Popular Photography, 2005-04      A Gust of Photo-Philia Alexandra Moschovi, 2020-12-15

The first transnational history of photography's accommodation in the art museum. Photography was long regarded as a middle brow art by the art institution. Yet at the turn of the millennium it became the hot global art of our time. In this book part institutional history part account of shifting photographic theories and practices Alexandra Moschovi tells the story of photography's accommodation in and as contemporary art in the art museum. Archival research of key exhibitions and the contrasting collecting policies of MoMA Tate the Guggenheim the V A and the Centre Pompidou offer new insights into how art as photography and photography as art have been collected and exhibited since the 1930s. Moschovi argues that this accommodation not only changed photography's status in art culture and society but also played a significant role in the rebranding of the art museum as a cultural and social site.
