Bidwell, 2024-03-19 For those who care for chronically ill children a new understanding of hope that equips adults to better nurture pediatric hope among sick kids articulated by the children themselves As anyone with a chronic illness knows hope can sometimes be hard to come by For parents and caregivers of children with serious illness there can be a real struggle to move beyond one's own grief fear and suffering to see what hope means for these kids Duane Bidwell a scholar minister and former hospital chaplain who has struggled with serious illness himself spent time with 48 chronically ill children in dialysis units and transplant clinics around the United States Chronically ill kids he found don't adhere to popular or scholarly understandings of hope They experience hope as a sense of well being in the present not a promise of future improvement an ability to set goals or the absence of illness and suffering With this mindset these kids suggest a new understanding of pediatric hope saying hope becomes concrete when they realize community claim power attend to Spirit choose trust and maintain identity Offering textured portraits of children with end stage kidney disease After the Worst Day Ever illustrates in their words how sick children experience maintain and turn toward hope even when illness cannot be cured and severely limits quality of life Their insights reveal how the adults in a sick child's world parents chaplains medical professionals teachers and others can nurture hope They also shift our understanding of hope from an internal resource located inside an individual to a shared communal experience that becomes a resource for individuals Rich and moving Bidwell's work helps us imagine anew what it means to sustain hope despite inescapable suffering and the limits of chronic illness Theatre as a Medium for Children and Young

People: Images and Observations Shifra Schonmann, 2006-07-10 This book is a journey into the dual territory of educational and theatrical settings It advances the knowledge in these settings by touching upon provocative questions by dealing with the limitations and challenging the new possibilities of theatre for young people It is an attempt to bring intellectual rigor and some theoretical perspectives drawn from recent theatre and aesthetic theory to the field of theatre for young people

Meinhard, 2022-02-15 Drowning By Accident explains why it is so easy to drown where accidents happen and how to save lives by early rescue and resuscitation More than 600 people die by drowning in Britain every year Swimming is promoted as a particularly safe form of exercise so that swimmers forget or ignore the dangers of frigid lakes swollen rivers incoming tides or outgoing rip currents Drowning accidents take place because we don't recognise water as a hostile environment We overestimate the strength and endurance of our bodies and underestimate the power and deceptiveness of water Year after year victims lose their lives in typical drowning accidents often sinking so quickly and silently that nearby family friends and onlookers fail to notice the tragedy taking place close beside them Babies drown in baths Toddlers drown in garden ponds School children fall off rafts Teenagers strike too far from the shore Pensioners wade into rivers to save their dogs Victims often die within minutes of sinking beneath the surface A quarter of those who reach hospital alive will also die while others survive with severe permanent brain damage This means that it is vitally important for parents grandparents teachers lifeguards and lawmakers to recognise the risks and prevent drowning accidents before they take place
