Re-Orienting the Fundamentals Georg Wiessala, 2016-04-08 Offering an investigation of the ways in which matters of human rights give shape to the European Union's interaction with Asia this volume argues for the consideration of selected social constructivist perspectives with regard to the Asia EU dialogue It puts into context the function of ideas identities values norms and human rights Through a number of country specific and regional case studies the text examines both the enabling and the inhibitory potential of human rights in the Union's relations with Asian interlocutors The book proposes a more inclusive holistic understanding of the significance and potential of the human rights discourse in East West contacts It is aimed at a wide readership from the disciplines of politics international relations Asian studies law and human rights

Human Security in Southeast Asia Yukiko Nishikawa, 2010-09-13 There is a growing interest in human security in Southeast Asia This book firstly explores the theoretical and conceptual basis of human security before focusing on the region itself It shows how human security has been taken up as a central part of security policy in individual states in Southeast Asia as well as in the regional security policy within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN The book discusses domestic challenges for human security including the insurgencies in southern Thailand the Philippines and Indonesia Transnational security issues such as terrorism drugs human trafficking and the situation in Burma are explored by the author and the ASEAN way of contrasting the values and approaches of Southeast Asian countries with those in the West is assessed By focusing on the ongoing changes and efforts to achieve human security in Southeast Asia this book contributes to theoretical debates on human security as well as regional studies on Southeast Asia

SLORC's Progress as a Member of ASEAN., 1997

Realising Rights Mathew Davies, 2014-09-15 This book presents the hitherto unstudied variety of ways that human rights socialisation is attempted in the context of regional organisations arguing that existing conceptual accounts of this phenomenon need to be expanded to best explain this diversity By placing the study of the European Union's relationship with Turkey alongside parallel studies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations engagement with Myanmar and the Organization of American States history with Panama this book argues that rights socialisation efforts are far more diverse than previously thought Alongside the conditionality that dominates the EU experience and that has received the majority of existing academic attention this book argues that both the politics of social influence the strategic manipulation of legitimacy and the politics of debate over the meaning of membership also drive socialisation efforts This book situates these socialisation efforts along the journey states take when applying to joining and then maintaining membership of a regional organisation and further distinguishes between what conditions are necessary for socialisation to be attempted and what further requirements are needed for that attempt to be successful To appreciate the diversity of socialisation politics revealed this book constructs an inclusive conceptual framework drawing on both rational choice and constructivist theorising and will be of interest to students of Politics and International Relations
