From Mae to Madonna June Sochen, 2014-07-11 Entertainers were the first group of successful women to capture the public eye taking to the stage in vaudeville and film and redefining their place in society June Sochen introduces the white African American and Latina women who danced on Broadway fell on bananas in silent films and wisecracked in smoky clubs as well as the modern icons of today's movies and popular music Sochen considers such women as Mae West Bette Davis Shirley Temple Lucille Ball and Mary Tyler Moore to discover what show business did for them and what they did for the world of entertainment She uses the life of 30s and 40s Latina star Lupe Velez as a case study of the roles available to Latinas in popular culture She then contrasts her story with that of the African American action star Pam Grier to demonstrate the old and new ways minority women are portrayed in popular culture From Mae to Madonna places each woman within the context of her time and talks about her relationship with dominant female stereotypes Sochen discusses women's roles as Mary Eve and Lilith and asks thought provoking questions Why did the Depression give women movie stars so many important roles while the so called feminist 1970s did not Why has television been a congenial venue for women comics while film has not In examining how entertainers worked within or transformed particular genres and how their personal and public lives affected their careers From Mae to Madonna casts the spotlight on a series of remarkable women and their dramatic effect on America's popular culture

PJ Harvey and Music Video Performance Abigail Gardner, 2016-03-09 PJ Harvey's performances are premised on the core contention that she is somehow causing trouble Just how this trouble can be theorised within the context of the music video and what it means for a development of the ways we might conceptualise disruption and think about music video lies at the heart of this book Abigail Gardner mixes feminist theory and critical models from film and video scholarship as a rich means of interrogating Harvey's work and redefining her disruptive strategies The book presents a rethinking of the masquerade that allies it to cultural memory precipitated by Gardner's claim that Harvey's performances are conversations with the past specifically with visualised memories of archetypes of femininity Harvey's masquerades emerge from her conversations and renegotiations with both national and transatlantic musical visual and lyrical heritages It is the first academic book to present analysis of Harvey's music videos and opens up fresh avenues into exploring what is at stake in the video work of one of Britain's premier singer songwriters It extends the discussion on music video to consider how to make sense of the rapidly developing digital environment in which it now sits The interdisciplinary nature of the book should attract readers from a range of subject areas including popular music studies cultural studies media and communication studies and gender studies
