Stehman,1996 Even in the earliest stages of progressive dementia patients have difficulty evaluating their own needs and engaging in appropriate activities. A therapeutic program of care including constructive activities and behavior management is necessary for maximizing patients' functioning and quality of life. The Handbook of Dementia Care and its companion Training Manual and Video for Dementia Care Specialists offer a complete training system for teachers and students providing dementia care in a variety of settings. Developed at the well-known George G. Glenner Alzheimer's Family Centers, the program's instructor's manual and student handbook are organized into six teaching modules: basic information on dementia, positive interaction techniques, supportive physical environment, therapeutic activities, group activities, and family support. Each module is accompanied by a videotaped lecture and demonstration presentation to further illustrate the topic being discussed. This exciting project is a comprehensive instructional tool for dementia care professionals working in adult day centers, long-term care, and residential settings, hospitals, nursing homes, and home health care agencies.

Writers Have No Age Lenore M. Coberly, Jeri McCormick, Karen Updike, 2005. Activities in Action Phyllis M. Foster, 2014-01-14. Here is an invaluable resource for activities professionals specializing in geriatrics. Activities in Action reflects the goals of the National Association of Activity Professionals in that it serves as a catalyst for professional and personal growth and provides a national forum on geriatric and activity issues. Some of the highlights of this significant volume include a historical perspective of the activities profession, its growth, and current contributions to the life and care of nursing home residents; and an overview of a national organization representing activities professionals and how this organization has contributed to the growth of the profession. An extensive aging and leisure bibliography of timely publications related to activities and aging is also included. Specific chapters emphasize a variety of topics such as the impact of federally mandated nursing home resident assessment for activity professionals, the growing concern for the quality of life and its definition for nursing home inhabitants, the role of activity professionals in providing for the spiritual needs of the elderly whom they serve, how to deal with relocation stress and territoriality in nursing home occupants, and practical guidelines on how to employ and supervise activity assistants and work effectively with other staff, as well as an activity coordinator. Activities directors, coordinators, assistants, and supervisors from all levels of experience will benefit from the insightful information in this innovative book.
