Farewell My Concubine:

Farewell to My Concubine Bihua Li,1992 Story of a male Beijing opera star his love for another male singer and the beautiful courtesan who comes between them sweeps through five decades of Chinese history A Study Guide for Lilian Lee's "Farewell My Concubine" Gale, Cengage Learning,2016-06-29 A Study Guide for Lilian Lee s Farewell My Concubine excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Novels for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Novels for Students for all of your research needs Farewell My Concubine Chen Kaige,1993 Farewell My Concubine Lilian Lee,1994-06-01 Beginning amid the decadent glamour of China in the 1930s and ending in the 1980s in Hong Kong this brilliant novel which formed the basis for the award winning movie is the passionate story of an opera student who falls in love with his best friend and the beautiful woman who comes between them New York Magazine ,1993-10-25 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

Farewell My Concubine Helen Hok-Sze Leung,2010-11-30 A Queer Film Classic Chen Kaige s 1992 film about two male Peking opera stars and the woman who comes between them its treatment of gender performance and homosexuality was unprecedented in Chinese film Winner of the Palme d Or at Cannes China Into Film Jerome Silbergeld,1999 Since 1984 Chinese cinema has been the most dramatic entry onto the international film scene China into Film is the first book to look at contemporary Chinese cinema as a visual art and to illustrate the ways in which it has been shaped by centuries of Chinese tradition Jerome Silbergeld looks at the significance of gender roles the strategies of film makers in coping with state censorship the translation of novels into films the continuing attachment of film makers to melodrama and cinematic critiques of Maoism and post Maoist culture Abundantly illustrated with Chinese paintings as well as scenes from such internationally acclaimed films as Yellow Earth Red Sorghum Raise the Red Lantern and Farewell My Concubine China into Film reveals a cinematic form at once excitingly new and deeply imbedded in traditional Chinese visual culture Farewell to My Concubine LILLIAN. LEE,Nancy (read by) KWAN,1993 Farewell my concubine ,2011* The book selects 8 excerpts from the movie adds detailed historical cultural and language annotations and provides diversified exercises based on the audio visual materials There are 2 versions of the movie on the DVD Transnational Chinese Cinemas Sheldon H. Lu,1997-10-01 Zhang Yimou s first film Red Sorghum took the Golden Bear Award in 1988 at the Berlin International Film Festival Since then Chinese films have continued to arrest worldwide attention and capture major film awards winning an international following that continues to grow Transnational Chinese Cinemas spans nearly the entire length of twentieth century Chinese film history The volume traces the evolution of Chinese national cinema and demonstrates that gender identity has been central to its formation Femininity masculinity and sexuality have been an integral part of the filmic discourses of modernity nationhood and history This volume represents the most comprehensive wide ranging and up to date study of China s major cinematic traditions It is an indispensable source book for modern Chinese and Asian history politics literature and culture

Farewell to My Concubine Bihua Li,1993 Queer Asian Cinema Andrew Grossman,2018-10-24 Explore queer themes in films from Hong Kong gangster flicks to Bollywood melodramas Although Asian films have reached a new height in popularity worldwide Queer Asian Cinema Shadows in the Shade is the first full length book in English solely devoted to examining the aesthetics and politics of homosexuality in Asian films This unique book presents multiple points of view on the portrayal of gay lesbian and transgendered people in film throughout Asia From the subversive sadomasochism of Japan s pink films to the hard boiled world of Hong Kong s gangster movies Queer Asian Cinema analyzes and discusses attitudes toward homosexuality in the full spectrum of Asian film In addition to studies of the representation of identified gay men lesbians and transgendered individuals it reveals the hidden homoerotic subtext of otherwise conventional films Queer Asian Cinema Shadows in the Shade examines diverse aspects of Asian films including the political and psychological links between feudal and sadomasochist hierarchies the inevitable punishment of homoerotic bonds in gangster films the integration of the homosexual couple into the Confucian family structure in Korean films the complexities of cross gender casting the differences between transvestism and cross dressing the definition of male genitalia as obscene Queer Asian Cinema Shadows in the Shade brings together experts in both film making and movie criticism providing a balanced viewpoint to unite the worlds of academic and popular perceptions on this subject It opens an exciting discussion of this important and largely neglected area of cinematic discourse

Celluloid Comrades Song Hwee Lim,2006-08-31 Without question Song Hwee Lim has presented us with an exemplar of quality scholarship in the study of contemporary Chinese cinemas By combining an impressive command of Chinese and Western literary as well as film source materials with a sophisticated mode of analysis and an unassuming argumentative style he has authored an exhilarating book one that not only treats cinematic representations of male homosexuality with great sensitivity but also demonstrates what it means to read with critical intelligence and vision Rey Chow Andrew W Mellon Professor of the Humanities Brown University Celluloid Comrades is a timely demonstration of the importance of queer studies in the field of transnational Chinese cinemas Lim dissects gay sexuality in selective Chinese language films and vigorously contests commonly accepted critical paradigms and theoretical models Readers will find a provocative powerful voice in this new book Sheldon H Lu Professor of Comparative Literature University of California at Davis Celluloid Comrades offers a cogent analytical introduction to the representation of male homosexuality in Chinese cinemas within the last decade It posits that representations of male homosexuality in Chinese film have been polyphonic and multifarious posing a challenge to monolithic and essentialized constructions of both

Chineseness and homosexuality Given the artistic achievement and popularity of the films discussed here the position of celluloid comrades can no longer be ignored within both transnational Chinese and global queer cinemas The book also challenges readers to reconceptualize these works in relation to global issues such as homosexuality and gay and lesbian politics and their interaction with local conditions agents and audiences Tracing the engendering conditions within the film industries of China Taiwan and Hong Kong Song Hwee Lim argues that the emergence of Chinese cinemas in the international scene since the 1980s created a public sphere in which representations of marginal sexualities could flourish in its interstices Examining the politics of representation in the age of multiculturalism through debates about the films Lim calls for a rethinking of the limits and hegemony of gay liberationist discourse prevalent in current scholarship and film criticism He provides in depth analyses of key films and auteurs reading them within contexts as varied as premodern transgender practice in Chinese theater to postmodern diasporic forms of sexualities Informed by cultural and postcolonial studies and critical theory this acutely observed and theoretically sophisticated work will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students as well as general readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary Chinese cultural politics cinematic representations and queer culture Farewell to My Concubine Pi-hua Li, Lilian Lee, 1993 Memoirs from the Beijing Film Academy Zhen Ni, 2002 Presents for the first time in English and in depth account of the origins of China's famous Fifth Generation of filmmakers As Normal As Possible Ching Yau, 2010-02-01 These essays showcase emerging and established scholars working in sociology ethnography public health cultural activism and film studies The book poses new and exciting challenges to queer studies and other disciplines It also demonstrates that the study of Chinese sexuality is an emergent field and highlights the ways that different individuals and communities including male sex workers transsexual subjects lesbians and Asian migrants negotiate modernity and power structures in many Chinese contexts Yau Ching teaches cultural studies at Lingnan University in Hong Kong She is the author of five books in Chinese and one in English This is the first sustained collection of writings by established and young scholars on how sexualities are negotiated in Hong Kong and China It is innovative and exciting providing grounded empirical fieldwork as well as critical applications from the wider fields of literary historical studies public health cultural and film studies It demonstrates the study of Chinese sexuality and queer modernity in Asia as emergent fields emanating from many disciplines The Advocate, 1994-03-22 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Art, Politics, and Commerce in Chinese Cinema Ying Zhu, Stanley Rosen, 2010-06-01 Ying Zhu and Stanley Rosen have brought together some of the leading scholars and critics of Chinese cinema to rethink the political mutations market manifestations and artistic innovations that have punctuated a century of Chinese screen memories From animation to documentary history of the industry to cinematic attempts to recreate history propaganda to piracy the influx of Hollywood imports to Chinese style blockbusters Art Politics and Commerce in Chinese

Cinema presents a fresh set of critical approaches to the field that should be required reading for scholars students and anyone interested in the past present and future of one of the most vibrant and dynamic film industries in the world Michael Berry author Jia Zhangke's Hometown Trilogy and A History of Pain An excellent collection of articles that together offer a superb introduction to contemporary Chinese film studies Richard Pena Program Director Film Society of Lincoln Center This is one of the most important comprehensive and profoundly important books about Chinese cinema As correctly pointed out by the editors of the volume understanding of the emerging film industry in China requires a systematic examination of arts politics and commerce of Chinese cinema By organizing the inquiry of the Chinese film industry around its local and global market politics and film art the authors place the current transformation of Chinese cinema within a large framework The book has set a new standard for research on Chinese cinema It is a must read for students of arts culture and politics in China Tianjian Shi Duke University Art politics and commerce are intertwined everywhere but in China the interplay is explicit intimate and elemental and nowhere more so than in the film industry Understanding this interplay in the era of market reform and globalization is essential to understanding mainland Chinese cinema This interdisciplinary book provides a comprehensive reappraisal of Chinese cinema surveying the evolution of film production and consumption in mainland China as a product of shifting relations between art politics and commerce Within these arenas each of the twelve chapters treats a particular history development genre filmmaker or generation of filmmakers adding up to a distinctively comprehensive rendering of Chinese cinema The book illuminates China's changing state society relations the trajectory of marketization and globalization the effects of China's start historical shifts Hollywood's role the role of nationalism and related themes of interest to scholars of Asian studies cinema and media studies political science sociology comparative literature and Chinese language Ying Zhu is professor of cinema studies in the Department of Media Culture and co coordinator of the Modern China Studies Program at the City University of New York College of Staten Island Stanley Rosen is director of the East Asian Studies Center and a professor of political science at the University of Southern California

Fictional Authors, Imaginary Audiences Bonnie S. McDougall, 2003 The authors and audiences for 20th century Chinese literature especially fiction are examined in a fresh light While modern Chinese fictions are imaginary in that they do not constitute reliable portraits of Chinese life they offer insights into the writers themselves and their implied audiences
