GOD LOOKED OVER

AND IT WAS SO VERY GOOD.

In God's Good Image J.W. Buck, 2024-12-03. Cultural identity matters to us and to Jesus. Culture is all around us. Nothing we think, do or say exists outside of it. But the story of God is clear. We are all made in God's good image and God's people are meant to be a diverse community. Looking to the example of Jesus, author J.W. Buck offers practical insights into how cultural identity fits into our walk as Christians. No matter where we come from and no matter how complex our cultural narratives, the Scriptures point to the One who embodied a particular identity of a Jewish man in first-century Palestine in order to shape our own. Jesus teaches those formed by majority culture to humbly embrace their identity as they foster space for others. And he empowers those from minority cultures to resist pressure to assimilate in unhealthy ways and instead live into their God-given identity. God dignifies our culture and wants us to shape it to look more like Jesus. We are meant to be like Jesus in our home culture, in our heart language and throughout our collective journey to understand how our diversity points us to a better expression of God's good image.

God's 'Good Time' Mary Cresp, 2013-12-31. Sisters of St. Joseph, Clare Ahern and Anne Boland joined the Aboriginal community at Yaruman Ringer Soak on the edge of the Great Sandy Desert, Western Australia in 1984. How could they relate in a real way to ideas in the Gospel that depended on an understanding of a foreign, middle-eastern culture? After reflection and prayer, the following became the central message: Mark 1:15. This is the word Jesus gave to everyone. He called it Good News. God is going to change things. A good time is coming close up for everyone. Be sorry for the bad things you do. Keep thinking good things in your heart. Do these good things. Believe the good word. I tell you that a good time is coming up for everyone. Do you have a belief in the Rights of others and the passion, commitment and dedication to help make these Rights a reality? Then this book is an exceptional read. I urge you to read, enjoy and advocate to make our world a better place for everyone.

Excusing Sinners and Blaming God Guillaume Bignon, 2017-12-11 Calvinist determinism destroys moral responsibility and makes God the author of sin These two accusations are not new and were arguably anticipated by Paul in Romans 9 but they remain today the most important objections offered against Calvinist determinist views of human free will This book is a philosophically rigorous and comprehensive defense of Calvinism against these two families of arguments With respect to human moral responsibility it discusses whether determinism destroys free will turns humans into pets or puppets and involves or is analogous to coercion and manipulation It responds to the consequence argument and direct argument for incompatibilism the principle of alternate possibilities the ought implies can maxim and related claims With respect to the authorship of sin it discusses whether Calvinist determinism improperly involves God in evil Does it mean that God sins or causes sin or wills sin in problematic ways Does God intend our sin or merely permit sin In each case the coherence of the Calvinist view is defended against its most potent objections to reject the claim that Calvinism is excusing sinners and blaming God

Can God Be Free? William L. Rowe, 2004-04-22 In the three major religions of the West God is understood to be a being whose goodness knowledge and power is such that it is impossible for any being including God himself to have a greater degree of goodness knowledge and power This book focuses on God's freedom and praiseworthiness in relation to his perfect goodness Given his necessary perfections if there is a best world for God to create he would have no choice other than to create it For as Leibniz tells us todo less good than one could is to be lacking in wisdom or in goodness But if God could not do otherwise than create the best world he created the world of necessity not freely And if that is so it may be argued that we have no reason to be thankful to God for creating us since as parts of the best possible world God was simply unable to do anything other than create us he created us of necessity not freely Moreover we are confronted with the difficulty of having to believe that this world with its Holocaust and innumerable other evils is the best that an infinitely powerful infinitely good being could do in creating a world Neither of these conclusions taken by itself seems at all plausible Yet each conclusion appears to follow from the conception of God now dominant in the great religions of the West William Rowe presents a detailed study of this important problem both historically in the writings of Gottfried Leibniz Samuel Clarke Thomas Aquinas and Jonathan Edwards as well as in the contemporary philosophical literature devoted to the issue Rowe argues that this problem is more serious than is commonly thought and may require some significant revision in contemporary thinking about the nature of God

God, Humanity and the Cosmos - 3rd edition Christopher Southgate, 2011-10-13 A systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness Contributors examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis how science is treated and valued in education and the development of the science and religion debate in the 21st century This is a comprehensive textbook for the student with periodic exercises to test understanding and encourage discussion of the different topics and suggestions for further reading     God Good Orderly Direction Howard B. Rutstein,2011     Rid of My Disgrace Justin S. Holcomb,Lindsey A.
