Ankersen, 2014-09-09 Ankersen examines Canada's civil military cooperation efforts in Kosovo Bosnia and Afghanistan through the lens of Clausewitz's Remarkable Trinity The book reveals how military action is the product of influences from the government the armed forces and the people at home Transitional Justice and Rule of Law Reconstruction Padraig McAuliffe, 2013-06-26 This short and accessible book is the first to focus exclusively on the inter relation between transitional justice and rule of law reconstruction in post conflict and post authoritarian states In so doing it provides a provocative reassessment of the various tangled relationships between the two fields exploring the blind spots contradictions and opportunities for mutually beneficial synergies in practice and scholarship between them Though it is commonly assumed that transitional justice for past human rights abuses is inherently conducive to restoring the rule of law differences in how both fields conceptualise the rule of law the scope of transition and obligations to citizens have resulted in divergent approaches to transitional criminal trial international criminal law restorative justice and traditional justice mechanisms Adopting a critical comparative approach that assesses the experiences of post authoritarian and post conflict polities in Latin America Asia Europe and Africa undergoing transitional justice and justice sector reform simultaneously it argues that the potential benefits of transitional justice are exaggerated and urges policy makers to rebalance the compromises inherent in transitional justice mechanisms against the foundational demands of rule of law reconstruction This book will be of interest to scholars in the fields of transitional justice rule of law legal pluralism and peace building concerned by the failure of transitional justice to leave a positive legacy to the justice system of the states where it operates This is a bold and nuanced scrutiny of the international system's approach to transitional justice and the much vaunted rule of law project Dr McAuliffe should be congratulated for this well researched book which should be a must read for not only scholars and researchers in transitional justice and peace and conflict studies but also policy makers in the international system Dr Hakeem O Yusuf Senior Lecturer University of Strathclyde and author of Transitional Justice Judicial Accountability and the Rule of Law War and Democratization Wolfgang Merkel, Sonja Grimm, 2013-09-13 Promotion of democracy in post war and post conflict societies became a topic during the 1990s The book deals with the legality legitimacy and effectiveness of military interventions where the international community of states not only felt impelled to engage in military humanitarian or peace building missions but also in long term state and democracy building External actors particularly engaged in four modes namely enforcing democratization by enduring post war occupation mode 1 restoring an elected government by military intervention mode 2 intervening in on going massacres and civil war with military forces humanitarian intervention and thereby curbing the national sovereignty of those countries mode 3 and forcing democracy on rogue states by democratic intervention in other words democracy through war mode 4 The contributions link juridical and philosophical reflections on just war ad bellum with empirical evidence post bellum in Afghanistan Georgia Serbia Croatia Cambodia and East Timor All empirical analyses stress the complexity and difficulties to establish democracy in post conflict societies driven or monitored by external actors Such an endeavour implies a comprehensive agenda of political social and economic methods of peace building However if external actors withdraw before the roots of democracy are deep enough and before democratic institutions are strong enough to stand alone then the entire endeavour may fail This book was originally published as a special issue of Democratization Peace Operations Paul F. Violence, Extremism and Transformation Bertelsmann Stiftung, 2010-07-30 Based on the results of the Bertelsmann Transformation Index 2006 BTI this study challenges widespread assumptions and stereotypes about the nature of political violence It reminds us that religious extremism while on the rise accounts for only a small fracture of armed conflict in the world Moreover Western countries preoccupation with transnational terrorism is misleading as most political violence has been and remains local in its origin and its area of activity Study results call for a factual and more differentiated assessment of the threats posed by militants and extremists If political violence and terrorism are still predominantly home grown the multitude of local causes such as socioeconomic grievances or state weakness should receive more attention In any comprehensive effort to foster stability political institutions will have to play the pivotal role This insightful analysis is linked directly to the broader results of the BTI 2006 which highlight the major democratic deficiencies in 119 development and transformation countries It underlines the importance of supporting democratic institutions and good governance in international efforts to combat terrorism     Reconstructing Afghanistan William Maley, Susanne Schmeidl, 2014-11-27

This book identifies some of the main lessons for civil military interactions that can be derived from the experiences of Provincial Reconstruction Teams PRTs in Afghanistan The book has three main themes Firstly the volume analyses why the ways in which civil and military actors interact in theatres of operations such as Afghanistan matter for both those categories of actors and for the ordinary people who their interactions serve Second the book highlights that these interactions are invariably complex The third theme which arises specifically from the PRT experience in Afghanistan is that such teams vary significantly in their roles resourcing and operational environments Consequently to appraise the value of the PRT experience it is necessary to unpack the experiences of different PRTs which the use of case studies allows one to do The volume comprises an introduction identifying some key questions to which the PRT experience gives rise and case studies of the experiences of the United States United Kingdom New Zealand Canada The Netherlands Australia Germany and France chapters dealing with the roles played by NGOs and the UN system and a discussion from an Afghan perspective of the implications of civilian casualties It is the combination of the diverse cases discussed in this book with a focus on the broad challenges of optimising civil military interactions that makes this book distinctive This book will be of much interest to students of the Afghan War civil military relations statebuilding Central Asian politics and IR in general     Transition in Afghanistan William Maley, 2018-04-17 This book by one of the most experienced authorities on the subject presents a deep analysis of the very difficult current situation in Afghanistan Covering a wide range of important subjects including state building democracy war the rule of law and international relations the book draws out two overarching key factors the way in which the prevailing neopatrimonial political order has become entrenched making it very difficult for any other political order to take root and the hostile region in which Afghanistan is located especially the way in which an ongoing creeping invasion from Pakistani territory has compromised the aspirations of both the Afghan government and its international backers to move the country to a more stable position Holding UNPOL to Account Ai Kihara-Hunt,2017-03-06 Ai Kihara Hunt's Holding UNPOL to Account Individual Criminal Accountability of United Nations Police Personnel analyzes whether the mechanisms that address criminal accountability of United Nations police personnel serving in peace operations are effective and if there is a problem how it can be mitigated The volume reviews the obligations of States and the UN to investigate and prosecute criminal acts committed by UN police and examines the jurisdictional and immunity issues involved It concludes that these do not constitute legal barriers to accountability although immunity poses some problems in practice The principal problem appears to be the lack of political will to bring prosecutions as well as a lack of transparency which makes it difficult accurately to determine the scale of the problem The Prevention and Intervention of
