The New York Times

Biographical Service ,2001 A compilation of current biographical information of general interest Consultants & Consulting Organizations Directory: Descriptive listings and indexes ,2009 East, West and Centre Michael Gott,2014-12-09 Re examines notions of East and West in contemporary European cinema This book presents a comprehensive investigation of Central European cinema in the early 21st century Religion Index Two ,1994 How China Became Capitalist R. Coase,N. Wang,2016-04-30 How China Became Capitalist details the extraordinary and often unanticipated journey that China has taken over the past thirty five years in transforming itself from a closed agrarian socialist economy to an indomitable economic force in the international arena The authors revitalise the debate around the rise of the Chinese economy through the use of primary sources persuasively arguing that the reforms implemented by the Chinese leaders did not represent a concerted attempt to create a capitalist economy and that it was marginal revolutions that introduced the market and entrepreneurship back to China Lessons from the West were guided by the traditional Chinese principle of seeking truth from facts By turning to capitalism China re embraced her own cultural roots How China Became Capitalist challenges received wisdom about the future of the Chinese economy warning that while China has enormous potential for further growth the future is clouded by the government s monopoly of ideas and power Coase and Wang argue that the development of a market for ideas which has a long and revered tradition in China would be integral in bringing about the Chinese dream of social harmony The Art of Czech Animation Adam Whybray,2020-06-25 The Art of Czech Animation is the first comprehensive English language account of Czech animation from the 1920s to the present covering both 2D animation forms and CGI with a focus upon the stop motion films of Jir Trnka Herm na T rlov Jan vankmajer and Jir Barta Stop motion is a highly embodied form of animation and The Art of Czech Animation develops a new materialist approach to studying these films Instead of imposing top down Film Theory onto its case studies the book s analysis is built up from close readings of the films themselves with particular attention given to their non human objects In a time of environmental crisis the unique way Czech animated films use allegory to de centre the human world and give a voice to non human aspects of the natural world points us towards a means by which culture can increase ecological awareness in viewers Such a refutation of a human centred view of the world was contrary to communist orthodoxy and it remains so under late stage consumer capitalism As such these films do not only offer beautiful examples of allegory but stand as models of political dissent The Art of Czech Animation is a unique endeavour of film philosophy to provide a materialist appraisal of a heretofore neglected strand of Central Eastern European cinema A History of European Literature Walter Cohen,2017-01-19 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literatures ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today's global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories

Building Socialism Christina Schwenkel, 2020-09-21 Following a decade of U S bombing campaigns that obliterated northern Vietnam East Germany helped Vietnam rebuild in an act of socialist solidarity In Building Socialism Christina Schwenkel examines the utopian visions of an expert group of Vietnamese and East German urban planners who sought to transform the devastated industrial town of Vinh into a model socialist city Drawing on archival and ethnographic research in Vietnam and Germany with architects engineers construction workers and tenants in Vinh's mass housing complex Schwenkel explores the material and affective dimensions of urban possibility and the quick fall of Vinh's new built environment into unplanned obsolescence She analyzes the tensions between aspirational infrastructure and postwar uncertainty to show how design models and practices that circulated between the socialist North and the decolonizing South underwent significant modification to accommodate alternative cultural logics and ideas about urban futurity By documenting the building of Vietnam's first planned city and its aftermath of decay and repurposing Schwenkel argues that underlying the ambivalent and often unpredictable responses to modernist architectural forms were anxieties about modernity and the future of socialism itself

Siegelbaum, 2019-11-15 This memoir by one of the foremost scholars of the Soviet period spans three continents and more than half a century from the 1950s when Lewis Siegelbaum's father was a victim of McCarthyism up through the implosion of the Soviet Union and beyond Siegelbaum recreates journeys of discovery and self discovery in the tumult of student rebellion at Columbia University during the Vietnam War graduate study at Oxford and Moscow at the height of détente His story takes the reader into the Soviet archives the coalfields of eastern Ukraine and the newly independent Uzbekistan An intellectual autobiography that is also a biography of the field of Anglophone Soviet history Stuck on Communism is a guide for how to lead a life on the Left that integrates political and professional commitments Siegelbaum reveals the attractiveness of Communism as an object of study and its continued relevance decades after its disappearance from the landscape of its origin Through the journey of a book that is in the end a romance Siegelbaum discovers the truth in the notion that no matter what historians take as their subject they are always writing about themselves Rooms for Manoeuvre Jerzy Kochanowski, Claudia Kraft, 2021-09-06 The volume focuses on emerging rooms for manoeuvre in the socialist societies of Central and Eastern Europe after the Second World War Unlike in other works these areas of activity are not viewed as isolated spheres where citizens could act independently from political and societal constraints They are rather conceptualized here as geographical social or institutional spaces whose existence was either outside of political control or more or less intentionally allowed by authorities and other decision makers The contributions investigate how East Germans Poles Romanians Slovaks and Czechs coped with the limitations of socialist reality How did they adopt and successfully adapt given norms to their own specific interests To what extent were the resulting rooms for manoeuvre not only essential aspects of the state socialist system but even necessary to stabilize it
