Motherland and Progress József Sisa, 2016-11-21. In the 19th century, Hungary witnessed unprecedented social, economic, and cultural development. The country became an equal partner within the Dual Monarchy when the Austro-Hungarian Compromise of 1867 was concluded. Architecture and all forms of design flourished as never before. A distinctly Central European taste emerged in which the artistic presence of the German-speaking lands was augmented by the influence of France and England. As this process unfolded, attempts were made to find a uniquely Hungarian form based on motifs borrowed from peasant art as well as real or fictitious historical antecedents. Motherland and Progress, the motto of 19th-century Hungarian reformers, reflected the programme embraced by the country in its drive to define its identity and shape its future.
