Mohammedanism Great Britain. Foreign Office. Historical Section,1920 The Chamber of Commerce Journal ,1928 Persian Gulf Pilot United States. Hydrographic Office,1920 From India to Israel Joseph Hodes,2014-04-01 Between May 1948 and December 1951 Israel received approximately 684 000 immigrants from across the globe The arrival of so many ethnic linguistic and cultural groups to such a small place in such a short time was unprecedented and the new country was ill prepared to absorb its new citizens The first years of the state were marked by war agricultural failure a housing crisis health epidemics a terrible culture clash and a struggle between the religious authorities and the secular government over who was going to control the state In From India to Israel Joseph Hodes examines Israel's first decades through the perspective of an Indian Jewish community the Bene Israel who would go on to play an important role in the creation of the state He describes how a community of relatively high status and free from persecution under the British Raj

left the recently independent India for fear of losing status only to encounter bias and prejudice in their new country In 1960 a decision made by the religious authorities to ban the Bene Israel from marrying other Jews on the grounds that they were not pure Jews set in motion a civil rights struggle between the Indian community and the religious authority with far reaching implications After a drawn out struggle and under pressure from both the government and the people the Bene Israel were declared acceptable for marriage A detailed look at how one immigrant community fought to maintain their place within a religion and a society From India to Israel raises important questions about the state of Israel and its earliest struggles to absorb the diversity in its midst

From Wheel House to Counting House Lewis R. Fischer, 2017-10-18 This volume is dedicated to Maritime Business History by means of commemorating the career of Professor Peter Neville Davies a prominent member of the Economic and Social History department of the University of Liverpool a career spanning the dates 1964 1992 The volume is divided into four sections The first is a tribute and appreciation of Professor Davies which also acts as an introduction to his work for unfamiliar readers The second section focuses on business aspects of British maritime history with particular attention to the impact of British shipping overseas and the rise and decline of shipbuilding industries The third section is specific to Liverpool and Merseyside and explores the local maritime history of the area including trade with the Mediterranean local shipbuilding the Mersey port system and nautical archaeology The final section explores subjects within international maritime history particularly within Norway and America All essays and topics covered aim to collectively and significantly develop the field of maritime business history and all are directly related to Professor Davies academic interests as a means of celebrating Professor Davies own accomplishments during his career The journal concludes with a comprehensive bibliography of Professor Davies work

The Blood-red Arab Flag Charles E. Davies, 1997 During the years 1797 1820 the Qasimi Arabs or Qawasim inhabitants of the present day United Arab Emirates acquired an enduring reputation as ruthless pirates Some of their victims flew the British flag and thus their actions were to provide the initial stimulus and justification for 150 years of British involvement in the Gulf Recently however it has been doubted whether the Qawasim were in fact pirates In a scholarly but accessible account founded on contemporary sources illustrated with testimonies of eye witnesses and participants this book sets out to decide this controversial question By making use of valuable and hitherto untapped archival material Charles Davies strongly evokes a flavour of life in the Gulf in this turbulent and formative period in the Gulf s history This book represents the first in depth investigation into this controversial subject It is based on original research and helps to explain why the Gulf is as it is today during the Napoleonic Wars offering a new assessment of the cowpox discovery and Edward Jenner's achievement in making cowpox inoculation a viable and universally available practice. He explores the networks that took the vaccine around the world and the reception and establishment of vaccination among peoples in all corners of the globe. His focus is on the human story of the horrors of smallpox, the hopes invested in vaccination by medical men and parents, the children put arm to arm across the world, and the early challenges, successes, and disappointments. He presents vaccination as a quiet revolution, genuinely emancipatory but also the sharp end of growing state power. By the end of the war in 1815, millions of children had been vaccinated. The early success of the war against smallpox paved the way to further advances towards eradication.

War Against Smallpox Michael Bennett, 2020-06-18 Michael Bennett provides the first history of the global spread of vaccination

Sugar and the Indian Ocean World Norifumi Daito, 2024-07-11. Tracing the history of the sugar trade and its consumption in the Persian Gulf during the 18th century, this book explores the interplay of social, economic, and political interests created by this popular commodity. The study of sugar has until now focused mainly on its significant growth in European markets from the mid 17th century and more recently parallel developments in East Asia. In this book, Daito shows how the sugar trade also developed in and became important to the Indian Ocean World. Studying how the consumption of sugar wavered after the brutal overthrow of the Safavid dynasty in 1722, this book shows how the Dutch East India Company and the trading network responded to political upheavals in the region and consequently the changing trading conditions. Arguing that sugar continued to be imported and consumed despite these political disturbances, Sugar and the Indian Ocean World proves this was not a period of economic stagnation for the region and shows how sugar became an important intersection between socio-cultural practices and the Indian Ocean economy.

The Routledge Handbook of Global Islam and Consumer Culture Birgit Krawietz, François Gauthier, 2024-09-16. The Routledge Handbook of Global Islam and Consumer Culture is an outstanding inter- and transdisciplinary reference source to key topics, problems, and debates in this challenging research field. The study of Islam is enriched by investigating religion and notably Islamic normativity, fiqh as a resource for product design, attitudes toward commodification, and appropriated patterns of behavior. Comprising 35 chapters, including an extended Introduction by a team of international contributors from chairholders to advanced graduate students, the handbook is divided into seven parts: Guiding Frameworks of Understanding, Historical Probes, Urbanism and Consumption, Body Manipulation, Vestimentary Regimes, and Gender-Mediated Religion and Culture, Consumer Culture, Lifestyle and Senses of the Self through Consumption, Markets, These sections examine vibrant debates around consumption, frugality, Islamic jurisprudence and fatwas in the world economy, capitalism, neoliberalism, trade relations, halalization, labor, tourism, and travel infrastructure, body modification, fashion, self-fashioning, lifestyle, Islamic kitsch, urban regeneration, heritage, Islamic finance, the internet, and Quran recitation versus music. Contributions present selected case studies from countries across the world, including China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Morocco, Nigeria, Qatar, Pakistan, and Turkey. The handbook is essential reading for students and researchers in Islamic studies, Near and Middle Eastern studies, religious studies, and cultural studies. The handbook will also be very useful for those in related fields such as politics area studies sociology anthropology and history Chapter 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
