the Bible itself how theologians have explored tragedy theologically and how theology can interact with various tragic theories Encompassing a range of perspectives and topics this book demonstrates how theologians can make productive use of the work of tragedians tragic theorists and tragic philosophers Common misconceptions that tragedy is monolithic easily definable or gives straightforward answers to theodicy are also addressed Interdisciplinary in nature this book will appeal to both the theological and literary fields

Human Subjectivity 'in Christ' in Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Theology Jacob Phillips, 2019-09-19 Jacob Phillips presents a critical study of a neglected aspect of Dietrich Bonhoeffer's theology his writing on human subjectivity self reflection and individual identity in Christ In response to the rise of chronic self representation through digital technology Phillips argues that Bonhoeffer presents a radical challenge maintaining that from the perspective of Christian theology there is something deeply negative about beholding representations of oneself Bonhoeffer instead holds that discipleship means adopting a posture of radical agnosticism toward one's own identity Phillips focuses on the interrelation of simplicity and reflection in theological cognition and ethical deliberation showing a wider significance in contemporary theological anthropology soteriology and ethics By following the tradition of reading Bonhoeffer in relation to the philosophical sources such as W stenberg Janz Whitson Floyd Marsh Zimmermann Gregor Phillips highlights the ways in which Bonhoeffer's work relates to modern debates in epistemology and ethics generally and that of Wilhelm Dilthey and hermeneutical phenomenology in particular This volume offers a detailed theological analysis of the themes of self identity human subjectivity and self understanding which are highly pertinent for contemporary society

The Realist Hope Christopher J. Insole, 2016-02-24 Taking into consideration analytical continental historical post modern and contemporary thinkers Insole provides a powerful defence of a realist construal of religious discourse Insole argues that anti realism tends towards absolutism and hubris Where truth is exhausted by our beliefs about truth there is no conceptual space for doubting those beliefs only a conception of truth as absolute given and accessible can guarantee the very humility sense of fallibility and sensitivity to difference that the anti realist rightly values Cutting through some of the tired and well rehearsed debates in this area Insole provides a fresh perspective on approaches influenced by Wittgenstein Kant and apophatic theology The defence of realism offered is unusual in being both analytically precise and theologically sensitive with a view to some of the wider and less well explored cultural ethical and political implications of the debate The Transformations of Tragedy Fionnuala O'Neill Tønning, Erik Tønning, Jolyon Mitchell, 2019-11-26 The Transformations of Tragedy Christian Influences from Early Modern to Modern explores the influence of Christian theology and culture upon the development of post classical Western tragedy The volume is divided into three parts early modern modern and contemporary This series of essays by established and emergent scholars offers a sustained study of Christianity's creative influence upon experimental forms of Western tragic drama Both early modern and modern tragedy emerged within periods of remarkable upheaval in Church history yet Christianity's diverse influence upon tragedy has too often been either ignored or denounced by major tragic theorists This book contends instead that the history of tragedy cannot be sufficiently theorised without fully registering the impact of Christianity in transition towards modernity

Theology's Epistemological Dilemma Kevin Diller, 2014-10-24 Karl Barth and Alvin Plantinga are not thought of as theological allies Barth is famous for his opposition to philosophy's role in theology while Plantinga is famous for his emphasis on warranted belief Kevin Diller argues that they actually offer a unified response to the central epistemological dilemma in theology Kant and the Divine Christopher J. Insole, 2020-03-30 The book offers a definitive study of the development of Kant's conception of the highest good from his earliest work to his dying days Insole argues that Kant believes in God but that Kant is not a Christian and that this opens up an important and neglected dimension of Western Philosophy Kant is not a Christian because he cannot accept Christianity's traditional claims about the relationship between divine action grace human freedom and happiness Christian theologians who continue to affirm these traditional claims and many do therefore have grounds to be suspicious of Kant as an interpreter of Christian doctrine As well as setting out a theological critique of Kant Insole offers a new defence of the power beauty and internal coherence of Kant's non Christian philosophical religiosity within the limits of reason alone which reason itself has some divine features This neglected strand of philosophical religiosity deserves to be engaged with by both philosophers and theologians The Kant revealed in this book reminds us of a perennial task of philosophy going back to Plato where philosophy is construed as a way of life oriented towards happiness achieved through a properly expansive conception of reason and happiness When we understand this philosophical religiosity many standard problems in the interpretation of Kant can be seen in a new light and resolved Kant witnesses to a strand of philosophy that leans into the category of the divine at the edges of what we can say about reason freedom autonomy and happiness The Truth Within Gavin Flood, 2013-10-25 The idea that there is a truth within the person linked to the discovery of a deeper more fundamental more authentic self has been a common theme in many religions throughout history and an idea that is still with us today This inwardness or interiority unique to me as an essential feature of who I am has been an aspect of culture and even a defining characteristic of human being an authentic private sphere to which we can retreat that is beyond the conflicts of the outer world This inner world becomes more real than the outer which is seen as but a pale reflection Remarkably the image of the truth within is found across cultures and this book presents an account of this idea in the pre modern history of Christianity Hinduism and Buddhism Furthermore in theistic religions Christianity and some forms of Hinduism the truth within is conflated with the idea of God within and in all cases this inner truth is thought to be not only the heart of the person but also the heart of the universe itself Gavin Flood examines the metaphor of inwardness and the idea of truth within along with the methods developed in religions to attain it such as prayer and meditation These views of inwardness that link the self to cosmology can be contrasted with a modern understanding of the person In examining the truth within in Christianity Hinduism and Buddhism Flood offers a hermeneutical phenomenology of inwardness and a defence of comparative religion A Philosophical Anthropology of the Cross Brian Gregor, 2013-03-18 What does the cross both as a historical event and a symbol of religious discourse tell us about human beings In this provocative book Brian Gregor draws together a hermeneutics of the self through Heidegger Gadamer Ricoeur and Taylor and a theology of the cross through Luther Kierkegaard Bonhoeffer and Jungel to envision a phenomenology of the cruciform self The result is a bold and original view of what philosophical anthropology could look like if it took the scandal of the cross seriously instead of reducing it into general philosophical concepts The Oxford Handbook of Dietrich Bonhoeffer Michael Mawson, Philip G. Ziegler, 2019-11-06 This volume provides a comprehensive resource for those wishing to understand the German theologian pastor and resistance conspirator Dietrich Bonhoeffer 1906 1945 and his writings During his lifetime he made important contributions to many of the major areas of theology ecclesiology creation Christology discipleship and ethics The Oxford Handbook of Dietrich Bonhoeffer surveys assesses and presents the field of research and debates of Bonhoeffer and his legacy as well as of previous Bonhoeffer scholarship Featuring contributions from leading Bonhoeffer scholars historians theologians and ethicists many essays draw attention to Bonhoeffer's positive contributions while several essays also identify limits and problems with his thinking as it stands Divided into five parts the first section provides a detailed outline of Bonhoeffer's biography and the contexts that gave rise to his theology The contributors explore the dynamic relationship between Bonhoeffer's life and theology Section two provides rigorous engagements with and assessments of Bonhoeffer's theology on its own terms Part three demonstrates how Bonhoeffer's ethical claims and engagements are deeply integrated with theological commitments The fourth section showcases some of the best work drawing upon Bonhoeffer for engaging contemporary challenges including feminism race public theology in South Africa and contemporary philosophy In recent decades Bonhoeffer's theology has provoked significant critical reflection on social and cultural issues The essays in this section exemplify how his writings can continue to contribute to such reflection today The fifth and final section consists of essays on resources for the contemporary study of Bonhoeffer and his theology including sources and texts biographies and portraits and readings and receptions These essays also address pressing historiographical issues and problems surrounding writing about Bonhoeffer's life and theology. This authoritative collection draws together and assesses the very best of existing research on Bonhoeffer and promotes new avenues for research on Bonhoeffer.

Remythologizing Theology Kevin J. Vanhoozer, 2010-01-14 Kevin J. Vanhoozer develops a new vision of Christian theism by establishing divine communicative action as the formal and material principle of theology. His contribution revisits long-standing controversies such as the relations of God's sovereignty to human freedom, time to eternity, and suffering to love.

On Tragedy and Transcendence Khagan M. Delport, 2021-10-08 From the time of Plato's proposed expulsion of the poets, tragedy has repeatedly proposed a challenge to philosophical and theological certainties. This is apparent already in early Christianity amongst leading figures during the patristic age. But this raises the question: Why was the theme of tragedy still accepted and deployed throughout the history of Christianity nevertheless? Is this merely an accident or is there something more substantial at play? Can Christian theology take the tragic seriously? Must Christianity ultimately deny the tragic to be coherent or might it be able to sustain its negativity? Some like George Steiner, David Bentley Hart, and John Milbank have doubts about such a coherency, but others think differently. This book aims to examine this debate, laying out the lines of disagreement and continuing tensions. Through a critical examination of the work of Donald MacKinnon and the eminent Christian thinker Rowan Williams, the book aims to show that there is a path for reconciling the claims of Christian orthodoxy and the experience of tragedy, one that is able to maintain a metaphysical foundation for both real transcendence and unfolding historicity without denying either.

The Spirit of Polyphony Joanna Tarassenko, 2024-01-25 This book re-examines how Bonhoeffer employs musical patterns of thought and language to a theological end. It outlines how the significance of Bonhoeffer's musical theology has not been sufficiently recognised and sets the stage for a rigorous re-examination. It becomes clear that through the lens of his musical metaphor of polyphony, Bonhoeffer demonstrates how his account of Christian formation contains a latent pneumatology. Tarassenko demonstrates that incorporation of this pneumatology is key in deepening one's understanding of Bonhoeffer. It allows the relationship between Christology and Christian formation in Bonhoeffer's thought to become fully realised. The appeal to polyphony articulates this pneumatology as an indirect but nevertheless exceedingly successful means of contouring an account of the Spirit's work.

Saving Words Joseph S. Pagano, Amy E. Richter, 2021-12-16 What words from our Christian vocabulary would you miss if you could no longer use them? If you pronounced them and no one understood? If you spoke and people gave them a meaning at odds with your conviction? What words do you fear are falling into misuse? If you could save some word or phrase from disuse or misuse, what would it be? Saving Words is a collection of personal provocative essays by lay people, clergy, poets, theologians, musicians, and scholars on words they want to preserve and proclaim urgent and important reflections on the language we need for the facing of these days. Open this volume and find saving words that matter.
