Nardo,1991-09-03 This book argues that play offered Hamlet John Donne George Herbert Andrew Marvell Robert Burton and Sir Thomas Browne a way to live within the contradictions and conflicts of late Renaissance life by providing a new stance for the self Grounding its argument in recent theories of play and in a historical analysis that sees the seventeenth century as a point of crisis in the formation of the western self the author demonstrates how play helped mediate this crisis and how central texts of the period enact this mediation A George Herbert Companion (Routledge Revivals) Robert H. McDowell,2022-03-01 Metaphysical Shadows The Persistence of Donne Herbert Vaughan and Marvell in Contemporary Poetry examines the ways in which the poetry of John Donne George Herbert Henry Vaughan and Andrew Marvell continues to speak to working poets today Modern Anglophone poets from T S Eliot and Archibald MacLeish in the 1920s and 1930s to Seamus Heaney Maureen Boyle Alfred Corn Anne Cluysenaar Kimberly Johnson and Jericho Brown in the twenty first century have found in the work of John Donne George Herbert Henry Vaughan and Andrew Marvell a strikingly modern intellectualism an emotional intensity and a verbal richness that have inspired their own poems Traces of this inspiration appear in echoes allusions direct responses and similarities in approach and method as poets create new work in their own distinct voices Such contemporary engagements furnish us with cues for how literary studies might approach the literature of the past without sacrificing it in the name of critique They also demonstrate the continuing relevance of seventeenth century English metaphysical poetry in the twenty first century The poems of Donne Herbert Vaughan and Marvell still have the power to cast shadows Patterns and Patterning Bart Westerweel,2021-11-15 Poetry of Contemplation Arthur L. Clements,1990-06-01 This is the first systematic and thorough study of mysticism or contemplation in these three seventeenth century poets and in three modern writers It not only clarifies the very confused issue of mysticism in seventeenth century poetry but also connects seventeenth century poets with modern literature and science through the contemplative tradition from the Bible and Plato and Church fathers and important mystics of the Middle Ages through Renaissance and modern contemplatives The transformative and redemptive power of contemplative poetry or holy writing regardless of genre or discipline is prominent throughout the book and the relevance indeed the vital necessity of such poetry and of the living contemplative tradition to our apocalyptic modern world is discussed in the last chapter In this chapter attention is given to modern science especially to the new physics and to philosophical and mystical writings of eminent scientists George Herbert and Henry Vaughan George

Herbert, Henry Vaughan, 1986 This volume presents the work of two poets linked by the tribute of creative imitation gratefully paid by Vaughan to Herbert Read side by side as this one volume collection makes possible the artists verse fully reveal their individual powers even as the complex nature of Vaughan's use of Herbert's imaginative example is thrown into greater relief The book contains the complete English poetry of Herbert his prose treatise The Country Parson the complete text of Vaughan's Silex Scintillans including all material in both the 1650 and 1655 editions plus a selection from Vaughan's early secular poetry Louis Martz's introduction and commentary help bring the religious controversies of the age into focus and the text also features chronologies of the lives of the two men and suggestions for further readings George Herbert

Thomas Stearns Eliot, 1994 Peter Porter's new introduction gives a fresh perspective on the poetry of George Herbert and on T S Eliot's study of the poet itself Poems in Their Place Neil Fraistat, 2014-07-01 With essays by 13 leading scholars this collection establishes the grounds for a new kind of poetics that considers the poetry book itself the concept and the material fact as an object of interpretation The authors argue that the decisions poets make about the presentation of their works play a meaningful role in the poetic process and therefore should figure as part of the reading experience The common practice of approaching poems chronologically as they are presented in anthologies or in posthumous editions has been fostered by the long prevailing tendency of the New Criticism to treat each poem as self contained This volume urges the reader to reconsider the most fundamental ways that one reads teaches and interprets poetry Moving from classical to contemporary poetry these essays develop a literary history and theory for such a poetics at the same time providing a generous set of models for a related practical criticism At the heart of this collection are such issues as order arrangement and intertextuality Reading poems in their place helps to return them to their historical contexts because the book itself has had a particular place in its own culture and society Originally published in 1987 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value George Herbert Journal, 1982 English Renaissance Rhetoric and Poetics Heinrich F. Plett, 1995 This comprehensive bibliography lists some 500 source texts published in the British Isles or abroad from 1479 to 1660 and more than 2 000 works of secondary literature from 1900 to the present
