Farming The Desert Gazetteer And Pottery:

Farming the Desert, 1996 Farming the Desert Graeme Barker, Unesco Libyan Valleys Archaeological Survey, 1996

Berenike and the Ancient Maritime Spice Route Steven E. Sidebotham, 2019-05-07 The legendary overland silk road was not the only way to reach Asia for ancient travelers from the Mediterranean During the Roman Empire's heyday equally important maritime routes reached from the Egyptian Red Sea across the Indian Ocean The ancient city of Berenike located approximately 500 miles south of today's Suez Canal was a significant port among these conduits In this book Steven E Sidebotham the archaeologist who excavated Berenike uncovers the role the city played in the regional local and global economies during the eight centuries of its existence Sidebotham analyzes many of the artifacts botanical and faunal remains and hundreds of the texts he and his team found in excavations providing a profoundly intimate glimpse of the people who lived worked and died in this emporium between the classical Mediterranean world and Asia The Archaeology of

Drylands Graeme Barker, David Gilbertson, 2003-09-02 Many dryland regions contain archaeological remains which suggest that there must have been intensive phases of settlement in what now seem to be dry and degraded environments This book discusses successes and failures of past land use and settlement in drylands and contributes to wider debates about desertification and the sustainability of dryland settlement The History of the Peoples of the Eastern Desert Hans

Barnard, Kim Duistermaat, 2012-12-31 The last quarter century has seen extensive research on the ports of the Red Sea coast of Egypt the road systems connecting them to the Nile and the mines and quarries in the region Missing has been a systematic study of the peoples of the Eastern Desert the area between the Red Sea and the Nile Valley in whose territories these ports roads mines and quarries were located The historical overview of the Eastern Desert in the shape of a roughly chronological narrative presented in this book fills that gap The multidisciplinary perspective focuses on the long term history of the region The extensive range of topics addressed includes specific historical periods natural resources nomadic survival strategies ancient textual data and the interaction between Christian hermits and their neighbors The breadth of perspective does not sacrifice depth for all authors deal in some detail with the specifics of their subject matter As a whole this collection provides an outline of the history and sociology of the Eastern Desert unparalleled in any language for its comprehensiveness As such it will be the essential starting point for future research on the Eastern Desert Includes a CD of eleven audio files with music of the Ababda Nomads and six short videos of Ababda culture Landscapes of Change Neil

Christie, 2017-03-02 Only in recent years has archaeology begun to examine in a coherent manner the transformation of the landscape from classical through to medieval times In Landscapes of Change leading scholars in the archaeology of the late antique and early medieval periods address the key results and directions of Roman rural fieldwork In so doing they highlight problems of analysis and interpretation whilst also identifying the variety of transformations that rural Europe experienced during and following the decline of Roman hegemony Whilst documents and standing buildings predominate in the urban context to provide a coherent and tangible guide to the evolving urban form and its society since Roman times the countryside in many ages remains rather shadowy a context for the cultivation gathering and movement of food and other resources inhabited by farmers villagers and miners Whilst the Roman period is adequately served through occasional extant remains and through the survey and excavation of villas and farmsteads as well as the writings of agronomists the medieval one is generally well marked by the presence of still extant villages across Europe often dependent on castles and manors which symbolise the so called feudal centuries But the intervening period the fourth to tenth centuries is that with the least documentation and with the fewest survivals What happened to the settlement units that made up the Roman rural world When and why do new settlement forms emerge Landscapes of Change is essential reading for anyone wanting an up to date summary of the results of archaeological and historical investigations into the changing countryside of the late Roman late antique and early medieval world between the fourth and tenth centuries AD It questions numerous aspects of change and continuity assessing the levels of impact of military and economic decay the spread and influence of Christianity and the role of Germanic Slav and Arab settlements in disrupting and redefining the ancient rural landscapes

Burial and Memorial in Late Antiquity, 2024-10-02 Burial and Memorial explores funerary and commemorative archaeology A D 284 650 across the late antique world This first volume includes an overview of research and papers exploring bioarchaeology mortuary rituals mausolea and funerary landscapes It considers the sacralisation of tombs the movements of relics and the political significance of cemeteries The nature and fate of statue monuments is explored as memorials to individuals Authors also compare the destruction or preservation of tombs in relation to other buildings Finally the city itself is considered as a place of collective memory where meanings were long maintained via a study of spoliation

Tripolitania in the Roman Empire and Beyond Niccolò Mugnai, 2025-03-31 This book provides an up to date account of the archaeology history economy urbanism art and architecture of the North African region of Tripolitania during antiquity The essays by international scholars outline current research and the most recent developments in the archaeology of this territory The strong interdisciplinary character of the texts reflects the expertise of the different authors from studies of the landscape and urban development to funerary practices architecture military operations and food supply This timely publication provides a much needed new assessment of the evolution of this region throughout the Roman and Late Antique period

Imperialism, Power, and Identity David J. Mattingly, 2013-12-05 Despite what history has taught us about imperialism s destructive effects on colonial societies many classicists continue to emphasize disproportionately the civilizing and assimilative nature of the Roman Empire and to hold a generally favorable view of Rome s impact on its subject peoples Imperialism Power and Identity boldly challenges this view using insights from postcolonial studies of modern empires to offer a more nuanced understanding of Roman imperialism Rejecting outdated notions about Romanization David Mattingly focuses instead on the concept of identity to reveal a Roman society made up of far flung populations whose experience of empire varied enormously He examines the nature of power in Rome and the means by which the Roman state exploited the natural mercantile and human resources within its frontiers Mattingly draws on his own archaeological work in Britain Jordan and North Africa and covers a broad range of topics including sexual relations and violence census taking and taxation mining and pollution land and labor and art and iconography He shows how the lives of those under Rome's dominion were challenged enhanced or destroyed by the empire's power and in doing so he redefines the meaning and significance of Rome in today's debates about globalization power and empire Imperialism Power and Identity advances a new agenda for classical studies one that views Roman rule from the perspective of the ruled and not just the rulers In a new preface Mattingly reflects on some of the reactions prompted by the initial publication of the book Trade in the Ancient Sahara and Beyond D. J. Mattingly, 2017-11-30 Demonstrates that the pre-Islamic Sahara was a more connected region than previously thought with trade an essential linking element Housing in Late Antiquity Luke Lavan, Lale

Özgenel, Alexander Constantine Sarantis, 2007 This collection of papers arising from the conference series Late Antique Archaeology examines the housing in the late antique period through thematic and regional syntheses complemented by case studies and two bibliographic essays Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David, Julian

Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over the past three decades landscape has become an umbrella term to describe many different strands of archaeology From the processualist study of settlement patterns to the phenomenologist's experience of the natural world from human impact on past environments to the environment's impact on human thought action and interaction the term has been used In this volume for the first time over 80 archaeologists from three continents attempt a comprehensive definition of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework As a basic reference volume for landscape archaeology this volume will be the benchmark for decades to come All royalties on this Handbook are donated to the World Archaeological Congress

Burials, Migration and Identity in the Ancient Sahara and Beyond M. C. Gatto, D. J. Mattingly, N. Ray, M. Sterry, 2019-02-14 Places burial traditions at the centre of Saharan migrations and identity debate with new technical data and methodological analysis Changing Townscapes in North Africa from Late Antiquity to the Arab Conquest Anna Leone, 2007 This book examines the complex transition of North Africa from the Late Roman period to the Arab conquest focusing on three provinces Zeugitana Byzacena and Tripolitana In particular it considers the continuity and transformation of towns as a result of economic political and social changes The period sees the wide diffusion of Christianity the imposition of Vandal rule and Arianism the presence of a new Empire and the Arab Muslim takeover It is also a period of archaeological and material transition physically towns changed and classical structures in particular decayed and were reused The evidence considered here encompasses a wide range of material including publications from 1800 Italian and French colonial excavations to modern times These data form the basis for a detailed review of archaeological evidence in this geographical area and for the analysis of the processes of evolution that characterised North African cities Urbanisation and State Formation in the Ancient Sahara and Beyond Martin Sterry, David J. Mattingly, 2020-03-26 This ground breaking volume pushes back conventional dating of the earliest sedentarisation urbanisation and state formation in the Sahara A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire, 2 Volume Set Barbara Burrell, 2024-03-13 A one of a kind exploration of archaeological evidence from the Roman Empire between 44 BCE and 337 CE In A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire distinguished scholar and archaeologist Professor Barbara Burrell delivers an illuminating and wide ranging discussion of peoples institutions and their material remains across the Roman Empire Divided into two parts the book begins by focusing on the unifying factors institutions and processes that affected the entire empire This ends with a chapter by Professor Greg Woolf Ronald J Mellor Professor of Ancient History at UCLA which summarizes and enlarges upon the themes and contributions of the volume Meanwhile the second part brings out local patterns and peculiarities within the archaeological remains of the City of Rome as well as almost every province of its empire Each chapter is written by a noted scholar whose career has focused on the subject Chronological coverage for each chapter is formally 44 BCE to 337 CE but since material remains are not always so closely datable most chapters center on the first three centuries of the Common Era plus or minus 50 years In addition the book is amply illustrated and includes new and little known finds from oft ignored provinces Readers will also find A thorough introduction to the peoples and operations of the Roman Empire including not just how the center affected the periphery Romanization but how peripheral provinces operated on their own and among their neighbors Comprehensive explorations of local patterns within individual provinces Contributions from a diverse panel of leading scholars in the field A unique form of organization that brings out systems across the empire such as transport across sea rivers and roads monetary systems pottery and foodways the military construction and technology Perfect for graduate and advanced undergraduate students of archaeology and the history of the Roman Empire A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire will also earn a place in the libraries of professional archaeologists in other fields including Mayanists medievalists and Far Eastern scholars seeking comparanda and bibliography on other imperial structures Roman Military Architecture on the Frontiers Rob Collins, Matt Symonds, Meike Weber, 2015-11-30 The Roman army was one of the most astounding organizations in the ancient world and much of the success of the Roman empire can be attributed to its soldiers Archaeological remains and ancient texts provide detailed testimonies that have allowed scholars to understand and reconstruct the army s organization and activities This interest has traditionally worked in tandem with the study of Roman frontiers Historically the early imperial period and in particular the emergence of the frontiers has been the focus of research During those investigations however the remains of the later Roman army were also frequently encountered if not always understood Recent decades have brought a burgeoning interest in not only the later Roman army but also late antiquity more widely It is the aim of this volume to demonstrate that while scholars grappling with the late Roman army may want for a rich corpus of inscriptions and easily identifiable military installations research is revealing a dynamic less predictable force that was adapting to a changing world in terms of both external threats and its own internal structures The dynamism and ingenuity of the late Roman army provides a breath of fresh air after the suffocating uniformity of its forbears The late Roman army was a vital and influential element in the late antique empire Having evolved through the 3rd century and been formally reorganized under Diocletian and Constantine the limitanei guarded the frontiers while the comitatenses provided mobile armies that were fielded against external enemies and internal threats The transformation of the early imperial army to the late antique army is documented in the rich array of texts from the period supplemented by a perhaps surprisingly rich archaeological record Local Economies? ,2016-04-26 The Roman economy was operated significantly above subsistence level with production being stimulated by both taxation and trade Some regions became wealthy on the basis of exporting low value agricultural products across the Mediterranean In contrast it has usually been assumed that the high costs of land transport kept inland regions relatively poor This volume challenges these assumptions by presenting new research on production and exchange within inland regions The papers supported by detailed bibliographic essays range from Britain to Jordan They reveal robust agricultural economies in many interior regions Here some wealth did come from high value products which could defy transport costs However ceramics also indicate local exchange systems capable of generating wealth without being integrated into inter regional trading networks The role of the State in generating production and exchange is visible but often co existed with local market systems Contributors are Alyssa A Bandow Fanny Bessard Michel Bonifay Kim Bowes Stefano Costa Jeremy Evans Elizabeth Fentress Piroska H rshegyi Adam Izdebski Luke Lavan Tamara Lewit Phil Mills Katalin Ottom nyi Peter Sarris Emanuele Vaccaro Agn s Vokaer Mark Whittow and Andrea Zerbinì Historical Dictionary of Libya Ronald Bruce St John,2023-03-15 Of all the countries in North Africa and the Middle East less has been known about Libya for decades Only recently have we begun to appreciate the complexity of Libya s turbulent past including the revolution in 2011 in which demands for better living conditions and more job opportunities led to widespread protests When the Muammar al Qaddafi regime responded with force to these peaceful protests killing scores of unarmed civilians the protesters called for regime change In what came to be known as the February 17 Revolution the 42 year old Qaddafi regime was overthrown and Qaddafi was killed in October 2011 Over the next decade Libya endured a series of interim transitional governments in a prolonged struggle to draft a new constitution and to elect a democratic national government Historical Dictionary of Libya Sixth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country s politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Libya Post-Conflict Archaeology and Cultural Heritage Paul Newson,Ruth Young,2017-11-14 The human cost in any conflict is of course the first care in terms of the reduction if not the elimination of damage However the destruction of archaeology and heritage as a consequence of civil and international wars is also of major concern and the irreversible loss of monuments and sites through conflict has been increasingly discussed and documented in recent years Post Conflict Archaeology and Cultural Heritage draws together a series of papers from archaeological and heritage professionals seeking positive pragmatic and practical ways to deal with conflict damaged sites For instance by showing that conflict damaged cultural heritage and archaeological sites are a valuable resource rather than an inevitable casualty of war and suggesting that archaeologists use their skills and knowledge to bring communities together giving them ownership of and identification with their cultural heritage The book is a mixture of the discussion of problems suggested planning solutions and case studies for both archaeologists and heritage managers It will be of interest to heritage professionals archaeologists and anyone working with post conflict communities as well as anthropology archaeology and heritage academics and their students at a range of levels
